Pledge Made in Berlin

Socialists to Work With Adenauer

Berlin, Dec. 6 (AP)—The anti-rearmament Socialist won a one-vote majority in West Berlin's Parliament today but promised to govern the Soviet-encircled city in partnership with Chancellor Konrad Adenhauer's Christian Democratic Union.

Municipal spokesmen of the two leading parties warmly agreed they must establish a strong new democratic coalition here under the shadow of the Russian army, regardless of their partisan quarrels in West Germany over foreign policy.

The mammoth turnout of 1,554,766 voters for yesterday's election yesterday—91.6 per cent of those eligible—gave the Socialists 64 seats, the Christian Democrats 44 and the Free Democrats 19. The lineup for the past four years had been 61 Socialists, 34 Christian Democrats and 32 Free Democrats.

Since the death last year of Socialist Mayor Ernst Reuter, Christian Democrat Walter Schrieber had headed a coalition administration from his party and the Free Democrats.

THE BERLINERS stingingly repudiated the Communists and the Nazi-tainted German party. Both extremist parties failed to win a seat in the new Parliament, with the Reds receiving only 2.7 per cent of the total vote and the German party 4.8 per cent. To get any seats a party must poll 5 per cent.

Cries of 'police terror" came from Communist propagandists to explain their party's debacle.

WEST BERLIN police reported 43 Red provocateurs arrested in election disturbances yesterday and a total of 851 arrests in the last two weeks of the campaign. Of those briefly jailed, 688 were East Berliners ineligible to vote in the three Allied sectors.

Both Adenauer and West German Socialist Leader Erich Ollenhauer came to Berlin Friday to speak in the windup of their parties' campaigns, fought largely on the prevailing West German issue of rearmament versus speedy Big Four talks on Germany.

The Christian Democrats upped their poll from 24.6 per cent of the 1950 vote to 30 per cent this time. But the Socialists, traditionally dominant in Berlin, wound up with 44 per cent, just under their 44.7 per cent of four years ago.

PARLIAMENT'S third party, the Adenauer-Allied Free Democrats, suffered a drastic fall, from 23 per cent in 1950 to 12.7 per cent.

These were the final returns:

Eden Says Red China Breaks Korean Pact

Sixteen Nations Close to Agreement On Resolution to Condemn Reds

United Nations, Dec. 6 (AP)—The United States and its 15 Korean War allies were reported close to agreement today on details of a resolution calling for the release of 11 U. S. fliers and other allied personnel in Red China's hands.

Informed quarters said the United States and Britain had resolved some points of difference, which developed over the weekend, and were now agreed on basic points.

The two big western powers expected to have a draft proposal ready for submission to a private meeting of the 16 allies this afternoon.

The session was expected to decide the language of a resolution to be presented to the Assembly later this week, and whether the United States would sponsor it alone or be joined by its allies.

Later in the day the 15-nation Assembly steering committee, headed by Assembly President Eelco N. Van Kleffens was expected to vote overwhelmingly to add the prisoner question to the Assembly work program. The committee also was slated to order the issue before the Assembly for debate, bypassing the political committee.

The steering committee is made up of assembly vice presidents and committee chairmen. Seven of its 15 members represent Korean allies—the United States, Britain, France, Australia, Thailand, Colombia and The Netherlands.

Two other members are from the Soviet Union and its satellite Czechoslovakia, while the rest represent China, Burma, Ecuador, Cuba, Iceland and Syria.

The allies were prepared to withstand demands by Russia for Red China to be invited here for the debates and then vote for the assembly to take up the question.

One problem facing the allies was how strong a condemnation of Red China to seek. Another was how to make the UN machinery go to work, since the Chinese Communists rejected diplomatic overtures at Geneva and through British channels.

Over the weekend, a State Department statement indicated the United States is seeking UN

Several Are Summoned To Testify

McCarthy Group Resuming Probe

Washington, Dec. 6 (AP)—A closed hearing on Communist infiltration of defense plants was scheduled today in a resumption of a probe Sen. McCarthy (R.-Wis.) has claimed was held up for months by Senate investigations of him.

Several unidentified witnesses were called for questioning this afternoon by the Senate Investigations Subcommittee McCarthy heads.

Acting Staff Director James N. Juliana said he expected Mccarthy to be on hand. The senator did not show up in Cincinnati for a scheduled speech Saturday night and his wife explained "the doctor put his foot down" because McCarthy's injured elbow "has not cleared up."

McCARTHY HAD said beforehand that 42 subbpoenas were issued and that a considerable number of plants in the northeast were involved. He said the hearings would be run "right up to the first of the year." Juliana said it is "most likely" public hearings will start tomorrow.

The hearings were to be the first held by McCarthy since the Senate last week voted, 67-22, to condemn his conduct on grounds he obstructed "constitutional processes" and tended to bring the Senate into "dishonor and disrepute."

John E. Held, chairman of the Cuvier Press Club's dinner in Cincinnati, created something of a stir when he announced Saturday that McCarthy could not be there because he was "gravely ill" in Washington.

THIS SENT NEWSMEN racing to McCarthy's home near the Capitol. After several hours of fruitless doorbell ringing and telephoning, Mrs. McCarthy was reached by phone and she said the report the senator was seriously ill was "a little exaggerated."

Held said yesterday the dinner sponsors knew in advance that McCarthy would not be there, but held up an announcement because some of the guests "would have stayed away."

McCarthy's elbow was injured several weeks ago when a vigorous handshaker pushed it against a glass table top. The Senate censure debate was interrupted for 11 days while he was hospitalized for treatment.

Last spring McCarthy said

Binghamton, Dec. 6 (AP)—A $600,000 fire destroyed a six-story building today in the city's worst fire in three years.

All of the city's 168 firemen available were called out in 7-above-zero weather as flames ravaged the Ackerman building at State and Henry streets.

The owner of the building, E. L. Kittredge, said the damage amounted to "more than $600,000."

Fire Chief Frank Buckman said the cause had not been determined. He said the fire apparently started in the basement and spread through the building.

Bank Plans Changes in Building

Ulster Savings Study Incomplete

Plans for extensive interior remodeling are being developed for the Ulster County Savings Institution building at 280 Wall street.

It is expected that the interior of the banking house will be completely renovated and an elevator installed.

Pratt Boice, president of the bank, has indicated that the project is in its preliminary planning stage, and actual construction work will begin only after expiration of an existing lease, which has about one year to run.

ROUGH SKETCHES of the contemplated improvements are being prepared by Architect Harry Halverson. No final estimate of costs has been made.

Chester A. Baltz, Sr., is chairman of the building committee of the board of trustees.

At the present time, no extensive changes are planned to the exterior of the building, which has been a Kingston landmark since 1870. The building, with its thick walls, is of substantial construction. The Ulster County Savings Institution was chartered April 12, 1851.

Conduct Is Viewed as Violation

His Statement Is Answer to Query

London, Dec. 6 (AP)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden today termed Communist China's conviction of American airmen as spies a direct violation of terms of the Korean armistice agreement.

Speaking in answer to a Laborite question in the House of Commons, Eden said:

"It is not allowable to any nation which wishes to act by civilized standards to treat officers, noncommissioned officers or men in uniform as spies and to treat them in the sort of way they have been treated by the Chinese government.

"ON BEHALF of her majesty's government and all civilized nations, I deeply deplore this conduct. The Chinese action in holding these men back is a direct violation of the terms of the Korean armistice agreement."

Eden said he could not for a moment accept references by the Labor members of Parliament "to these men as spies.."

HE SAID HE fully endorsed previous condemnation by Minister of State Anthony Nutting of the Chinese jailing and added:

"Eleven of the men concerned were airmen in uniform shot down on military operations on behalf of the United Nations during the Korean hostilities. As such they should have been repatriated on the conclusion of the Korean armistice."

Laborite John Baird had asked why instructions were given to Nutting at the United Nations to condemn the Chinese government "because they had punished United States spies."

CONSERVATIVE cheers filled the chamber as Eden said firmly:

"I cannot for one moment accept Mr. Baird's references to these men as spies."

Another Laborite, Mrs. Barbara Castle, asked what representations had been made by the U. S. government for Britain to participation in an air and naval blockade of China.

"The answer is none," Eden said.

THIRTEEN Americans were sentenced by the Chinese Communists to long prison terms. Two were civilians. The 11 referred to by Eden were members of one air crew which crashed.

Mrs. Castle asked whether Eden would "resist American pressure, direct or indirect, through the United Nations, for this country to tighten economic pressure on China, and will he, for a change, try giving China help in her economic reconstruction by enabling her to get the goods she needs as the best way to peace in the Far East?"

Eden replied he thought Britain never had been backward in trying to come to arrangements with Communist China. Amid more Conservative cheers, he added: "In fact, we recognized her several years before she was good enough to recognize us."

Christmas Sales Running High, And Practical

People seem to be in a real buying mood this season, but the buying is practical, a spot check of local stores indicates.

Christmas sales are reported good, in some cases well ahead of this date last year.

The trend reflects a recent announcement that Christmas Club savings in Kingston banks amounted to approximately one and a half million dollars, largest on record. These funds are now being withdrawn and pumped into local business channels.

The local Christmas Club is part of a national organization now paying more than a billion dollars to its members.

The buying this season "seems to have more punch in it," according to Vincent Burns, manager of Montgomery Ward and Co. "People are buying and buying earlier. We are considerably ahead of last year." He said the "kickoff" for the Christmas season for his store came the day after Thanksgiving when buying "started off tremendous."

Burns explained that people seemed to be purchasing "more practical" items, generally, than in past seasons. These items he described as "staples" such as clothing.

"MUCH BETTER than last year," according to Adrian Kaplan of Kaplan Furniture Co., 68 North Front street. He said buying was "very strong" and "more practical things are selling, such as chairs." Such gifts as "bedding" are popular—an "amazing thing."

Kaplan said store traffic had been good Friday night and all day Saturday. "People seem to be loosening up a little. Their confidence, if they ever lost any, has returned."

Jay Melton, manager of Standard Furniture Co., furniture and electrical appliances, 267 Fair street, also remarked on the practical nature of the buying taste.

"People are buying things for

Zero Predicted For Parts of State

Albany, Dec. 6 (AP)—New Yorkers bundled up today as biting cold moved in for a two-day stand.

Temperatures dropped far below the freezing mark in most sections last night and snow flurries and a few snow squalls whipped sections of western New York early today.

The weather bureau predicted that temperatures tonight would drop to zero and below in the mountainous sections of northern and western New York and range from zero to 10 above in most upstate areas.

Forecasters said the chilly weather was brought on by a highpressure area northwest of Lake Superior.

Lozano Takes Over Duties as Honduran Boss

The short, 60-year-old businessman assumed power constitutionally after a boycott by two parties prevented Congress from picking a president from the two top contenders in last October's general elections.

Broadcasting from the blue room of the presidential manor at midnight, Lozano decreed himself chief of state and named the newly elected national Congress as an advisory council. He said it will draft a new constitution.

He prohibited all gatherings, demonstrations, publications and broadcasts which might "tend to disrupt the peace."

Armed troops and police were posted at all strategic sites.

Device Would Cut Highway Excesses

Albany, Dec. 6 (AP)—The Public Service Commission, decrying speeding buses as "a menace on the highways," ordered operators today to install speed recorders for inter-city trips of more than 35 miles.

Using a new power under a 1954 state law, the commission ordered the devices installed by deadlines ranging from July 1, 1955 to Jan. 1, 1956.

Benjamin F. Feinberg, chairman of the PSC, declared in an opinion that it was "inescapable that the public interest requires" speed-recording devices on buses operating on the open highway.

THE ORDER applies to commercial buses, operating both within the state and between New York and other states. Also affected are public and private school buses used for long trips, such as carrying athletic teams or other groups of pupils.

Exempt from the order are

Stevenson Has View 1956 Can Bring Democrat Win

New Orleans, Dec. 6 (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson today was reported advising party leaders he believes President Eisenhower can be defeated in any 1956 re-election bid if Democrats pound away at what he regards as the unpopularity of the Republican party.

Stevenson's views, as interpreted to those who talked to him during a Democratic rally which ended here Saturday, was that Eisenhower himself is likely to retain for the next two years a measure of the personal popularity which gave the General his sweeping presidential victory over Stevenson in 1952.

But Stevenson evidently believes that Republicans will continue to demonstrate in the next two years what Paul M. Butler, Democratic national chairman-elect, yesterday called the GOP's "incapacity to govern."

Butler put the finger directly on Eisenhower at a news conference, asserting:

"We intend to call to the attention of the American people President Eisenhower's lack of capacity to govern and to unite the people. The responsibility is with the President to see that the nation is united and there is ever-increasing evidence of his lack of capacity to do it."

That language was perhaps a little stronger than Stevenson himself was prepared to use. But the former Illinois governor made it clear he thinks the November elections which gave Democrats control of Congress proved the people don't have as much faith in the GOP as they demonstrated in the past for Eisenhower.

On this basis, Stevenson has told friends he believes that other Republicans in time will drag Eisenhower down to their much lower level of popularity and that the President will be vulnerable if he runs again.

Stevenson has kept publicly silent on his own plans and apparently intends to play by ear. He has indicated he is not in an eager-beaver mood for the nomination. Neither has he shut any doors against the possibility that he again my become the Democratic candidate.

In his own mind, Stevenson was represented [illegible] that despite any present intentions, Eisenhower will [illegible] by his party to take the GOP nomination in 1956.

This has opened the prospect of another Eisenhower-Stevenson battle and some Democratic national committee members said they would welcome the prospect.

Calvin Rawlings, national committeeman from Idaho, said the sentiment he has found in the western states is all for Stevenson.

Paul Ziffrin, California committeeman, said he thinks

Pope Will Give Broadcast To Conclude Marian Year

Vatican City, Dec. 6 (AP)—The Vatican gave new evidence today that Pope Pius XII is continuing to improve, announcing that the ailing Pontiff will close the Marian year celebration on Wednesday with a blessing broadcast from his sickbed.

The 78-year-old head of the Roman Catholic Church, still critically ill with gastritis, spoke a similar blessing into a microphone yeterday. It was relayed by loudspeaker from his bedside to a throng of 50,000 in St. Peter's Basilica and by the Vatican radio and other networks to much of the world.

The Vatican press spokesman announced today that "the "Pope's slow and gradual improvement continues." A Vatican source said earlier that the Pope had spent his third fairly restful night since he rallied from the severe collapse last Thursday which brought grave fears for his life.

Until his illness, the Pope had been scheduled to officiate at the ceremonies Wednesday which will end the special year of celebrations proclaimed by the Pontiff in honor of the Virgin Mary. Instead, Clemente Cardinal Micara, the Pope's vicar general for the city of Rome, will celebrate the Pontifical Mass in the city's oldest shrine to the virgin, the Basilica of St. Mary major.

As in yesterday's broadcast, a microphone will be brought to the Pontiff's bed and his blessing "Urbi Et Orbi"—to the city and the world—will be relayed to the church loudspeakers and broadcast by the Vatican radio. Radio networks of other nations again are expected to pick up the Vatican broadcast.

Prior to his broadcast yesterday, the Pope was able to swallow a little broth. It was the first food he had taken by mouth in a week.

At one point in his short

Desmond Would Abolish Department as 'Hideaway'

Albany, Dec. 6 (AP) — Sen. Thomas C. Desmond says New York's state department is "'a Hernando's Hideaway' for political bosses" and should be abolished.

Furthermore, said the Newburgh Republican yesterday, he will ask the 1955 Legislature to do just that.

Desmond said in a statement that elimination of the department would be a "basic step" in what he termed "a fresh examination of our creaky, leaky model-T state government."

"Rumors that Mr. Richard Balch, Democratic state chairman, is to be appointed secretary of state emphasize the wholly political nature of the job," he declared.

Desmond asserted that over the years the department had become "a kind of wastebasket for odds-and-ends jobs that other departments did not want."

By abolishing it, he said, and assigning its functions to other agencies "better equipped or qualified to do the job," the state could save from $50,000 to $100,000 a year in what he called "needless overhead."

"Taxpayers know it is expendable," Desmond argued. "It has long been used under both Republican and Democratic administrations as a 'Hernando's Hideaway' for political bosses."

'Hernando's Hideaway' is the title of a musical comedy hit song about a place where couples meet secretly.

Desmond claimed that "the political leadership of the department has had a bad influence on boxing and racing"—sports, he said, that "today are

Christmas sales are reported good, in some cases well ahead of this date last year.

The trend reflects a recent announcement that Christmas Club savings in Kingston banks amounted to approximately one and a half million dollars, largest on record. These funds are now being withdrawn and pumped into local business channels.

The local Christmas Club is part of a national organization now paying more than a billion dollars to its members.

The buying this season "seems to have more punch in it," according to Vincent Burns, manager of Montgomery Ward and Co. "People are buying and buying earlier. We are considerably ahead of last year." He said the "kickoff" for the Christmas season for his store came the day after Thanksgiving when buying "started off tremendous."

Burns explained that people seemed to be purchasing "more practical" items, generally, than in past seasons. These items he described as "staples" such as clothing.

"MUCH BETTER than last year," according to Adrian Kaplan of Kaplan Furniture Co., 68 North Front street. He said buying was "very strong" and "more practical things are selling, such as chairs." Such gifts as "bedding" are popular—an "amazing thing."

Kaplan said store traffic had been good Friday night and all day Saturday. "People seem to be loosening up a little. Their confidence, if they ever lost any, has returned."

Jay Melton, manager of Standard Furniture Co., furniture and electrical appliances, 267 Fair street, also remarked on the practical nature of the buying taste.

Buses Told To Install Speed Item

Device Would Cut Highway Excesses

Albany, Dec. 6 (AP)—The Public Service Commission, decrying speeding buses as "a menace on the highways," ordered operators today to install speed recorders for inter-city trips of more than 35 miles.

Using a new power under a 1954 state law, the commission ordered the devices installed by deadlines ranging from July 1, 1955 to Jan. 1, 1956.

Benjamin F. Feinberg, chairman of the PSC, declared in an opinion that it was "inescapable that the public interest requires" speed-recording devices on buses operating on the open highway.

THE ORDER applies to commercial buses, operating both within the state and between New York and other states. Also affected are public and private school buses used for long trips, such as carrying athletic teams or other groups of pupils.

Stevenson Has View 1956 Can Bring Democrat Win

New Orleans, Dec. 6 (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson today was reported advising party leaders he believes President Eisenhower can be defeated in any 1956 re-election bid if Democrats pound away at what he regards as the unpopularity of the Republican party.

Stevenson's views, as interpreted to those who talked to him during a Democratic rally which ended here Saturday, was that Eisenhower himself is likely to retain for the next two years a measure of the personal popularity which gave the General his sweeping presidential victory over Stevenson in 1952.

But Stevenson evidently believes that Republicans will continue to demonstrate in the next two years what Paul M. Butler, Democratic national chairman-elect, yesterday called the GOP's "incapacity to govern."

Butler put the finger directly on Eisenhower at a news conference, asserting:

"We intend to call to the attention of the American people President Eisenhower's lack of capacity to govern and to unite the people. The responsibility is with the President to see that the nation is united and there is ever-increasing evidence of his lack of capacity to do it."

That language was perhaps a little stronger than Stevenson himself was prepared to use. But the former Illinois governor made it clear he thinks the November elections which gave Democrats control of Congress proved the people don't have as much faith in the GOP as they demonstrated in the past for Eisenhower.

On this basis, Stevenson has told friends he believes that other Republicans in time will drag Eisenhower down to their much lower level of popularity and that the President will be vulnerable if he runs again.

Stevenson has kept publicly silent on his own plans and apparently intends to play by ear. He has indicated he is not in an eager-beaver mood for the nomination. Neither has he shut any doors against the possibility that he again my become the Democratic candidate.

In his own mind, Stevenson was represented [illegible] that despite any present intentions, Eisenhower will [illegible] by his party to take the GOP nomination in 1956.

This has opened the prospect of another Eisenhower-Stevenson battle and some Democratic national committee members said they would welcome the prospect.

Calvin Rawlings, national committeeman from Idaho, said the sentiment he has found in the western states is all for Stevenson.

Pope Will Give Broadcast To Conclude Marian Year

Vatican City, Dec. 6 (AP)—The Vatican gave new evidence today that Pope Pius XII is continuing to improve, announcing that the ailing Pontiff will close the Marian year celebration on Wednesday with a blessing broadcast from his sickbed.

The 78-year-old head of the Roman Catholic Church, still critically ill with gastritis, spoke a similar blessing into a microphone yeterday. It was relayed by loudspeaker from his bedside to a throng of 50,000 in St. Peter's Basilica and by the Vatican radio and other networks to much of the world.

The Vatican press spokesman announced today that "the "Pope's slow and gradual improvement continues." A Vatican source said earlier that the Pope had spent his third fairly restful night since he rallied from the severe collapse last Thursday which brought grave fears for his life.

Until his illness, the Pope had been scheduled to officiate at the ceremonies Wednesday which will end the special year of celebrations proclaimed by the Pontiff in honor of the Virgin Mary. Instead, Clemente Cardinal Micara, the Pope's vicar general for the city of Rome, will celebrate the Pontifical Mass in the city's oldest shrine to the virgin, the Basilica of St. Mary major.

As in yesterday's broadcast, a microphone will be brought to the Pontiff's bed and his blessing "Urbi Et Orbi"—to the city and the world—will be relayed to the church loudspeakers and broadcast by the Vatican radio. Radio networks of other nations again are expected to pick up the Vatican broadcast.

Prior to his broadcast yesterday, the Pope was able to swallow a little broth. It was the first food he had taken by mouth in a week.

Temperatures dropped far below the freezing mark in most sections last night and snow flurries and a few snow squalls whipped sections of western New York early today.

The weather bureau predicted that temperatures tonight would drop to zero and below in the mountainous sections of northern and western New York and range from zero to 10 above in most upstate areas.

Forecasters said the chilly weather was brought on by a highpressure area northwest of Lake Superior.

Tegucigalpa, Honduras, Dec. 6 (AP)—Vice President Julio Lozano took over as dictator of this Central American Republic today.

The short, 60-year-old businessman assumed power constitutionally after a boycott by two parties prevented Congress from picking a president from the two top contenders in last October's general elections.

Broadcasting from the blue room of the presidential manor at midnight, Lozano decreed himself chief of state and named the newly elected national Congress as an advisory council. He said it will draft a new constitution.

He prohibited all gatherings, demonstrations, publications and broadcasts which might "tend to disrupt the peace."

Armed troops and police were posted at all strategic sites.

Desmond Would Abolish Department as 'Hideaway'

Albany, Dec. 6 (AP) — Sen. Thomas C. Desmond says New York's state department is "'a Hernando's Hideaway' for political bosses" and should be abolished.

Furthermore, said the Newburgh Republican yesterday, he will ask the 1955 Legislature to do just that.

Desmond said in a statement that elimination of the department would be a "basic step" in what he termed "a fresh examination of our creaky, leaky model-T state government."

"Rumors that Mr. Richard Balch, Democratic state chairman, is to be appointed secretary of state emphasize the wholly political nature of the job," he declared.

Desmond asserted that over the years the department had become "a kind of wastebasket for odds-and-ends jobs that other departments did not want."

By abolishing it, he said, and assigning its functions to other agencies "better equipped or qualified to do the job," the state could save from $50,000 to $100,000 a year in what he called "needless overhead."

"Taxpayers know it is expendable," Desmond argued. "It has long been used under both Republican and Democratic administrations as a 'Hernando's Hideaway' for political bosses."

'Hernando's Hideaway' is the title of a musical comedy hit song about a place where couples meet secretly.

Desmond claimed that "the political leadership of the department has had a bad influence on boxing and racing"—sports, he said, that "today are

Socialists to Work With Adenauer

Berlin, Dec. 6 (AP)—The anti-rearmament Socialist won a one-vote majority in West Berlin's Parliament today but promised to govern the Soviet-encircled city in partnership with Chancellor Konrad Adenhauer's Christian Democratic Union.

Municipal spokesmen of the two leading parties warmly agreed they must establish a strong new democratic coalition here under the shadow of the Russian army, regardless of their partisan quarrels in West Germany over foreign policy.

The mammoth turnout of 1,554,766 voters for yesterday's election yesterday—91.6 per cent of those eligible—gave the Socialists 64 seats, the Christian Democrats 44 and the Free Democrats 19. The lineup for the past four years had been 61 Socialists, 34 Christian Democrats and 32 Free Democrats.

Since the death last year of Socialist Mayor Ernst Reuter, Christian Democrat Walter Schrieber had headed a coalition administration from his party and the Free Democrats.

THE BERLINERS stingingly repudiated the Communists and the Nazi-tainted German party. Both extremist parties failed to win a seat in the new Parliament, with the Reds receiving only 2.7 per cent of the total vote and the German party 4.8 per cent. To get any seats a party must poll 5 per cent.

Cries of 'police terror" came from Communist propagandists to explain their party's debacle.

WEST BERLIN police reported 43 Red provocateurs arrested in election disturbances yesterday and a total of 851 arrests in the last two weeks of the campaign. Of those briefly jailed, 688 were East Berliners ineligible to vote in the three Allied sectors.

Both Adenauer and West German Socialist Leader Erich Ollenhauer came to Berlin Friday to speak in the windup of their parties' campaigns, fought largely on the prevailing West German issue of rearmament versus speedy Big Four talks on Germany.

The Christian Democrats upped their poll from 24.6 per cent of the 1950 vote to 30 percent this time. But the Socialists, traditionally dominant in Berlin, wound up with 44 per cent, just under their 44.7 per cent of four years ago.

PARLIAMENT'S third party, the Adenauer-Allied Free Democrats, suffered a drastic fall, from 23 per cent in 1950 to 12.7 per cent.

These were the final returns:

Valid votes 1,544,443, Socialists 684,646, Christian Democrats 466,595, Free Democrats 196,845, German Party 75,159, Communists 51,225, Refugee Party 39,195, Middle Class Economic Association 26,868, Free Social Union (rightwing Socialists) 2,374, leftwing Socialists (USPD) 1,536.

U.S., Allies To Protest

Sixteen Nations Close to Agreement On Resolution to Condemn Reds

United Nations, Dec. 6 (AP)—The United States and its 15 Korean War allies were reported close to agreement today on details of a resolution calling for the release of 11 U. S. fliers and other allied personnel in Red China's hands.

Informed quarters said the United States and Britain had resolved some points of difference, which developed over the weekend, and were now agreed on basic points.

The two big western powers expected to have a draft proposal ready for submission to a private meeting of the 16 allies this afternoon.

The session was expected to decide the language of a resolution to be presented to the Assembly later this week, and whether the United States would sponsor it alone or be joined by its allies.

Later in the day the 15-nation Assembly steering committee, headed by Assembly President Eelco N. Van Kleffens was expected to vote overwhelmingly to add the prisoner question to the Assembly work program. The committee also was slated to order the issue before the Assembly for debate, bypassing the political committee.

The steering committee is made up of assembly vice presidents and committee chairmen. Seven of its 15 members represent Korean allies—the United States, Britain, France, Australia, Thailand, Colombia and The Netherlands.

Two other members are from the Soviet Union and its satellite Czechoslovakia, while the rest represent China, Burma, Ecuador, Cuba, Iceland and Syria.

The allies were prepared to withstand demands by Russia for Red China to be invited here for the debates and then vote for the assembly to take up the question.

One problem facing the allies was how strong a condemnation of Red China to seek. Another was how to make the UN machinery go to work, since the Chinese Communists rejected diplomatic overtures at Geneva and through British channels.

Over the weekend, a State Department statement indicated the United States is seeking UN

Several Are Summoned To Testify

McCarthy Group Resuming Probe

Washington, Dec. 6 (AP)—A closed hearing on Communist infiltration of defense plants was scheduled today in a resumption of a probe Sen. McCarthy (R.-Wis.) has claimed was held up for months by Senate investigations of him.

Several unidentified witnesses were called for questioning this afternoon by the Senate Investigations Subcommittee McCarthy heads.

Acting Staff Director James N. Juliana said he expected McCarthy to be on hand. The senator did not show up in Cincinnati for a scheduled speech Saturday night and his wife explained "the doctor put his foot down" because McCarthy's injured elbow "has not cleared up."

McCARTHY HAD said beforehand that 42 subbpoenas were issued and that a considerable number of plants in the northeast were involved. He said the hearings would be run "right up to the first of the year." Juliana said it is "most likely" public hearings will start tomorrow.

The hearings were to be the first held by McCarthy since the Senate last week voted, 67-22, to condemn his conduct on grounds he obstructed "constitutional processes" and tended to bring the Senate into "dishonor and disrepute."

John E. Held, chairman of the Cuvier Press Club's dinner in Cincinnati, created something of a stir when he announced Saturday that McCarthy could not be there because he was "gravely ill" in Washington.

THIS SENT NEWSMEN racing to McCarthy's home near the Capitol. After several hours of fruitless doorbell ringing and telephoning, Mrs. McCarthy was reached by phone and she said the report the senator was seriously ill was "a little exaggerated."

Held said yesterday the dinner sponsors knew in advance that McCarthy would not be there, but held up an announcement because some of the guests "would have stayed away."

McCarthy's elbow was injured several weeks ago when a vigorous handshaker pushed it against a glass table top. The Senate censure debate was interrupted for 11 days while he was hospitalized for treatment.

Binghamton, Dec. 6 (AP)—A $600,000 fire destroyed a six-story building today in the city's worst fire in three years.

All of the city's 168 firemen available were called out in 7-above-zero weather as flames ravaged the Ackerman building at State and Henry streets.

The owner of the building, E. L. Kittredge, said the damage amounted to "more than $600,000."

Fire Chief Frank Buckman said the cause had not been determined. He said the fire apparently started in the basement and spread through the building.

Bank Plans Changes in Building

Ulster Savings Study Incomplete

Plans for extensive interior remodeling are being developed for the Ulster County Savings Institution building at 280 Wall street.

It is expected that the interior of the banking house will be completely renovated and an elevator installed.

Pratt Boice, president of the bank, has indicated that the project is in its preliminary planning stage, and actual construction work will begin only after expiration of an existing lease, which has about one year to run.

ROUGH SKETCHES of the contemplated improvements are being prepared by Architect Harry Halverson. No final estimate of costs has been made.

Chester A. Baltz, Sr., is chairman of the building committee of the board of trustees.

At the present time, no extensive changes are planned to the exterior of the building, which has been a Kingston landmark since 1870. The building, with its thick walls, is of substantial construction. The Ulster County Savings Institution was chartered April 12, 1851.

Conduct Is Viewed as Violation

His Statement Is Answer to Query

London, Dec. 6 (AP)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden today termed Communist China's conviction of American airmen as spies a direct violation of terms of the Korean armistice agreement.

Speaking in answer to a Laborite question in the House of Commons, Eden said:

"It is not allowable to any nation which wishes to act by civilized standards to treat officers, noncommissioned officers or men in uniform as spies and to treat them in the sort of way they have been treated by the Chinese government.

"ON BEHALF of her majesty's government and all civilized nations, I deeply deplore this conduct. The Chinese action in holding these men back is a direct violation of the terms of the Korean armistice agreement."

Eden said he could not for a moment accept references by the Labor members of Parliament "to these men as spies.."

HE SAID HE fully endorsed previous condemnation by Minister of State Anthony Nutting of the Chinese jailing and added:

"Eleven of the men concerned were airmen in uniform shot down on military operations on behalf of the United Nations during the Korean hostilities. As such they should have been repatriated on the conclusion of the Korean armistice."

Laborite John Baird had asked why instructions were given to Nutting at the United Nations to condemn the Chinese government "because they had punished United States spies."

CONSERVATIVE cheers filled the chamber as Eden said firmly:

"I cannot for one moment accept Mr. Baird's references to these men as spies."

Another Laborite, Mrs. Barbara Castle, asked what representations had been made by the U. S. government for Britain to participation in an air and naval blockade of China.

"The answer is none," Eden said.

THIRTEEN Americans were sentenced by the Chinese Communists to long prison terms. Two were civilians. The 11 referred to by Eden were members of one air crew which crashed.

Mrs. Castle asked whether Eden would "resist American pressure, direct or indirect, through the United Nations, for this country to tighten economic pressure on China, and will he, for a change, try giving China help in her economic reconstruction by enabling her to get the goods she needs as the best way to peace in the Far East?'

Eden replied he thought Britain never had been backward in trying to come to arrangements with Communist China. Amid more Conservative cheers, he added: "In fact, we recognized her several years before she was good enough to recognize us."

Says He Is Followed

Johannesburg, South Africa, Dec. 6 (AP)—The Church of England's bishop of Johannesburg, the Rt. Rev. Ambrose Reeves, told reporters today that police are trailing him constantly. He added that his shadowers also take notes on speeches he makes at clerical meetings, even when purely church matters are discussed. The bishop's statement followed a charge yesterday by an Anglican missionary, the Rev. Trevor Huddleston, that South African police are conducting a surveillance amounting to persecution of the Anglican clergy.

KINGSTON LANDMARK SOLD—One of the oldest properties in Kingston, the home of Mrs. Marie T. Flanagan, widow of Chris Flanagan, former local attorney, at 17 East Chestnut street, has been sold to Edwin H. Schmitz, executive vice-president of Electrol Incorporated. The 11-room residence with architectural design, was the former home of Grove Webster, one-time sheriff of Ulster county. The sale also includes a barn on the property where former Sheriff Webster kept a stable of outstanding carriage horses. Mrs. Flanagan, it was learned today, has purchased a new house on Fairview avenue. The sale of the East Chestnut street home was negotiated by Dewey Logan through Lane and Flanagan. (Freeman photo).

Sheppard Says He Named Five

Cleveland, Dec. 6 (AP) — Dr. Stephen Sheppard testified today he mentioned "possibly four or five" suspects after his brother was arrested on a charge of murdering his wife.

"I did not accuse anyone," however, the witness said.

Dr. Steve engaged in a heated verbal duel with Assistant Prosecutor Thomas Parrino as the lawyer entered this phase of his cross examination.

Dr. Steve was the first defense witness in the trial of his brother, Dr. Samuel Sheppard, who is accused of hacking to death his wife, Marilyn, on July 4.

PARRINO ASKED, "When was the first time you named any suspects?"

"The first time I was asked to name any was on Aug. 12," Dr. Steve said.

"Did you name a suspect?" Parrino persisted.

"I was asked about that, but I accused no one," Sheppard said.

"Will you please answer my question, 'did you name a suspect?'" Parrino said moving up to the side of the witness stand.

When Parrino asked for the name of any suspects, defense lawyers shouted objections and the judge sustained them.

Sheppard said "About a half a dozen were discussed, or I was questioned about, or that I gave information about."

Parrino asked if the witness introduced any names other than those the police asked him about."

He said, "Possibly four or five."

Clifton Avenue Proposed as New Route for Buses

Mayor Frederick H. Stang said today he had received proposals from persons interested in extension of bus service in the area of Colonial Gardens and the county infirmary that Clifton avenue, instead of East Chester street, be made part of the route.

Residents of the area have made the proposals, he said, suggesting that the change would be convenient to more residents of the area. The buses, instead of continuing over East Chester street from Hasbrouck avenue would go to Clifton avenue, and turn left at the infirmary toward Colonial Gardens.

THE ROUTE as proposed would also provide service on Foxhall avenue between Broadway and Downs street, as well as on Flatbush avenue, and the other streets in the areas of Colonial Gardens and the county infirmary.

The mayor said he is interested in whichever route provides the best service to the public

The proposal is subject to local action, a public hearing, and a final order by the State Public Service Commission.

Brother, Sister Reported Missing

Frank Ellsworth, 15, and his sister, Elsie, 17, have been missing from their home on the Whiteport road since Friday night, their mother, Mrs. Bell Ellsworth, reported to the sheriff's office.

Frank was described as five feet six inches tall, 140 pounds, with gray eyes and blond hair. His sister is five feet tall, weighs 130 pounds and has blond hair, according to the report.

A teletype message to Kingston police and state police said that the children may be in the company of Joseph P. Winter, 26, of 119 DeWitt street, also reported missing since Friday.

Enters Third Week

Newark, N. J., Dec. 6 (AP)—A recount of the U. S. Senate election entered its third week in five paper ballot counties today, with Republican Clifford P. Case's lead at 3,266 votes. Since the recheck got under way, Democrat Charles R. Howell has made a net gain of 104. So far 106 of the 635 voting districts in the five counties have been recounted. A recheck of Essex county's 557 districts was completed last week.

None Are Injured In Two-Car Mishap

No one was reported injured in a two-car collision on Route 32 about a mile south of Kingston at 10:45 a. m. today.

According to a sheriff's office report, an automobile driven by Oscar Sondak of Kerhonkson was damaged to its front end, bumper, hood and fender and an automobile driven by Mrs. Carol H. Downer of 55 Fair street received damage to its rear trunk and possible hidden damage.

Both vehicles were proceeding south on Route 32 and the accident occurred as Mrs. Downer was attempting to make a left turn into the Dr. Gilbert Hopenstedt animal hospital, according to Deputy Sheriff Benjamin Newkirk.

Auto Action Is Settled in Court

A negligence action brought by William A. LeBeau of Newburgh against Abraham Levy of Saugerties for injuries suffered May 8, 1953 when the cars of the parties were involved in a collision on Robinson avenue and Plank road, Newburgh, was settled in Supreme court this morning. LeBeau was represented by N. LeVan Haver and Levy by Cashin and Ewig.

In the accident LeBeau suffered an injury to his spine which makes it necessary for him to wear a heavy brace.

Also settled was an action for breach of contract brought by Clifford L. Ross against Channel-Master Corporation of Ellenville. Sachret and Benson appeared for plaintiffs and Louis Berger and Abraham Streifer for defendents.

A negligence action brought by Theresa Hughes against Herman Osmers was announced settled on the call of the day calendar. Howard C. S. John for plaintiff and Cashin & Ewig for defendant.

THREE NEGLIGENCE actions brought against Jean Milano, defendant, also were announced settled. Plaintiffs were Roscoe Playford, represented by Napoletano, Kelly and Saccoman; Mary Bohan and Dorothy LaRocco, represented by Flanagan and Ortale. Defendant was represented by Cribari, Scapolito and Solinger.

A jury was taken in a negligence action brought by John Corelli of Cottekill road, Rosendale, against James G. Hewitt. The action arises out of a collision in Port Ewen Nov. 6, 1953, while plaintiff was en route to Kingston and the defendant was proceeding south to Poughkeepsie. Plaintiff seeks damages for injuries as well as for property damage. Richter and Werbalowsky appear for plaintiff and Andrew J. Cook, Jr., of Cook and Cook appears for the defendant.

Justice Roscoe V. Elsworth, presiding judge, announced no additions to the day calendar Tuesday but additions may be made Thursday.

Scelba Party Gains In Drive on Reds

Rome, Dec. 6 (AP) — Premier Mario Scelba's new offensive against communism moved ahead today with support from Italian center parties.

In a nine-hour session that lasted until early Sunday morning, the Scelba coalition cabinet agreed to knock subversives out of government jobs and to wipe out some of communism's prime financial backings.

Some of the proposals may have to be backed by new laws. But action already is beginning on many of the sharpest anti-Communist measures.

Foreign Commerce Minister Mario Martinelli has begun to cut the list of Communist-controlled firms holding monopolies on most of the trade beyond the Iron Curtain. Their profits have been one of the chief sources of funds for Italy's strong Communist party.

Named Head Coach

Pittsburgh, Dec. 6 (AP)—Johnny Michelosen, former coach of the National Football League Pittsburgh Steelers, today was named head football coach of the University of Pittsburgh.

Memorial Is Held For Departed Elks

Departed members of Kingston Lodge 550, BPO Elks, were eulogized at a well-attended memorial service held at the Elks home Sunday night.

Attorney Frank Campochiaro, journal clerk of the New York State Senate, delivered the main address, in which he called upon the members to pay tribute to the departed lodge brothers by rededicating themselves to the fraternity's ideals and aims "so that we may pass to those who come after a heritage worthy of the great brotherhood of which we are a part."

Noting that brotherhood is "one of the loftiest ideals to which this, and practically every other patriotic fraternal organization, is dedicated," Campochiaro said:

"It is not enough for us to just proclaim our belief in this great virtue, we must strive to practice it in our daily lives. If, in our own small group, we can substitute faith for fear, trust for suspicion, charity for greed, and, above all, love for hate, we will be making a real contribution toward the goal of better understanding . . .

"The good we do here may well bear fruit in places and among people we know not of, even as the seed we sow in our own garden will some day blossom forth into the harvest that will help feed the hungry throughout the world."

Speaking of the contributions of the departed members to the benevolent and protective works that constitute the framework of the order, the speaker declared, "As we gather here to pay homage to those, who while they still dwelt among us were our fraternal brothers, our neighbors and our friends, it is appropriate that we reaffirm our faith in the principles in which they and we have believed. We can pay no greater tribute to their memory than to hold high those lofty ideals and help bring to fruition those noble aims."

THOSE WHO were honored were: Michael S. Strawgate, Samuel Freis, James M. Murphy, Alexander Nunes, Marvin S. Rivenberg, Alick Mollott, Samuel Perlman, Fred Breitenstein, Martin G. Schantz, Russel Tenure, Andrew J. Murphy, Jr., John Spadora, William T. Roedell, Walter Misner, Milton Elmendorf, William J. Geary and John J. McCabe.

John L. Machione, exalted ruler, presided at the memorial service. Invocation and benediction was by the Rev. Robert T. Shellenberger.

The Mendelssohn Club rendered the following selections: Now Let Every Tongue Adore Thee, by Bach; Thanks Be to Thee, Handel; and The Long Day Closes, Sullivan.

A SACRED SESSION was conducted by officers of Kingston Lodge No. 550, and the closing ode, Auld Lang Syne, was sung by the lodge members and guests assembled.

Members of the memorial service committee were: Francis J. McCardle, PER, chairman; James Higley, PER; George D. Logan, PER; Dr. Harold Mandell, PER; Dr. Robert K. Ploss, PER; Walter Miller, PER, and Charles A. Ryan, PDD.

Will Release Ship, Men

United Nations, Dec. 6 (AP)—Egypt announced today she will release as soon as possible the Israeli vessel Bat Galim and its 10-man crew, seized Sept. 28 at the southern entrance to the Suez Canal. At the time the vessel was seized, Egyptian officials charged the crew with shooting up a fishing boat and killing three fishermen. In a letter to the president of the UN Security Council, Dr. Charles Malik of Lebanon, Egyptian delegate Omar Loutfi said today this charge was being withdrawn and the crew and vessel were being released. The letter was circulated as the UN Security Council prepared to meet tomorrow to take up the question.

Respects for Fielder

Montclair, N. J., Dec. 6 (AP)—Friends and relatives paid their final respects yesterday at funeral services for James F. Fielder, governor of New Jersey from 1913 to 1917. Fielder, who died Thursday at the age of 87, succeeded Woodrow Wilson as governor. From 1919 until his retirement in 1948, he was a vice chancellor of the Chancery Court.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Dec. 6 (AP)—The stock market continued its strong march ahead in the early afternoon today and scored new highs since the 1929 peaks.

It was the third straight advance for the market. Gains went to around 2 points generally with some stocks pushing out to around 4 points. Losses were small.

Trading was at the heaviest rate of the year near four million shares. Friday's total was 3,790,000, third highest of the year.

Good gains were found in steels, motors, rubbers, aircrafts, distillers, radio-televisions, utilities, chemicals, electrical equipments, railroads, oils, airlines, and many low-priced issues.

Boy Is Injured

Thomas Lent, 6, of 32 Van Deusen street, suffered abrasions of the right knee and forehead when he came in contact with a car as it pulled into a driveway at 62 Van Deusen street, shortly before noon today. Officers Thomas McGrane and Clarence Bilyou investigated after George W. Sherry, 78, of 62 Van Deusen street, reported the mishap. Sherry said he was unaware that the boy had made contact with the car, until a neighbor had picked him up in the driveway. He was to be treated by a doctor.

Property Damage Reported to Police

Police were notified Sunday of two instances of property damage.

Peter Mancuso reported at 2:16 p. m. that someone had thrown a rock through a picture window in his new house at Mary's avenue and West Chester street. It happened, he said, between 3 p. m., Saturday and 11 a. m., Sunday. The window was four by five feet, he said.

A report at 9:50 a. m., said the ticket office at Dietz Stadium had been entered. The door casing near a lock was damaged, but nothing was reported missing.

Adams Says Gifts Frowned Upon

New York, Dec. 6 (AP)—Police Commissioner Francis W. Adams has invited more than 50 leaders of business groups to meet with him today and he is expected to tell them the department frowns on Christmas gifts to policemen.

He reminded the policemen on Nov. 5 about "the lack of desirability of accepting Christmas gratuities" from persons they meet in the course of their duties.

Last December, George P. Monaghan, then police commissioner, made a similar appeal for cooperation from businessmen and warned policemen he would punish any Christmas "shakedown."

Lozano Takes

Trucks and jeeps patrolled city streets. A truck with machine-guns stood guard at the cordoned-off Congress building. No disorders had been reported up to a late hour.

President Juan Manuel Galvez, who was not a candidate for reelection in October, is in Miami, Fla. He left on Nov. 16 for medical treatment, leaving Lozano in charge as acting president, and has not announced whether he would return.

The opposition Liberal party —which came within 4,500 votes of the majority needed to get the presidency in the elections —accepted Lozan's authority.

Liberal candidate Ramon Valleda Moraes, high man in the presidential election, said his faction would join in the all-party coalition cabinet Lozano said he would form.

Villeda Moraes won 121,213 of the 251,295 votes cast in the election. Nationalist candidate Tidurcio Carias Andino received only 77,041 and reform candidate Abraham Williams 53,041.

Under the constitution, the congress was to choose a president between the two top candidates. The congress could not be formally constituted, however, because the minority Nationalist and Reformist factions boycotted it.

Lozano said he assumed office through the illness of his "old friend" President Galvez and would try to continue the "magnificent trajectory" of his government.

He stressed that a new constitution was badly needed, pointing out that it was through a "constitutional law" that he became absolute ruler.

Harriman Is on Tour

Gloversville, Dec. 6 (AP)—Gov.-elect Averell Harriman was due here today on the first leg of a one-day, see-for-himself swing through five upstate cities beset by unemployment ills. He was to follow in the footsteps of an economic survey team he sent out last week to—as he put it—"get a running start" toward a program to combat joblessness Two members of the three-man team — Richardson Wood and Philip Kaiser—accompanied him today. Also along was Isador Lubin, the Democratic governor-elect's choice to be industrial commissioner.

Democrats Attack GOP Program

New Orleans, Dec. 6 (AP) — A group of top Democratic leaders, including Gov.-Elect W. Averell Harriman of New York, have attacked "the discrimination in the Republican farm program which treats the dairy farmer as a whipping boy.'

In a signed statement, Harriman, Gov.-Elect Orville Freeman of Minnesota, Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan; Sen.-Elect Patrick McNamara of Michigan and a number of other top Democrats said the Eisenhower administration's farm program "is rapidly bringing industry to its knees."

The Democrats were in New Orleans to attend a national meeting.

The statement said the administration's present farm policy parallels "that of the 1920s when the 'do nothing' policy of the Republicans of that day permitted a farm recession to lead the worst depression the country has ever seen.

"The election results in farm precincts in Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan," the statement continued, "were a repudiation of the Republican farm program.

"We re-affirm our determination to use every influence at our command in favor of the adoption of a dairy program which recognizes the necessity of maintaining a strong and prosperous dairy industry as the basis for a stable economy."

New Party Chairman To Confer With HST

South Bend, Ind., Dec. 6 (AP) — Paul M. Butler, who takes over Jan. 1 as Democratic national chairman, said today he plans to arrange a conference with former President Harry S. Truman before he assumes office.

This apparently would be a move to avert factionalism in the party since there have been reports Truman did not favor Butler as chairman.

Butler said also he plans to go to Washington Friday to begin preparations for taking over the chairmanship. He said if there are any changes on the national committee staff, none will be made until after Feb. 1.

Reports Back Injury

Benjamin Steinmetz, 70, of Hinsdale street, reported a back injury after a car-bicycle mishap at Albany avenue and Pearl street, Saturday. Officers Thomas Tomshaw and Bernard Fowler reported at 11:30 a. m., that a sedan driven by Raymond Keator, 18 Manor Place, headed west on Albany avenue was turning into Clinton avenue, and Steinmetz, on a bicycle, was also turning into Clinton avenue, when the left handlebar of the bicycle came in contact with a door of the car. Steinmetz first indicated he was uninjured but later told the officers he suffered a back injury.

The Rev. Mr. Schaible is a native of Altamont.

Vessel Is Seized

Jerusalem, Dec. 6 (AP)—The Syrian sailing vessel Fadlala with a crew of seven, was seized off Haifa in Israel's territorial waters today, an Israeli military spokesman announced. He said the ship was escorted into Haifa for investigation.

KINGSTON LANDMARK SOLD—One of the oldest properties in Kingston, the home of Mrs. Marie T. Flanagan, widow of Chris Flanagan, former local attorney, at 17 East Chestnut street, has been sold to Edwin H. Schmitz, executive vice-president of Electrol Incorporated. The 11-room residence with architectural design, was the former home of Grove Webster, one-time sheriff of Ulster county. The sale also includes a barn on the property where former Sheriff Webster kept a stable of outstanding carriage horses. Mrs. Flanagan, it was learned today, has purchased a new house on Fairview avenue. The sale of the East Chestnut street home was negotiated by Dewey Logan through Lane and Flanagan. (Freeman photo).

Sheppard Says He Named Five

Cleveland, Dec. 6 (AP) — Dr. Stephen Sheppard testified today he mentioned "possibly four or five" suspects after his brother was arrested on a charge of murdering his wife.

"I did not accuse anyone," however, the witness said.

Dr. Steve engaged in a heated verbal duel with Assistant Prosecutor Thomas Parrino as the lawyer entered this phase of his cross examination.

Dr. Steve was the first defense witness in the trial of his brother, Dr. Samuel Sheppard, who is accused of hacking to death his wife, Marilyn, on July 4.

PARRINO ASKED, "When was the first time you named any suspects?"

"The first time I was asked to name any was on Aug. 12," Dr. Steve said.

"Did you name a suspect?" Parrino persisted.

"I was asked about that, but I accused no one," Sheppard said.

"Will you please answer my question, 'did you name a suspect?'" Parrino said moving up to the side of the witness stand.

When Parrino asked for the name of any suspects, defense lawyers shouted objections and the judge sustained them.

Sheppard said "About a half a dozen were discussed, or I was questioned about, or that I gave information about."

Parrino asked if the witness introduced any names other than those the police asked him about."

He said, "Possibly four or five."

Clifton Avenue Proposed as New Route for Buses

Mayor Frederick H. Stang said today he had received proposals from persons interested in extension of bus service in the area of Colonial Gardens and the county infirmary that Clifton avenue, instead of East Chester street, be made part of the route.

Residents of the area have made the proposals, he said, suggesting that the change would be convenient to more residents of the area. The buses, instead of continuing over East Chester street from Hasbrouck avenue would go to Clifton avenue, and turn left at the infirmary toward Colonial Gardens.

THE ROUTE as proposed would also provide service on Foxhall avenue between Broadway and Downs street, as well as on Flatbush avenue, and the other streets in the areas of Colonial Gardens and the county infirmary.

The mayor said he is interested in whichever route provides the best service to the public

The proposal is subject to local action, a public hearing, and a final order by the State Public Service Commission.

Brother, Sister Reported Missing

Frank Ellsworth, 15, and his sister, Elsie, 17, have been missing from their home on the Whiteport road since Friday night, their mother, Mrs. Bell Ellsworth, reported to the sheriff's office.

Frank was described as five feet six inches tall, 140 pounds, with gray eyes and blond hair. His sister is five feet tall, weighs 130 pounds and has blond hair, according to the report.

A teletype message to Kingston police and state police said that the children may be in the company of Joseph P. Winter, 26, of 119 DeWitt street, also reported missing since Friday.

Enters Third Week

Newark, N. J., Dec. 6 (AP)—A recount of the U. S. Senate election entered its third week in five paper ballot counties today, with Republican Clifford P. Case's lead at 3,266 votes. Since the recheck got under way, Democrat Charles R. Howell has made a net gain of 104. So far 106 of the 635 voting districts in the five counties have been recounted. A recheck of Essex county's 557 districts was completed last week.

None Are Injured In Two-Car Mishap

No one was reported injured in a two-car collision on Route 32 about a mile south of Kingston at 10:45 a. m. today.

According to a sheriff's office report, an automobile driven by Oscar Sondak of Kerhonkson was damaged to its front end, bumper, hood and fender and an automobile driven by Mrs. Carol H. Downer of 55 Fair street received damage to its rear trunk and possible hidden damage.

Both vehicles were proceeding south on Route 32 and the accident occurred as Mrs. Downer was attempting to make a left turn into the Dr. Gilbert Hoppenstedt animal hospital, according to Deputy Sheriff Benjamin Newkirk.

Auto Action Is Settled in Court

A negligence action brought by William A. LeBeau of Newburgh against Abraham Levy of Saugerties for injuries suffered May 8, 1953 when the cars of the parties were involved in a collision on Robinson avenue and Plank road, Newburgh, was settled in Supreme court this morning. LeBeau was represented by N. LeVan Haver and Levy by Cashin and Ewig.

In the accident LeBeau suffered an injury to his spine which makes it necessary for him to wear a heavy brace.

Also settled was an action for breach of contract brought by Clifford L. Ross against Channel-Master Corporation of Ellenville. Sachret and Benson appeared for plaintiffs and Louis Berger and Abraham Streifer for defendents.

A negligence action brought by Theresa Hughes against Herman Osmers was announced settled on the call of the day calendar. Howard C. S. John for plaintiff and Cashin & Ewig for defendant.

THREE NEGLIGENCE actions brought against Jean Milano, defendant, also were announced settled. Plaintiffs were Roscoe Playford, represented by Napoletano, Kelly and Saccoman; Mary Bohan and Dorothy LaRocco, represented by Flanagan and Ortale. Defendant was represented by Cribari, Scapolito and Solinger.

A jury was taken in a negligence action brought by John Corelli of Cottekill road, Rosendale, against James G. Hewitt. The action arises out of a collision in Port Ewen Nov. 6, 1953, while plaintiff was en route to Kingston and the defendant was proceeding south to Poughkeepsie. Plaintiff seeks damages for injuries as well as for property damage. Richter and Werbalowsky appear for plaintiff and Andrew J. Cook, Jr., of Cook and Cook appears for the defendant.

Justice Roscoe V. Elsworth, presiding judge, announced no additions to the day calendar Tuesday but additions may be made Thursday.

Scelba Party Gains In Drive on Reds

Rome, Dec. 6 (AP) — Premier Mario Scelba's new offensive against communism moved ahead today with support from Italian center parties.

In a nine-hour session that lasted until early Sunday morning, the Scelba coalition cabinet agreed to knock subversives out of government jobs and to wipe out some of communism's prime financial backings.

Some of the proposals may have to be backed by new laws. But action already is beginning on many of the sharpest anti-Communist measures.

Foreign Commerce Minister Mario Martinelli has begun to cut the list of Communist-controlled firms holding monopolies on most of the trade beyond the Iron Curtain. Their profits have been one of the chief sources of funds for Italy's strong Communist party.

Named Head Coach

Pittsburgh, Dec. 6 (AP)—Johnny Michelosen, former coach of the National Football League Pittsburgh Steelers, today was named head football coach of the University of Pittsburgh.

Memorial Is Held For Departed Elks

Departed members of Kingston Lodge 550, BPO Elks, were eulogized at a well-attended memorial service held at the Elks home Sunday night.

Attorney Frank Campochiaro, journal clerk of the New York State Senate, delivered the main address, in which he called upon the members to pay tribute to the departed lodge brothers by rededicating themselves to the fraternity's ideals and aims "so that we may pass to those who come after a heritage worthy of the great brotherhood of which we are a part."

Noting that brotherhood is "one of the loftiest ideals to which this, and practically every other patriotic fraternal organization, is dedicated," Campochiaro said:

"It is not enough for us to just proclaim our belief in this great virtue, we must strive to practice it in our daily lives. If, in our own small group, we can substitute faith for fear, trust for suspicion, charity for greed, and, above all, love for hate, we will be making a real contribution toward the goal of better understanding . . .

"The good we do here may well bear fruit in places and among people we know not of, even as the seed we sow in our own garden will some day blossom forth into the harvest that will help feed the hungry throughout the world."

Speaking of the contributions of the departed members to the benevolent and protective works that constitute the framework of the order, the speaker declared, "As we gather here to pay homage to those, who while they still dwelt among us were our fraternal brothers, our neighbors and our friends, it is appropriate that we reaffirm our faith in the principles in which they and we have believed. We can pay no greater tribute to their memory than to hold high those lofty ideals and help bring to fruition those noble aims."

THOSE WHO were honored were: Michael S. Strawgate, Samuel Freis, James M. Murphy, Alexander Nunes, Marvin S. Rivenberg, Alick Mollott, Samuel Perlman, Fred Breitenstein, Martin G. Schantz, Russel Tenure, Andrew J. Murphy, Jr., John Spadora, William T. Roedell, Walter Misner, Milton Elmendorf, William J. Geary and John J. McCabe.

John L. Machione, exalted ruler, presided at the memorial service. Invocation and benediction was by the Rev. Robert T. Shellenberger.

The Mendelssohn Club rendered the following selections: Now Let Every Tongue Adore Thee, by Bach; Thanks Be to Thee, Handel; and The Long Day Closes, Sullivan.

A SACRED SESSION was conducted by officers of Kingston Lodge No. 550, and the closing ode, Auld Lang Syne, was sung by the lodge members and guests assembled.

Members of the memorial service committee were: Francis J. McCardle, PER, chairman; James Higley, PER; George D. Logan, PER; Dr. Harold Mandell, PER; Dr. Robert K. Ploss, PER; Walter Miller, PER, and Charles A. Ryan, PDD.

Will Release Ship, Men

United Nations, Dec. 6 (AP)—Egypt announced today she will release as soon as possible the Israeli vessel Bat Galim and its 10-man crew, seized Sept. 28 at the southern entrance to the Suez Canal. At the time the vessel was seized, Egyptian officials charged the crew with shooting up a fishing boat and killing three fishermen. In a letter to the president of the UN Security Council, Dr. Charles Malik of Lebanon, Egyptian delegate Omar Loutfi said today this charge was being withdrawn and the crew and vessel were being released. The letter was circulated as the UN Security Council prepared to meet tomorrow to take up the question.

Respects for Fielder

Montclair, N. J., Dec. 6 (AP)—Friends and relatives paid their final respects yesterday at funeral services for James F. Fielder, governor of New Jersey from 1913 to 1917. Fielder, who died Thursday at the age of 87, succeeded Woodrow Wilson as governor. From 1919 until his retirement in 1948, he was a vice chancellor of the Chancery Court.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Dec. 6 (AP)—The stock market continued its strong march ahead in the early afternoon today and scored new highs since the 1929 peaks.

It was the third straight advance for the market. Gains went to around 2 points generally with some stocks pushing out to around 4 points. Losses were small.

Trading was at the heaviest rate of the year near four million shares. Friday's total was 3,790,000, third highest of the year.

Good gains were found in steels, motors, rubbers, aircrafts, distillers, radio-televisions, utilities, chemicals, electrical equipments, railroads, oils, airlines, and many low-priced issues.

Boy Is Injured

Thomas Lent, 6, of 32 Van Deusen street, suffered abrasions of the right knee and forehead when he came in contact with a car as it pulled into a driveway at 62 Van Deusen street, shortly before noon today. Officers Thomas McGrane and Clarence Bilyou investigated after George W. Sherry, 78, of 62 Van Deusen street, reported the mishap. Sherry said he was unaware that the boy had made contact with the car, until a neighbor had picked him up in the driveway. He was to be treated by a doctor.

If you have something to sell that is worth selling, you cannot lose by investing your money in a want ad in The Freeman.

Property Damage Reported to Police

Police were notified Sunday of two instances of property damage.

Peter Mancuso reported at 2:16 p. m. that someone had thrown a rock through a picture window in his new house at Mary's avenue and West Chester street. It happened, he said, between 3 p. m., Saturday and 11 a. m., Sunday. The window was four by five feet, he said.

A report at 9:50 a. m., said the ticket office at Dietz Stadium had been entered. The door casing near a lock was damaged, but nothing was reported missing.

Adams Says Gifts Frowned Upon

New York, Dec. 6 (AP)—Police Commissioner Francis W. Adams has invited more than 50 leaders of business groups to meet with him today and he is expected to tell them the department frowns on Christmas gifts to policemen.

He reminded the policemen on Nov. 5 about "the lack of desirability of accepting Christmas gratuities" from persons they meet in the course of their duties.

Last December, George P. Monaghan, then police commissioner, made a similar appeal for cooperation from businessmen and warned policemen he would punish any Christmas "shakedown."

Lozano Takes

Trucks and jeeps patrolled city streets. A truck with machine-guns stood guard at the cordoned-off Congress building. No disorders had been reported up to a late hour.

President Juan Manuel Galvez, who was not a candidate for reelection in October, is in Miami, Fla. He left on Nov. 16 for medical treatment, leaving Lozano in charge as acting president, and has not announced whether he would return.

The opposition Liberal party —which came within 4,500 votes of the majority needed to get the presidency in the elections —accepted Lozan's authority.

Liberal candidate Ramon Valleda Moraes, high man in the presidential election, said his faction would join in the all-party coalition cabinet Lozano said he would form.

Villeda Moraes won 121,213 of the 251,295 votes cast in the election. Nationalist candidate Tidurcio Carias Andino received only 77,041 and reform candidate Abraham Williams 53,041.

Under the constitution, the congress was to choose a president between the two top candidates. The congress could not be formally constituted, however, because the minority Nationalist and Reformist factions boycotted it.

Lozano said he assumed office through the illness of his "old friend" President Galvez and would try to continue the "magnificent trajectory" of his government.

He stressed that a new constitution was badly needed, pointing out that it was through a "constitutional law" that he became absolute ruler.

Harriman Is on Tour

Gloversville, Dec. 6 (AP)—Gov.-elect Averell Harriman was due here today on the first leg of a one-day, see-for-himself swing through five upstate cities beset by unemployment ills. He was to follow in the footsteps of an economic survey team he sent out last week to—as he put it—"get a running start" toward a program to combat joblessness Two members of the three-man team — Richardson Wood and Philip Kaiser—accompanied him today. Also along was Isador Lubin, the Democratic governor-elect's choice to be industrial commissioner.

New Party Chairman To Confer With HST

South Bend, Ind., Dec. 6 (AP) — Paul M. Butler, who takes over Jan. 1 as Democratic national chairman, said today he plans to arrange a conference with former President Harry S. Truman before he assumes office.

This apparently would be a move to avert factionalism in the party since there have been reports Truman did not favor Butler as chairman.

Butler said also he plans to go to Washington Friday to begin preparations for taking over the chairmanship. He said if there are any changes on the national committee staff, none will be made until after Feb. 1.

Reports Back Injury

Benjamin Steinmetz, 70, of Hinsdale street, reported a back injury after a car-bicycle mishap at Albany avenue and Pearl street, Saturday. Officers Thomas Tomshaw and Bernard Fowler reported at 11:30 a. m., that a sedan driven by Raymond Keator, 18 Manor Place, headed west on Albany avenue was turning into Clinton avenue, and Steinmetz, on a bicycle, was also turning into Clinton avenue, when the left handlebar of the bicycle came in contact with a door of the car. Steinmetz first indicated he was uninjured but later told the officers he suffered a back injury.

KINGSTON LANDMARK SOLD—One of the oldest properties in Kingston, the home of Mrs. Marie T. Flanagan, widow of Chris Flanagan, former local attorney, at 17 East Chestnut street, has been sold to Edwin H. Schmitz, executive vice-president of Electrol Incorporated. The 11-room residence with architectural design, was the former home of Grove Webster, one-time sheriff of Ulster county. The sale also includes a barn on the property where former Sheriff Webster kept a stable of outstanding carriage horses. Mrs. Flanagan, it was learned today, has purchased a new house on Fairview avenue. The sale of the East Chestnut street home was negotiated by Dewey Logan through Lane and Flanagan. (Freeman photo).

Sheppard Says He Named Five

Cleveland, Dec. 6 (AP) — Dr. Stephen Sheppard testified today he mentioned "possibly four or five" suspects after his brother was arrested on a charge of murdering his wife.

"I did not accuse anyone," however, the witness said.

Dr. Steve engaged in a heated verbal duel with Assistant Prosecutor Thomas Parrino as the lawyer entered this phase of his cross examination.

Dr. Steve was the first defense witness in the trial of his brother, Dr. Samuel Sheppard, who is accused of hacking to death his wife, Marilyn, on July 4.

PARRINO ASKED, "When was the first time you named any suspects?"

"The first time I was asked to name any was on Aug. 12," Dr. Steve said.

"Did you name a suspect?" Parrino persisted.

"I was asked about that, but I accused no one," Sheppard said.

"Will you please answer my question, 'did you name a suspect?'" Parrino said moving up to the side of the witness stand.

When Parrino asked for the name of any suspects, defense lawyers shouted objections and the judge sustained them.

Sheppard said "About a half a dozen were discussed, or I was questioned about, or that I gave information about."

Parrino asked if the witness introduced any names other than those the police asked him about."

He said, "Possibly four or five."

Clifton Avenue Proposed as New Route for Buses

Mayor Frederick H. Stang said today he had received proposals from persons interested in extension of bus service in the area of Colonial Gardens and the county infirmary that Clifton avenue, instead of East Chester street, be made part of the route.

Residents of the area have made the proposals, he said, suggesting that the change would be convenient to more residents of the area. The buses, instead of continuing over East Chester street from Hasbrouck avenue would go to Clifton avenue, and turn left at the infirmary toward Colonial Gardens.

THE ROUTE as proposed would also provide service on Foxhall avenue between Broadway and Downs street, as well as on Flatbush avenue, and the other streets in the areas of Colonial Gardens and the county infirmary.

The mayor said he is interested in whichever route provides the best service to the public

The proposal is subject to local action, a public hearing, and a final order by the State Public Service Commission.

Brother, Sister Reported Missing

Frank Ellsworth, 15, and his sister, Elsie, 17, have been missing from their home on the Whiteport road since Friday night, their mother, Mrs. Bell Ellsworth, reported to the sheriff's office.

Frank was described as five feet six inches tall, 140 pounds, with gray eyes and blond hair. His sister is five feet tall, weighs 130 pounds and has blond hair, according to the report.

A teletype message to Kingston police and state police said that the children may be in the company of Joseph P. Winter, 26, of 119 DeWitt street, also reported missing since Friday.

Enters Third Week

Newark, N. J., Dec. 6 (AP)—A recount of the U. S. Senate election entered its third week in five paper ballot counties today, with Republican Clifford P. Case's lead at 3,266 votes. Since the recheck got under way, Democrat Charles R. Howell has made a net gain of 104. So far 106 of the 635 voting districts in the five counties have been recounted. A recheck of Essex county's 557 districts was completed last week.

None Are Injured In Two-Car Mishap

No one was reported injured in a two-car collision on Route 32 about a mile south of Kingston at 10:45 a. m. today.

According to a sheriff's office report, an automobile driven by Oscar Sondak of Kerhonkson was damaged to its front end, bumper, hood and fender and an automobile driven by Mrs. Carol H. Downer of 55 Fair street received damage to its rear trunk and possible hidden damage.

Both vehicles were proceeding south on Route 32 and the accident occurred as Mrs. Downer was attempting to make a left turn into the Dr. Gilbert Hoppenstedt animal hospital, according to Deputy Sheriff Benjamin Newkirk.

Auto Action Is Settled in Court

A negligence action brought by William A. LeBeau of Newburgh against Abraham Levy of Saugerties for injuries suffered May 8, 1953 when the cars of the parties were involved in a collision on Robinson avenue and Plank road, Newburgh, was settled in Supreme court this morning. LeBeau was represented by N. LeVan Haver and Levy by Cashin and Ewig.

In the accident LeBeau suffered an injury to his spine which makes it necessary for him to wear a heavy brace.

Also settled was an action for breach of contract brought by Clifford L. Ross against Channel-Master Corporation of Ellenville. Sachret and Benson appeared for plaintiffs and Louis Berger and Abraham Streifer for defendents.

A negligence action brought by Theresa Hughes against Herman Osmers was announced settled on the call of the day calendar. Howard C. S. John for plaintiff and Cashin & Ewig for defendant.

THREE NEGLIGENCE actions brought against Jean Milano, defendant, also were announced settled. Plaintiffs were Roscoe Playford, represented by Napoletano, Kelly and Saccoman; Mary Bohan and Dorothy LaRocco, represented by Flanagan and Ortale. Defendant was represented by Cribari, Scapolito and Solinger.

A jury was taken in a negligence action brought by John Corelli of Cottekill road, Rosendale, against James G. Hewitt. The action arises out of a collision in Port Ewen Nov. 6, 1953, while plaintiff was en route to Kingston and the defendant was proceeding south to Poughkeepsie. Plaintiff seeks damages for injuries as well as for property damage. Richter and Werbalowsky appear for plaintiff and Andrew J. Cook, Jr., of Cook and Cook appears for the defendant.

Justice Roscoe V. Elsworth, presiding judge, announced no additions to the day calendar Tuesday but additions may be made Thursday.

Scelba Party Gains In Drive on Reds

Rome, Dec. 6 (AP) — Premier Mario Scelba's new offensive against communism moved ahead today with support from Italian center parties.

In a nine-hour session that lasted until early Sunday morning, the Scelba coalition cabinet agreed to knock subversives out of government jobs and to wipe out some of communism's prime financial backings.

Some of the proposals may have to be backed by new laws. But action already is beginning on many of the sharpest anti-Communist measures.

Foreign Commerce Minister Mario Martinelli has begun to cut the list of Communist-controlled firms holding monopolies on most of the trade beyond the Iron Curtain. Their profits have been one of the chief sources of funds for Italy's strong Communist party.

Named Head Coach

Pittsburgh, Dec. 6 (AP)—Johnny Michelosen, former coach of the National Football League Pittsburgh Steelers, today was named head football coach of the University of Pittsburgh.

Memorial Is Held For Departed Elks

Departed members of Kingston Lodge 550, BPO Elks, were eulogized at a well-attended memorial service held at the Elks home Sunday night.

Attorney Frank Campochiaro, journal clerk of the New York State Senate, delivered the main address, in which he called upon the members to pay tribute to the departed lodge brothers by rededicating themselves to the fraternity's ideals and aims "so that we may pass to those who come after a heritage worthy of the great brotherhood of which we are a part."

Noting that brotherhood is "one of the loftiest ideals to which this, and practically every other patriotic fraternal organization, is dedicated," Campochiaro said:

"It is not enough for us to just proclaim our belief in this great virtue, we must strive to practice it in our daily lives. If, in our own small group, we can substitute faith for fear, trust for suspicion, charity for greed, and, above all, love for hate, we will be making a real contribution toward the goal of better understanding . . .

"The good we do here may well bear fruit in places and among people we know not of, even as the seed we sow in our own garden will some day blossom forth into the harvest that will help feed the hungry throughout the world."

Speaking of the contributions of the departed members to the benevolent and protective works that constitute the framework of the order, the speaker declared, "As we gather here to pay homage to those, who while they still dwelt among us were our fraternal brothers, our neighbors and our friends, it is appropriate that we reaffirm our faith in the principles in which they and we have believed. We can pay no greater tribute to their memory than to hold high those lofty ideals and help bring to fruition those noble aims."

THOSE WHO were honored were: Michael S. Strawgate, Samuel Freis, James M. Murphy, Alexander Nunes, Marvin S. Rivenberg, Alick Mollott, Samuel Perlman, Fred Breitenstein, Martin G. Schantz, Russel Tenure, Andrew J. Murphy, Jr., John Spadora, William T. Roedell, Walter Misner, Milton Elmendorf, William J. Geary and John J. McCabe.

John L. Machione, exalted ruler, presided at the memorial service. Invocation and benediction was by the Rev. Robert T. Shellenberger.

The Mendelssohn Club rendered the following selections: Now Let Every Tongue Adore Thee, by Bach; Thanks Be to Thee, Handel; and The Long Day Closes, Sullivan.

A SACRED SESSION was conducted by officers of Kingston Lodge No. 550, and the closing ode, Auld Lang Syne, was sung by the lodge members and guests assembled.

Members of the memorial service committee were: Francis J. McCardle, PER, chairman; James Higley, PER; George D. Logan, PER; Dr. Harold Mandell, PER; Dr. Robert K. Ploss, PER; Walter Miller, PER, and Charles A. Ryan, PDD.

Will Release Ship, Men

United Nations, Dec. 6 (AP)—Egypt announced today she will release as soon as possible the Israeli vessel Bat Galim and its 10-man crew, seized Sept. 28 at the southern entrance to the Suez Canal. At the time the vessel was seized, Egyptian officials charged the crew with shooting up a fishing boat and killing three fishermen. In a letter to the president of the UN Security Council, Dr. Charles Malik of Lebanon, Egyptian delegate Omar Loutfi said today this charge was being withdrawn and the crew and vessel were being released. The letter was circulated as the UN Security Council prepared to meet tomorrow to take up the question.

Respects for Fielder

Montclair, N. J., Dec. 6 (AP)—Friends and relatives paid their final respects yesterday at funeral services for James F. Fielder, governor of New Jersey from 1913 to 1917. Fielder, who died Thursday at the age of 87, succeeded Woodrow Wilson as governor. From 1919 until his retirement in 1948, he was a vice chancellor of the Chancery Court.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Dec. 6 (AP)—The stock market continued its strong march ahead in the early afternoon today and scored new highs since the 1929 peaks.

It was the third straight advance for the market. Gains went to around 2 points generally with some stocks pushing out to around 4 points. Losses were small.

Trading was at the heaviest rate of the year near four million shares. Friday's total was 3,790,000, third highest of the year.

Good gains were found in steels, motors, rubbers, aircrafts, distillers, radio-televisions, utilities, chemicals, electrical equipments, railroads, oils, airlines, and many low-priced issues.

Boy Is Injured

Thomas Lent, 6, of 32 Van Deusen street, suffered abrasions of the right knee and forehead when he came in contact with a car as it pulled into a driveway at 62 Van Deusen street, shortly before noon today. Officers Thomas McGrane and Clarence Bilyou investigated after George W. Sherry, 78, of 62 Van Deusen street, reported the mishap. Sherry said he was unaware that the boy had made contact with the car, until a neighbor had picked him up in the driveway. He was to be treated by a doctor.

Property Damage Reported to Police

Police were notified Sunday of two instances of property damage.

Peter Mancuso reported at 2:16 p. m. that someone had thrown a rock through a picture window in his new house at Mary's avenue and West Chester street. It happened, he said, between 3 p. m., Saturday and 11 a. m., Sunday. The window was four by five feet, he said.

A report at 9:50 a. m., said the ticket office at Dietz Stadium had been entered. The door casing near a lock was damaged, but nothing was reported missing.

Adams Says Gifts Frowned Upon

New York, Dec. 6 (AP)—Police Commissioner Francis W. Adams has invited more than 50 leaders of business groups to meet with him today and he is expected to tell them the department frowns on Christmas gifts to policemen.

He reminded the policemen on Nov. 5 about "the lack of desirability of accepting Christmas gratuities" from persons they meet in the course of their duties.

Last December, George P. Monaghan, then police commissioner, made a similar appeal for cooperation from businessmen and warned policemen he would punish any Christmas "shakedown."

Lozano Takes

Trucks and jeeps patrolled city streets. A truck with machine-guns stood guard at the cordoned-off Congress building. No disorders had been reported up to a late hour.

President Juan Manuel Galvez, who was not a candidate for reelection in October, is in Miami, Fla. He left on Nov. 16 for medical treatment, leaving Lozano in charge as acting president, and has not announced whether he would return.

The opposition Liberal party —which came within 4,500 votes of the majority needed to get the presidency in the elections —accepted Lozan's authority.

Liberal candidate Ramon Valleda Moraes, high man in the presidential election, said his faction would join in the all-party coalition cabinet Lozano said he would form.

Villeda Moraes won 121,213 of the 251,295 votes cast in the election. Nationalist candidate Tidurcio Carias Andino received only 77,041 and reform candidate Abraham Williams 53,041.

Under the constitution, the congress was to choose a president between the two top candidates. The congress could not be formally constituted, however, because the minority Nationalist and Reformist factions boycotted it.

Lozano said he assumed office through the illness of his "old friend" President Galvez and would try to continue the "magnificent trajectory" of his government.

He stressed that a new constitution was badly needed, pointing out that it was through a "constitutional law" that he became absolute ruler.

Harriman Is on Tour

Gloversville, Dec. 6 (AP)—Gov.-elect Averell Harriman was due here today on the first leg of a one-day, see-for-himself swing through five upstate cities beset by unemployment ills. He was to follow in the footsteps of an economic survey team he sent out last week to—as he put it—"get a running start" toward a program to combat joblessness Two members of the three-man team — Richardson Wood and Philip Kaiser—accompanied him today. Also along was Isador Lubin, the Democratic governor-elect's choice to be industrial commissioner.

Democrats Attack GOP Program

New Orleans, Dec. 6 (AP) — A group of top Democratic leaders, including Gov.-Elect W. Averell Harriman of New York, have attacked "the discrimination in the Republican farm program which treats the dairy farmer as a whipping boy.'

In a signed statement, Harriman, Gov.-Elect Orville Freeman of Minnesota, Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan; Sen.-Elect Patrick McNamara of Michigan and a number of other top Democrats said the Eisenhower administration's farm program "is rapidly bringing industry to its knees."

The Democrats were in New Orleans to attend a national meeting.

The statement said the administration's present farm policy parallels "that of the 1920s when the 'do nothing' policy of the Republicans of that day permitted a farm recession to lead the worst depression the country has ever seen.

"The election results in farm precincts in Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan," the statement continued, "were a repudiation of the Republican farm program.

"We re-affirm our determination to use every influence at our command in favor of the adoption of a dairy program which recognizes the necessity of maintaining a strong and prosperous dairy industry as the basis for a stable economy."

New Party Chairman To Confer With HST

South Bend, Ind., Dec. 6 (AP) — Paul M. Butler, who takes over Jan. 1 as Democratic national chairman, said today he plans to arrange a conference with former President Harry S. Truman before he assumes office.

This apparently would be a move to avert factionalism in the party since there have been reports Truman did not favor Butler as chairman.

Butler said also he plans to go to Washington Friday to begin preparations for taking over the chairmanship. He said if there are any changes on the national committee staff, none will be made until after Feb. 1.

Reports Back Injury

Benjamin Steinmetz, 70, of Hinsdale street, reported a back injury after a car-bicycle mishap at Albany avenue and Pearl street, Saturday. Officers Thomas Tomshaw and Bernard Fowler reported at 11:30 a. m., that a sedan driven by Raymond Keator, 18 Manor Place, headed west on Albany avenue was turning into Clinton avenue, and Steinmetz, on a bicycle, was also turning into Clinton avenue, when the left handlebar of the bicycle came in contact with a door of the car. Steinmetz first indicated he was uninjured but later told the officers he suffered a back injury.

Husband Insists Wife Is Innocent

New York, Dec. 6 (AP)—A Bronx husband, refusing to believe police charges that his wife schemed to murder him, insists she is innocent and was actually the one whose death was plotted.

James Ricco, 40, told reporters yesterday he is making every effort to raise $50,000 bail for his wife, despite her telling him not to. He said he had gotten this message from her through a matron at the women's house of detention:

"Don't worry about me honey. Don't try to raise the bail. I'm sorry I caused so much trouble. I love you and the children very much."

Ricco's wife, Patricia, 30, was arrested Friday and charged with conspirring to murder him. Also accused of being a principal plotter was Miss Media Rainey, 25. Her sister, Mrs. Ann Sabella, 27, was arrested too because, police said, "she knew all about" the plot.

MRS. RICCO and Miss Rainey were each held in $50,000 bail while Mrs. Sabella's bail was fixed at $1,000. All three are charged with conspiracy to commit murder.

Police said the women had schemed with a taxi driver to set up a fake accident in which Ricco would be crushed against an elevated train pillar. They planned then to collect $3,000 in insurance and try to get $10,000 in a fake negligence suit against the taxi company, authorities said.

The taxi driver, Fred Bezer, 34, who reported the plot to police, was not arrested.

Stanley Friedman, an attorney hired by Ricco to defend his wife, remarked: "This unfortunate predicament stems from the fact that an unnatural person came into their lives and exerted an undue and baleful influence on the wife."

With his wife in jail, Ricco took their three small daughters to stay with his sister.

John J. Evers, Jr., Albany, executive vice-president of the New York State Automobile Dealers Association; Kenneth Fake, Cobleskill, legislative representative of the New York State Grange, and Wendell McBride, Troy, chairman of the Legislative Committee of the United Commercial Travelers of New York State, were elected to membership on the board of governors of the conference for terms of one year each.

Mohawk Valley's Need Is Seen as Industrial Spread

BY TONI ADAMS

Schenectady, Dec. 6 (AP)—Decorative Christmas lights seem brighter this year on the main streets of lower Mohawk River cities as an aroused citizenry moves to combat a difficult unemployment situation.

One idea looms largest in the heavily industrialized Schenectady - Amsterdam - Gloversville area. It's time to end dependence on the one or two industries around which individual communities have grown. It's time to diversify.

Figures are deceptive and elusive. Nobody knows exactly how many would-be workers are without jobs. State employment officials estimate, for example, that nearly 3,000 of a labor force of 24,800 in Amsterdam and surrounding Montgomery county lack employment.

Schenectady county, with roughly 142,500 residents as of the 1950 census, has thrived on electrical and locomotive industries that go back from 70 to 125 years.

MONTGOMERY COUNTY, centered in Amsterdam and having a population of 60,000, has relied largely for many years upon a 100-year-old carpet industry but also has leaned lately on Schenectady's big plants.

So, too, with Fulton county whose population of 50,000 grew around the leather tanning and glove industries but has become more and mode dependent upon work in Schenectady.

You can speed down the smooth concrete ribbons which are the new thruway, admire the bright Christmas lights and smoking stacks of these old Mohawk towns, and know exactly nothing of what's going on.

Or, you can walk into a coffee shop in Amsterdam at 9 a. m., sit quietly, and hear people gnawing at their big problem, employment. It starts with a complaint over paying a dime for a cup of coffee, advances into discussion of the merits and faults of unions and bosses, and concludes with talk about jobs.

JUST WHAT is the situation, anyhow?

A. W. Kecheley, manager of the state employment office in Amsterdam, who estimates 3,000 of 24,800 workers are unemployed, says that "within the last year, Amsterdam has faced a depression."

On the other hand, industrial spokesmen say "yes, business and employment are off their wartime peak, we are leveling off, people are being conservative, it's normal to have ups and downs."

Union adherents point scornfully at industry, contending that it is shifting to southern states where labor is cheaper.

But whatever the situation, Amsterdam citizens have united in an effort to create more employment. A fund of $300,000 has been raised to bring new industry to town, and house it properly when it arrives. The money came from many sources.

THE NURSES of St. Mary's Hospital chipped in $1,700. Mechanics and salesmen employed by one automobile dealer subscribed $1,500.

Since the advent of the automobile and mechanized snowplow, the residents of the Schenectady - Gloversville - Amsterdam area, with a population of about 254,000, have worked mainly in Amsterdam's carpet mills, Gloversville's Glove factories and tanneries, and the big plants of the American Locomotive Co. and General Electric, in Schenectady.

Each of these industries has curtailed employment in recent months as post-war business dropped.

However, industrial leaders are expressing optimism over the future. No substantial relief is expected in the next few months, but, for instance: -

AMERICAN LOCOMOTIVE sees 1955 as a brigher year with a "modest" increase in the locomotive business and strong hopes of other contracts in heavy metal products in connection with the St. Lawrence seaway. ALCO, whose wartime employment peak hit about 8,000, now employs 2,000 to 2,500.

General Electric's big installations drew 41,000 workers in a 50-mile radius at wartime peak production, A. C. Stevens, GE executive, says about 36,000 persons now are employed, that there has been a steady peacetime rise from about 14,000 in 1938, that current employment is higher than in any previous peacetime period and appears to be "pretty steady right now" and that the company is spending 80 million dollars in expansion and has no intention of "leaving town."

Herbert L. Shuttleworth, president of the Mohawk Carpet Mills in Amsterdam, said "we've no reason to pull out. We have many millions of dollars invested here. There is nothing abnormal in the carpet picture."

IN GLOVERSVILLE, James H. Casey, representing the National Assn. of Leather Glove manufacturers, said he was optimistic because a new washable leather was about ready for the market. But Mrs. Ann Kukla, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, said "people are scared that the glove industry is dying. Fear is everywhere."

However, in Gloversville and its sister city of Johnstown, citizens also have embraced the idea that industrial diversification is needed. The Fulton County Industrial Development Corporation has been organized by civic leaders.

A phonograph record company, a shoe factory, and a company manufacturing sanitary appliances recently have been influenced to locate in the area.

The lower Mohawk Valley wants to hold to what it has and grow stronger through diversified manufacturing.

Norwich Holstein Is All-Time Champion

With an average of 45 quarts of milk per day, a New York registered Holstein has become the all-time champion for cows milked twice daily, according to the Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

Hamaret Queen Prospector, owned by Archie Meek of Norwich, has a year's record of 35,565 pounds of milk and 1,319 pounds of butterfat. Six years, 11 months of age when the record began, she now has three consecutive records totalling 87,675 pounds of milk and 3,118.5 pounds of butterfat—more than four times as much as most cows produce in their lifetimes.

Numbers on Watches

At the beginning of the eighteenth century serial numbers were first engraved on watch cases. Today, every watch has a serial number. All watch owners, according to the Jewelry Industry Council, should keep a record of the serial number on his watch. This record will be invaluable if the watch is lost or stolen.

Husband Insists Wife Is Innocent

New York, Dec. 6 (AP)—A Bronx husband, refusing to believe police charges that his wife schemed to murder him, insists she is innocent and was actually the one whose death was plotted.

James Ricco, 40, told reporters yesterday he is making every effort to raise $50,000 bail for his wife, despite her telling him not to. He said he had gotten this message from her through a matron at the women's house of detention:

"Don't worry about me honey. Don't try to raise the bail. I'm sorry I caused so much trouble. I love you and the children very much."

Ricco's wife, Patricia, 30, was arrested Friday and charged with conspirring to murder him. Also accused of being a principal plotter was Miss Media Rainey, 25. Her sister, Mrs. Ann Sabella, 27, was arrested too because, police said, "she knew all about" the plot.

MRS. RICCO and Miss Rainey were each held in $50,000 bail while Mrs. Sabella's bail was fixed at $1,000. All three are charged with conspiracy to commit murder.

Police said the women had schemed with a taxi driver to set up a fake accident in which Ricco would be crushed against an elevated train pillar. They planned then to collect $3,000 in insurance and try to get $10,000 in a fake negligence suit against the taxi company, authorities said.

The taxi driver, Fred Bezer, 34, who reported the plot to police, was not arrested.

Stanley Friedman, an attorney hired by Ricco to defend his wife, remarked: "This unfortunate predicament stems from the fact that an unnatural person came into their lives and exerted an undue and baleful influence on the wife."

With his wife in jail, Ricco took their three small daughters to stay with his sister.

Heads Highways Users

Albany, Dec. 6—Fred H. Sexauer, of Auburn, a director and former president of the Dairymen's League Cooperative Association and widely known agricultural leader, was reelected as chairman of the New York State Highway Users Conference at the third annual meeting of the conference held at the DeWitt Clinton Hotel. John J. Evers, Jr., Albany, executive vice-president of the New York State Automobile Dealers Association; Kenneth Fake, Cobleskill, legislative representative of the New York State Grange, and Wendell McBride, Troy, chairman of the Legislative Committee of the United Commercial Travelers of New York State, were elected to membership on the board of governors of the conference for terms of one year each.

A Christmas Carol

By Charles Dickens

Awakened for the second time on Christmas Eve, flint-hearted Ebenezer Scrooge went looking for the source of the noise.

Well, Scrooge found another Ghost. And what a Ghost he was! "I am the Spirit of Christmas Present!" he roared merrily. "Come in and look upon me!"

The Ghost of Christmas Present took Scrooge into the street, where there was music—the music of people wishing each other "Merry Christmas!"

Mohawk Valley's Need Is Seen as Industrial Spread

BY TONI ADAMS

Schenectady, Dec. 6 (AP)—Decorative Christmas lights seem brighter this year on the main streets of lower Mohawk River cities as an aroused citizenry moves to combat a difficult unemployment situation.

One idea looms largest in the heavily industrialized Schenectady - Amsterdam - Gloversville area. It's time to end dependence on the one or two industries around which individual communities have grown. It's time to diversify.

Figures are deceptive and elusive. Nobody knows exactly how many would-be workers are without jobs. State employment officials estimate, for example, that nearly 3,000 of a labor force of 24,800 in Amsterdam and surrounding Montgomery county lack employment.

Schenectady county, with roughly 142,500 residents as of the 1950 census, has thrived on electrical and locomotive industries that go back from 70 to 125 years.

MONTGOMERY COUNTY, centered in Amsterdam and having a population of 60,000, has relied largely for many years upon a 100-year-old carpet industry but also has leaned lately on Schenectady's big plants.

So, too, with Fulton county whose population of 50,000 grew around the leather tanning and glove industries but has become more and mode dependent upon work in Schenectady.

You can speed down the smooth concrete ribbons which are the new thruway, admire the bright Christmas lights and smoking stacks of these old Mohawk towns, and know exactly nothing of what's going on.

Or, you can walk into a coffee shop in Amsterdam at 9 a. m., sit quietly, and hear people gnawing at their big problem, employment. It starts with a complaint over paying a dime for a cup of coffee, advances into discussion of the merits and faults of unions and bosses, and concludes with talk about jobs.

JUST WHAT is the situation, anyhow?

A. W. Kecheley, manager of the state employment office in Amsterdam, who estimates 3,000 of 24,800 workers are unemployed, says that "within the last year, Amsterdam has faced a depression."

On the other hand, industrial spokesmen say "yes, business and employment are off their wartime peak, we are leveling off, people are being conservative, it's normal to have ups and downs."

Union adherents point scornfully at industry, contending that it is shifting to southern states where labor is cheaper.

But whatever the situation, Amsterdam citizens have united in an effort to create more employment. A fund of $300,000 has been raised to bring new industry to town, and house it properly when it arrives. The money came from many sources.

THE NURSES of St. Mary's Hospital chipped in $1,700. Mechanics and salesmen employed by one automobile dealer subscribed $1,500.

Since the advent of the automobile and mechanized snowplow, the residents of the Schenectady - Gloversville - Amsterdam area, with a population of about 254,000, have worked mainly in Amsterdam's carpet mills, Gloversville's Glove factories and tanneries, and the big plants of the American Locomotive Co. and General Electric, in Schenectady.

Each of these industries has curtailed employment in recent months as post-war business dropped.

However, industrial leaders are expressing optimism over the future. No substantial relief is expected in the next few months, but, for instance:

AMERICAN LOCOMOTIVE sees 1955 as a brighter year with a "modest" increase in the locomotive business and strong hopes of other contracts in heavy metal products in connection with the St. Lawrence seaway. ALCO, whose wartime employment peak hit about 8,000, now employs 2,000 to 2,500.

General Electric's big installations drew 41,000 workers in a 50-mile radius at wartime peak production, A. C. Stevens, GE executive, says about 36,000 persons now are employed, that there has been a steady peacetime rise from about 14,000 in 1938, that current employment is higher than in any previous peacetime period and appears to be "pretty steady right now" and that the company is spending 80 million dollars in expansion and has no intention of "leaving town."

Herbert L. Shuttleworth, president of the Mohawk Carpet Mills in Amsterdam, said "we've no reason to pull out. We have many millions of dollars invested here. There is nothing abnormal in the carpet picture."

IN GLOVERSVILLE, James H. Casey, representing the National Assn. of Leather Glove manufacturers, said he was optimistic because a new washable leather was about ready for the market. But Mrs. Ann Kukla, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, said "people are scared that the glove industry is dying. Fear is everywhere."

However, in Gloversville and its sister city of Johnstown, citizens also have embraced the idea that industrial diversification is needed. The Fulton County Industrial Development Corporation has been organized by civic leaders.

A phonograph record company, a shoe factory, and a company manufacturing sanitary appliances recently have been influenced to locate in the area.

The lower Mohawk Valley wants to hold to what it has and grow stronger through diversified manufacturing.

Numbers on Watches

At the beginning of the eighteenth century serial numbers were first engraved on watch cases. Today, every watch has a serial number. All watch owners, according to the Jewelry Industry Council, should keep a record of the serial number on his watch. This record will be invaluable if the watch is lost or stolen.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, DECEMBER 6, 1954

THE CONDEMNATION VOTE

The overwhelming vote to condemn Senator McCarthy for unbecoming conduct is bound to have important consequences not alone for the senator himself but for the future of his party.

The act of condemnation does not deprive the senator of any of his normal powers of office. In the month before Democrats take control of the Senate, he will continue as chairman of the Senate Investigating Subcommittee, and will resume inquiry into subversive activities.

After early January, however, he will lose his chairmanship. But he will be the chief Republican member of the committee, still with all powers and privileges.

Nevertheless, it is the view of some observers that the Senate's sharp reaffirmation of certain basic rules of conduct will have the effect of curbing McCarthy's behavior within the Senate halls. There is a feeling he may endeavor to pursue more of his objectives outside the Senate, through speeches, cooperation with outside organizations, and the like.

Others recall, however, that McCarthy rose to his position of prominence in the years 1950 to 1952, when he was a minority senator. They feel he still will find means, within the Senate, to press his inquiries in much the same way as before.

In this connection, it can be noted that the counts of condemnation against him did not, in the end, go to his behavior as an investigator, but to his conduct when under investigation himself. The one count which assailed him for alleged abuse of a witness, General Zwicker, was dropped.

Of probably much larger significance is the meaning of the condemnation vote for the Republican Party. The GOP divided right down the middle, 22 to 22, of the last, overall tally. On one side were members of the right wing, joined by Senator Knowland, the present majority leader, and on the other the GOP moderates and liberals.

This cleavage appears to be sharp, and it raises serious question whether the Republican Party will be able to find in the coming two years the unity they will need to enter the 1956 presidential campaign.

If the unity is not attained, then party leaders may well look back to December, 1954, for the milestone which marked the beginning of the damaging split among GOP forces. Certainly no Republican today is underestimating the gravity of the conflict revealed so boldly in the Senate's action on McCarthy.

FATHER OF THE A-BOMB

Many men unquestionably will be called "father of the atomic bomb." That this is likely is the best proof that it was the work of no single man, but an astonishing collaborative effort.

Dr. Enrico Fermi, who died the other day at a premature 53, was one of the more remarkable of the collaborators. His part in the vital work that led to a nuclear explosion was, of course, tremendous. It was attested recently by Chairman Lewis Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission, which earlier had awarded Fermi a special $25,000 grant for his contribution.

Fermi found the scientific climate of his native Italy wholly uncongenial under the late Benito Mussolini, and, luckily for the democracies in World War II and after, came to America to place his prodigious talents at our service.

There were others who similarly sought refuge here and thus contributed to the massive accomplishment of the atomic bomb. But none was or could be more devoted or dedicated to his scientific cause than Dr. Enrico Fermi.

His early loss is a tragedy for us and for all free men who depend on the fruits of such brilliance as he brought to his work.

Government economy, to many congressmen, is something for the other fellow to practice, not for themselves. One good reason for the postal deficit is the immense amount of material mailed free under a congressman's frank.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

WHO KNOWS WHAT?

Mrs. Louise S. Frisch of Baltimore has sent me a copy of a letter which she addresed to Senator Arthur V. Watkins who has sprung to recent fame as the hard and strong man in the McCarthy controversy. The first paragraph of this letter amused me and it may you:

"When you (Senator Watkins) told me yesterday you have 'forgotten more about communism than Senator Jenner ever knew,' I thought perhaps you were responding to my inquiry self-defensively in a moment of irritation."

Perhaps the lady misquotes the Senator but it is amusing to accept her statement and go on from there.

I have no idea what either Senator Watkins or Senator Jenner knows about the canon of the Marxist Church which is the foundation of all Communist thought and action in all the world. I do know that Senator Jenner employes one of the truly significant authorities on this subject in this country, Benjamin Mandel, whose knowledge is so profound that many who regard themselves as experts consult him constantly. So, even if Senator Jenner is not a great expert, he has sense enough to employ one.

Granted that Senator Watkins has "forgotten more about communism" than Senator Jenner or anyone else ever knew, we shall have to take his word for it that he has forgotten the subject and let it go at that. No one can be blamed for forgetting.

It would be an interesting escapade to have a debate on the floor of the Senate between Senator Watkins and Senator Jenner or any other Senators who rattle the word "communism" in their throats as though it came out of their brains. It would be of advantage to the country to see exactly what they mean by this word. Encountering many Senators in the course of my business, I have discovered very few who can really define Marxism in terms which a Marxist can understand. Mostly they just don't like it, which may be as good as any definition. Few of them, for instance, can explain why a materialistic, pragmatic, atheistic concept of the cosmos should make converts so easily among the intellectuals of Europe and Asia.

A nice debate on the theory of communism would perhaps clarify the atmosphere. Maybe they would come out of it with some definitions. I recommend Earl Browder as the moderator, as he was for so many years the principal exponent of the doctrine in the United States. In fact, Browder was the most successful operator of the Marxist system until he was dismissed by Stalin as no longer of any value.

Perhaps it might be done in questionnaire form. The Senator might then answer a question or two of this order:

1. Why does a Hindu regard American materialism (high standard of living and all that) as not essentially different from the materialism of Marxism except in the apparatus of achievement?

2. Why is it that a Confucian does not find Marxism repugnant to his central doctrine?

3. What effect has the vast accumulation of data in the natural sciences, particularly in the fields of biology, astrophysics and nuclear physics, had upon the receptivity of Marxism by youth?

4. What is the fundamental difference between the "Natural Law" and "Dialectical Materialism" and why is it therefore impossible for one to be a Christian and a Communist at the same time?

5. Why is it essential for Communists, whenever they take over a country, to organize to combat all forms of mysticism, particularly when belief in mystical phenomena is organized in the form of a universal church?

Perhaps Senator Watkins, who says he has forgotten so much, could be diverted from a critique of Joe McCarthy to a critique of Karl Marx. It would be an interesting exercise in forensics and should be particularly appetizing to one who was once a Christian missionary.

On the problem of the strategy and tactics of the Soviet Universal State, it would be exciting to have a debate between Senator Watkins and Representative Walter Judd who is expert on this subject. Perhaps Senator Watkins has forgotten more than Walter Judd ever knew and that would require a whale of a forgetter, for Judd is not only a scholar but a man of wide personal experience. Judd might deliver his speech in Chinese which would save Watkins the necessity of trying to understand what was being said.

HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE IN OLDER WOMEN

There has been so much emphasis placed by the public in general on the dangers of high blood pressure that it is extremely encouraging to be able to present some very reassuring observations of a group of older women with high blood pressure who lived to extreme old ages in many cases and died of conditions other than the high blood pressure.

In Postgraduate Medicine, Dr. Howard Wakefield, Northwestern University Medical School, presents a brief summary of his experience with essential hypertension (natural high blood pressure) in women between the ages of 70 and 100 who have been residents of the Old People's Home of the City of Chicago during the past twenty years. During this twenty year period, accurate and detailed records on the course of the elevated blood pressure were kept on these women, most of whom lead very active lives for their age. They are encouraged to keep up all their old interests and activities in the community. They are not bedridden or sitting around in rocking chairs.

Women seem to be naturally stronger so far as life is concerned than men. They live longer and their life expectancy is greater than that of men. It is thought that they do a better job daily in the art of living than do men.

Study of the records of 500 of these older women showed that about three-quarters, 75 per cent, have natural high blood pressure at all times and that this pattern did not change as the women grow older. For example, if a woman of 70 entered the home with a blood pressure of 140/110, it was likely that this high blood pressure would continue through her 80's and 90's if she lived.

Dr. Wakefield states that they have many women whose high blood pressure has been going on for 30, 40, 50 and 60 years. Many women had been quite blood pressure conscious before coming to the Home and had tried all kinds of medical remedies — 300 different drugs in all — but it was found that no special treatment as far as drugs, diet or surgery are concerned, was necessary. "The only treatment we have used during the past twenty years in the management of this group of 500 older women is encouragement and reassurance on the part of the attending physician."

The blood pressure began to be high in many of these cases as early as the thirties and early forties, often about five to ten years before the menopause. As was expected, blood pressure readings during menopause were still higher.

Another hopeful observation was that very few of these older women with high blood pressure had any symptoms from it. All in all, the outlook for the older woman with high blood pressure is very good.

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington—(NEA)—The annoying yak-yak of Israeli and Arab propaganda exchanges in the United States reached a crescendo just before the U. E. elections in November.

There is a strong feeling among some leading Administration officials that Israeli officials and American Zionists went clear out of bounds in working for the election of Democratic candidates and the defeat of Republicans.

Their action was based on a belief that Democrats were more friendly to the Israeli cause than the GOP. It can be reported authoratively that this agitation did the Israeli cause no particular good in Washington.

The principal complaint of the Israel clique has been that the Eisenhower administration is now building up the strength of the Arab countries, while doing little or nothing for Israel.

ACTUALLY, ALMOST THE EXACT opposite is true. The total U. S. government aid to Israel is $340 million in round numbers. This includes $215 million of economic aid and Export-Import Bank loans of $135 million. In addition to this, United Jewish Appeal has collected over $400 million from Americans in bond sales and gifts which have been made exempt from U. S. taxes.

The total U. S. government aid to the Arab countries surrounding Israel is only a little over $100 million. The figures are Egypt $16 million, Jordan $9 million, Lebanon $7 million, Saudi Arabia $3 million plus an Export-Import bank loan of $49 million Iraq $5 million of economic aid plus the International Bank loan of under $13 million. Syria is not listed because this little country has refused offers of U. S. aid.

Also not included in the above figures are U. S. government appropriations of $150 million for relief of the Arab refugees from Israel. Of this sum, over $110 million has been spent to date. Private U. S. charities have also contributed over $8 million. United Nations have paid out $75 million for Arab relief.

IN SPITE OF THESE FACTS, the American Zionist Bulletin charges that "our government (meaning the U. S.) is actually subsidizing aggression, strife and social decay" in the Middle East.

The specific Zionist charges are that "The U. S. government is now actively sponsoring: 1—The establishment of a network of military alliances—all excluding Israel; 2—The provisions of economic aid AND ARMS to Arab states . . ."

The only basis for this charge is the fact that for the last several years, the U. S. has had what are known as "reimbursable military aid agreements" with Egypt, Lebanon and Saudia Arabia. This means that they can buy military equipment from the United States by paying cash on the barrelhead.

Unfortunately, the dollar amounts of this aid have not been given out for security reasons. But official assurances are given that the amount of this aid is small. Very little of it is for arms. Most of it is spare parts for vehicles and nonmilitary supplies for troops.

THE MAIN PURPOSE of this aid is to strengthen the forces of these countries so they can maintain internal order and a stable government. And in all disbursals, an eye is kept on maintaining balance of power—not on trying to start any new wars.

Incidentally, Britain, France and the United States have guaranteed Israel against Arab or any other aggression. No such reverse guarantees have been given to the Arab states.

The realities of the situation in the Middle East today are that Israel is far stronger, militarily and economically than the Arab states that surround her. There is no real unity in the Arab league. The countries in league all have so many internal problems that they couldn't launch a new aggression if they wanted to.

From the American point of view, the Mid-East situation is now far more stable than it was two years ago, when Secretary of State Dulles was greeted there with rotten egs. There is well-grounded hope that this stability will improve, if the two sides will refrain from trying to stir up their feud by creating new incidents artificially.

Eisenhower's Congratulation for Sen. Watkins Is Called His 'Costliest Blunder'

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Dec. 6 — President Eisenhower may have just committed the costliest blunder politically of his entire career and it could make much easier the task of the Democrats in winning the presidency in 1956.

At the very time when the harmonizing words of the party leader in the White House were needed to heal the wounds of the McCarthy-Flanders-Watkins fracas, the President poured salt on those same wounds. He has widened the breach. Prominent Republicans are privately expressing astonishment at the move.

Only a few days ago Mr. Eisenhower wisely told his press conference that the dispute about the so-called "censure" resolution was a Senate problem. But something happened after the vote was taken. Somebody arranged for the President to have a conference with Senator Watkins and a prepared statement was issued at the White House declaring that Mr. Eisenhower had congratulated the Utah senator "on the very splendid job he did as chairman of the special committee." Opinions differ among lawyers as to the job done because Senator Watkins refused to permit defense counsel to make an oral argument on the precedents involved in similar cases.

There wasn't any crying need for such a statement by Mr. Eisenhower and in politics it is a good rule never to do the superfluous. But among the President's advisers evidently there is a belief that a split Republican party is a help to him in getting Democratic votes and that somehow the dissenting senators on the Republican side do not represent any sizable group of citizens in the country. The latest Gallup poll, however, published only last week, shows that inside the Republican party four-fifths of those interviewed had formed an opinion and of these 56.7 per cent were against censure and 43.3 per cent were in favor of the move.

Clearly such a division in a major political party is a serious thing. In the final vote on the resolution to "condemn" Senator McCarthy there were 24 Republicans against it and 22 Republicans in favor of it. Both Senators Capehart and Bricker were absent but "paired" against the resolution and these two added to the 22 Republican votes opposed to censure plus Senator McCarthy's own vote gives a lineup of 25 Republicans on his side as compared with 22 on the other side or possibly 23 if Senator Wiley of Wisconsin is added. He wasn't present and said in advance he didn't wish to be recorded as voting either way.

This is far from a healthy situation and it was bad enough before the President stepped in with his congratulatory statement to Senator Watkins. Actually the Senate as a whole rejected a good deal of the Watkins committee report. It eliminated, for instance, all reference to General Zwicker or the subject of handling witnesses or congressional investigations, and it took out the word "censure" in reference to the Winsconsin senator's "failure to cooperate with" a 1952 committee. In the final resolution the second part was taken entirely from the resolution offered by Senator Bennett of Utah, Republican. None of this was contained in the Watkins report but was a last-minute condemnation without a hearing to establish the precedents. It was, indeed, an example of what Senator McCarthy meant by the term "lynching bee."

But it is on the political front that President Eisenhower's deliberate effort to line himself up with a minority of the Republicans in the Senate will have far-reaching repercussions. In the first place there has been for months a widespread feeling among many Republicans throughout the country that the President and members of his immediate staff were to no small extent responsible for initiating the Stevens-Cohn-Schine episode and for later encouraging the Flanders motion to censure. This has been repeatedly denied by devoted supporters of Mr. Eisenhower, even by some who were on the pro-McCarthy side.

Now, however, with the President's congratulations to Senator Watkins in the form of a prepared statement and a planned conference with the senator himself it will be difficult to erase the impression that Mr. Eisenhower has all along taken sides in what a few days ago he was content to call a Senate problem.

Instead of putting a quietus on the McCarthy controversy, the President by his statement has added fuel to the flames as has also the failure of the Senate to wait for a report from a special committee which found that the name of Senator Hennings of Missouri, chairman, had been signed without his knowledge or consent on a committee letter asking the postal authorities to put a "mail cover" on the mail of Senator McCarthy and his family. This is something usually put on to catch fugitives from justice convicted of crime. There was a loud clamor last summer about a "faked" photograph and a "phony" letter when an excerpt from an FBI report was "offered" but not included as evidence in the Stevens-Cohn hearings. Now the Senate itself has adjourned without even waiting to hear the facts on a real "forgery."

So it all depends on whose ox is gored—and the millions of Americans who do not like to see singled out for rebuke only those who are fighting communism will not forget what Senator McCarthy was "condemned" by a solid vote of the Democrats and by a minority of the Republicans for refusing to "cooperate" with the very committee which now is charged with having resorted to an illegal act during the course of its investigation of the Wisconsin senator in a preceding Congress.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Some of Joe McCarthy's enemies and some of his adherents, too, are talking up the idea that a third party will take the field in 1956 with the obvious purpose of thwarting Eisenhower and his off-Republican element and the Fabian Democrats. Regular Democrats will be offended by reference to their party as a Fabian party, but if they know what Fabianism is, and look at their party's record, they will have to admit, to themselves, at least, that it is a socialistic party. Fabianism is socialism with intent to commit communism. You can't stop at socialism. You have to go on to communism or do something just as bad. Italy and Germany resorted to fascism as the alternative.

However, my purpose today is not to argue about Fabianism but to inform you that, at present, the pro-McCarthy forces in the Republican party have no thought of quitting and starting another, although some stout individuals, such as Richard Lloyd Jones, of the Tulsa Tribune, have put that idea forward with great force and some persuasion.

At present, the intention of the pro-McCarthy element in the Senate is to control the next convention of the Republican party and to pick the candidates for president and vice president. The nucleus of this force will be, with some exceptions and variations, those who opposed the censure of McCarthy. Allowing for such uncertainties, the group will include Senators Knowland, of California, who seems to have outmuscled cheesecake Warren, now that Warren is pensioned off as chief justice; Dirksen, of Illinois, a formidable fellow who has been growing beyond the confines of his own state; Mundt, of South Dakota, another growing man who might be nominated for vice president; Jenner and, probably, Capehart, of Indiana; Welker and Dworshak, of Idaho; Bridges, of New Hampshire; Molly Malone, of Nevada; Barry Goldwater, of Arizona, and possibly Case, of South Dakota. Senator Goldwater's personal popularity and his demonstration of ability have been a phenomenon in Washington. If he lived in New York or California he would be a priceless asset to the party.

Of course, Welker, Dworshak, Malone and Goldwater will have no delegates to speak of and their support will be moral rather than substantial. But these are stout men. Welker, like Jenner, has been outdone in the matter of publicity by McCarthy but with no selfish intent on McCarthy's part and they bear no resentment. Both sides now recognize the fact that McCarthy has personified the issues which will inspire their platform.

Ike's effort to discard communism as an issue has failed. Both Welker and Jenner have done just as much as McCarthy in the expose of treachery in the government. Senate publications giving testimony and appraisals called reports, which they have contributed to the cause, now rival the small library produced by the House Committee on Un-American Activities. They have worked hard and produced much more proof of perfidy than the country realizes. This condition is due in part to the clamor against and for McCarthy and in part to silent treatment in the public "communications," press and radio.

In the press, two factors operate. First, spot news and current appraisal of news is a task which requires about as much manpower and space as most papers can afford. Second, however, there is a stubborn reluctance among reporters and executives in Washington and in many individual shops to admit that there is any basis whatever for McCarthy's campaign. Having damned McCarthy as a demagogue and fourflusher, an individual or a Republican finds it painful and difficult to admit that the conditions which he complains of have been verified by other senators. Radio, of course, has no ethics, conscience or responsibility.

Knowland for President and Mundt for vice president are one combination which has been discussed seriously among the men who are now convinced that Eisenhower is not only another Willkie but a lazy fellow who thinks he is doing the country a favor. His golf and his trouting have offended men who have to work seven days a week and far into the night. Of course, Roosevelt acted the part of emperor, but he reigned in a period of popular madness and delusion and, moreover, all hands were loath to criticize lest his infirmity be pleaded.

Another combination available in this group is either Dirksen or Knowland for president and one or the other for vice president. Mundt is still available in all cases for vice president, although, at this writing, the superstition against presidential candidates from states of small population still forbids. He is a good man, though.

It is too early to speculate about New York, but the leadership which inflamed to hatred most of the conservative Republican voters took a terrible lacing in the state election. Dewey manipulated Ives with passing skill but certainly without genius in that campaign and the result seemed to show that his success as a kingmaker with Eisenhower was due more to a popular desire for a "change" in management and that "boyish"' smile than to political wizardry.

This certainly is not a third-party movement.

It is a conservative Republican movement which may get important help from Eisenhower himself. He has angered too many conservative Republicans to expect renomination. Reports that he would not ask a second term, which began soon after his inauguration, have a basis in reason if not in actual fact.

THE CONDEMNATION VOTE

The overwhelming vote to condemn Senator McCarthy for unbecoming conduct is bound to have important consequences not alone for the senator himself but for the future of his party.

The act of condemnation does not deprive the senator of any of his normal powers of office. In the month before Democrats take control of the Senate, he will continue as chairman of the Senate Investigating Subcommittee, and will resume inquiry into subversive activities.

After early January, however, he will lose his chairmanship. But he will be the chief Republican member of the committee, still with all powers and privileges.

Nevertheless, it is the view of some observers that the Senate's sharp reaffirmation of certain basic rules of conduct will have the effect of curbing McCarthy's behavior within the Senate halls. There is a feeling he may endeavor to pursue more of his objectives outside the Senate, through speeches, cooperation with outside organizations, and the like.

Others recall, however, that McCarthy rose to his position of prominence in the years 1950 to 1952, when he was a minority senator. They feel he still will find means, within the Senate, to press his inquiries in much the same way as before.

In this connection, it can be noted that the counts of condemnation against him did not, in the end, go to his behavior as an investigator, but to his conduct when under investigation himself. The one count which assailed him for alleged abuse of a witness, General Zwicker, was dropped.

Of probably much larger significance is the meaning of the condemnation vote for the Republican Party. The GOP divided right down the middle, 22 to 22, of the last, overall tally. On one side were members of the right wing, joined by Senator Knowland, the present majority leader, and on the other the GOP moderates and liberals.

This cleavage appears to be sharp, and it raises serious question whether the Republican Party will be able to find in the coming two years the unity they will need to enter the 1956 presidential campaign.

If the unity is not attained, then party leaders may well look back to December, 1954, for the milestone which marked the beginning of the damaging split among GOP forces. Certainly no Republican today is underestimating the gravity of the conflict revealed so boldly in the Senate's action on McCarthy.

FATHER OF THE A-BOMB

Many men unquestionably will be called "father of the atomic bomb." That this is likely is the best proof that it was the work of no single man, but an astonishing collaborative effort.

Dr. Enrico Fermi, who died the other day at a premature 53, was one of the more remarkable of the collaborators. His part in the vital work that led to a nuclear explosion was, of course, tremendous. It was attested recently by Chairman Lewis Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission, which earlier had awarded Fermi a special $25,000 grant for his contribution.

Fermi found the scientific climate of his native Italy wholly uncongenial under the late Benito Mussolini, and, luckily for the democracies in World War II and after, came to America to place his prodigious talents at our service.

There were others who similarly sought refuge here and thus contributed to the massive accomplishment of the atomic bomb. But none was or could be more devoted or dedicated to his scientific cause than Dr. Enrico Fermi.

His early loss is a tragedy for us and for all free men who depend on the fruits of such brilliance as he brought to his work.

Government economy, to many congressmen, is something for the other fellow to practice, not for themselves. One good reason for the postal deficit is the immense amount of material mailed free under a congressman's frank.

'These Days'

WHO KNOWS WHAT?

Mrs. Louise S. Frisch of Baltimore has sent me a copy of a letter which she addresed to Senator Arthur V. Watkins who has sprung to recent fame as the hard and strong man in the McCarthy controversy. The first paragraph of this letter amused me and it may you:

"When you (Senator Watkins) told me yesterday you have 'forgotten more about communism than Senator Jenner ever knew,' I thought perhaps you were responding to my inquiry self-defensively in a moment of irritation."

Perhaps the lady misquotes the Senator but it is amusing to accept her statement and go on from there.

I have no idea what either Senator Watkins or Senator Jenner knows about the canon of the Marxist Church which is the foundation of all Communist thought and action in all the world. I do know that Senator Jenner employes one of the truly significant authorities on this subject in this country, Benjamin Mandel, whose knowledge is so profound that many who regard themselves as experts consult him constantly. So, even if Senator Jenner is not a great expert, he has sense enough to employ one.

Granted that Senator Watkins has "forgotten more about communism" than Senator Jenner or anyone else ever knew, we shall have to take his word for it that he has forgotten the subject and let it go at that. No one can be blamed for forgetting.

It would be an interesting escapade to have a debate on the floor of the Senate between Senator Watkins and Senator Jenner or any other Senators who rattle the word "communism" in their throats as though it came out of their brains. It would be of advantage to the country to see exactly what they mean by this word. Encountering many Senators in the course of my business, I have discovered very few who can really define Marxism in terms which a Marxist can understand. Mostly they just don't like it, which may be as good as any definition. Few of them, for instance, can explain why a materialistic, pragmatic, atheistic concept of the cosmos should make converts so easily among the intellectuals of Europe and Asia.

A nice debate on the theory of communism would perhaps clarify the atmosphere. Maybe they would come out of it with some definitions. I recommend Earl Browder as the moderator, as he was for so many years the principal exponent of the doctrine in the United States. In fact, Browder was the most successful operator of the Marxist system until he was dismissed by Stalin as no longer of any value.

Perhaps it might be done in questionnaire form. The Senator might then answer a question or two of this order:

1. Why does a Hindu regard American materialism (high standard of living and all that) as not essentially different from the materialism of Marxism except in the apparatus of achievement?

2. Why is it that a Confucian does not find Marxism repugnant to his central doctrine?

3. What effect has the vast accumulation of data in the natural sciences, particularly in the fields of biology, astrophysics and nuclear physics, had upon the receptivity of Marxism by youth?

4. What is the fundamental difference between the "Natural Law" and "Dialectical Materialism" and why is it therefore impossible for one to be a Christian and a Communist at the same time?

5. Why is it essential for Communists, whenever they take over a country, to organize to combat all forms of mysticism, particularly when belief in mystical phenomena is organized in the form of a universal church?

Perhaps Senator Watkins, who says he has forgotten so much, could be diverted from a critique of Joe McCarthy to a critique of Karl Marx. It would be an interesting exercise in forensics and should be particularly appetizing to one who was once a Christian missionary.

On the problem of the strategy and tactics of the Soviet Universal State, it would be exciting to have a debate between Senator Watkins and Representative Walter Judd who is expert on this subject. Perhaps Senator Watkins has forgotten more than Walter Judd ever knew and that would require a whale of a forgetter, for Judd is not only a scholar but a man of wide personal experience. Judd might deliver his speech in Chinese which would save Watkins the necessity of trying to understand what was being said.

Unfortunately, the dollar amounts of this aid have not been given out for security reasons. But official assurances are given that the amount of this aid is small. Very little of it is for arms. Most of it is spare parts for vehicles and nonmilitary supplies for troops.

THE MAIN PURPOSE of this aid is to strengthen the forces of these countries so they can maintain internal order and a stable government. And in all disbursals, an eye is kept on maintaining balance of power—not on trying to start any new wars.

Incidentally, Britain, France and the United States have guaranteed Israel against Arab or any other aggression. No such reverse guarantees have been given to the Arab states.

The realities of the situation in the Middle East today are that Israel is far stronger, militarily and economically than the Arab states that surround her. There is no real unity in the Arab league. The countries in league all have so many internal problems that they couldn't launch a new aggression if they wanted to.

From the American point of view, the Mid-East situation is now far more stable than it was two years ago, when Secretary of State Dulles was greeted there with rotten egs. There is well-grounded hope that this stability will improve, if the two sides will refrain from trying to stir up their feud by creating new incidents artificially.

Eisenhower's Congratulation for Sen. Watkins Is Called His 'Costliest Blunder'

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Dec. 6 — President Eisenhower may have just committed the costliest blunder politically of his entire career and it could make much easier the task of the Democrats in winning the presidency in 1956.

At the very time when the harmonizing words of the party leader in the White House were needed to heal the wounds of the McCarthy-Flanders-Watkins fracas, the President poured salt on those same wounds. He has widened the breach. Prominent Republicans are privately expressing astonishment at the move.

Only a few days ago Mr. Eisenhower wisely told his press conference that the dispute about the so-called "censure" resolution was a Senate problem. But something happened after the vote was taken. Somebody arranged for the President to have a conference with Senator Watkins and a prepared statement was issued at the White House declaring that Mr. Eisenhower had congratulated the Utah senator "on the very splendid job he did as chairman of the special committee." Opinions differ among lawyers as to the job done because Senator Watkins refused to permit defense counsel to make an oral argument on the precedents involved in similar cases.

There wasn't any crying need for such a statement by Mr. Eisenhower and in politics it is a good rule never to do the superfluous. But among the President's advisers evidently there is a belief that a split Republican party is a help to him in getting Democratic votes and that somehow the dissenting senators on the Republican side do not represent any sizable group of citizens in the country. The latest Gallup poll, however, published only last week, shows that inside the Republican party four-fifths of those interviewed had formed an opinion and of these 56.7 per cent were against censure and 43.3 per cent were in favor of the move.

Clearly such a division in a major political party is a serious thing. In the final vote on the resolution to "condemn" Senator McCarthy there were 24 Republicans against it and 22 Republicans in favor of it. Both Senators Capehart and Bricker were absent but "paired" against the resolution and these two added to the 22 Republican votes opposed to censure plus Senator McCarthy's own vote gives a lineup of 25 Republicans on his side as compared with 22 on the other side or possibly 23 if Senator Wiley of Wisconsin is added. He wasn't present and said in advance he didn't wish to be recorded as voting either way.

This is far from a healthy situation and it was bad enough before the President stepped in with his congratulatory statement to Senator Watkins. Actually the Senate as a whole rejected a good deal of the Watkins committee report. It eliminated, for instance, all reference to General Zwicker or the subject of handling witnesses or congressional investigations, and it took out the word "censure" in reference to the Winsconsin senator's "failure to cooperate with" a 1952 committee. In the final resolution the second part was taken entirely from the resolution offered by Senator Bennett of Utah, Republican. None of this was contained in the Watkins report but was a last-minute condemnation without a hearing to establish the precedents. It was, indeed, an example of what Senator McCarthy meant by the term "lynching bee."

But it is on the political front that President Eisenhower's deliberate effort to line himself up with a minority of the Republicans in the Senate will have far-reaching repercussions. In the first place there has been for months a widespread feeling among many Republicans throughout the country that the President and members of his immediate staff were to no small extent responsible for initiating the Stevens-Cohn-Schine episode and for later encouraging the Flanders motion to censure. This has been repeatedly denied by devoted supporters of Mr. Eisenhower, even by some who were on the pro-McCarthy side.

Now, however, with the President's congratulations to Senator Watkins in the form of a prepared statement and a planned conference with the senator himself it will be difficult to erase the impression that Mr. Eisenhower has all along taken sides in what a few days ago he was content to call a Senate problem.

Instead of putting a quietus on the McCarthy controversy, the President by his statement has added fuel to the flames as has also the failure of the Senate to wait for a report from a special committee which found that the name of Senator Hennings of Missouri, chairman, had been signed without his knowledge or consent on a committee letter asking the postal authorities to put a "mail cover" on the mail of Senator McCarthy and his family. This is something usually put on to catch fugitives from justice convicted of crime. There was a loud clamor last summer about a "faked" photograph and a "phony" letter when an excerpt from an FBI report was "offered" but not included as evidence in the Stevens-Cohn hearings. Now the Senate itself has adjourned without even waiting to hear the facts on a real "forgery."

So it all depends on whose ox is gored—and the millions of Americans who do not like to see singled out for rebuke only those who are fighting communism will not forget what Senator McCarthy was "condemned" by a solid vote of the Democrats and by a minority of the Republicans for refusing to "cooperate" with the very committee which now is charged with having resorted to an illegal act during the course of its investigation of the Wisconsin senator in a preceding Congress.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Some of Joe McCarthy's enemies and some of his adherents, too, are talking up the idea that a third party will take the field in 1956 with the obvious purpose of thwarting Eisenhower and his off-Republican element and the Fabian Democrats. Regular Democrats will be offended by reference to their party as a Fabian party, but if they know what Fabianism is, and look at their party's record, they will have to admit, to themselves, at least, that it is a socialistic party. Fabianism is socialism with intent to commit communism. You can't stop at socialism. You have to go on to communism or do something just as bad. Italy and Germany resorted to fascism as the alternative.

However, my purpose today is not to argue about Fabianism but to inform you that, at present, the pro-McCarthy forces in the Republican party have no thought of quitting and starting another, although some stout individuals, such as Richard Lloyd Jones, of the Tulsa Tribune, have put that idea forward with great force and some persuasion.

At present, the intention of the pro-McCarthy element in the Senate is to control the next convention of the Republican party and to pick the candidates for president and vice president. The nucleus of this force will be, with some exceptions and variations, those who opposed the censure of McCarthy. Allowing for such uncertainties, the group will include Senators Knowland, of California, who seems to have outmuscled cheesecake Warren, now that Warren is pensioned off as chief justice; Dirksen, of Illinois, a formidable fellow who has been growing beyond the confines of his own state; Mundt, of South Dakota, another growing man who might be nominated for vice president; Jenner and, probably, Capehart, of Indiana; Welker and Dworshak, of Idaho; Bridges, of New Hampshire; Molly Malone, of Nevada; Barry Goldwater, of Arizona, and possibly Case, of South Dakota. Senator Goldwater's personal popularity and his demonstration of ability have been a phenomenon in Washington. If he lived in New York or California he would be a priceless asset to the party.

Of course, Welker, Dworshak, Malone and Goldwater will have no delegates to speak of and their support will be moral rather than substantial. But these are stout men. Welker, like Jenner, has been outdone in the matter of publicity by McCarthy but with no selfish intent on McCarthy's part and they bear no resentment. Both sides now recognize the fact that McCarthy has personified the issues which will inspire their platform.

Ike's effort to discard communism as an issue has failed. Both Welker and Jenner have done just as much as McCarthy in the expose of treachery in the government. Senate publications giving testimony and appraisals called reports, which they have contributed to the cause, now rival the small library produced by the House Committee on Un-American Activities. They have worked hard and produced much more proof of perfidy than the country realizes. This condition is due in part to the clamor against and for McCarthy and in part to silent treatment in the public "communications," press and radio.

In the press, two factors operate. First, spot news and current appraisal of news is a task which requires about as much manpower and space as most papers can afford. Second, however, there is a stubborn reluctance among reporters and executives in Washington and in many individual shops to admit that there is any basis whatever for McCarthy's campaign. Having damned McCarthy as a demagogue and fourflusher, an individual or a Republican finds it painful and difficult to admit that the conditions which he complains of have been verified by other senators. Radio, of course, has no ethics, conscience or responsibility.

Knowland for President and Mundt for vice president are one combination which has been discussed seriously among the men who are now convinced that Eisenhower is not only another Willkie but a lazy fellow who thinks he is doing the country a favor. His golf and his trouting have offended men who have to work seven days a week and far into the night. Of course, Roosevelt acted the part of emperor, but he reigned in a period of popular madness and delusion and, moreover, all hands were loath to criticize lest his infirmity be pleaded.

Another combination available in this group is either Dirksen or Knowland for president and one or the other for vice president. Mundt is still available in all cases for vice president, although, at this writing, the superstition against presidential candidates from states of small population still forbids. He is a good man, though.

It is too early to speculate about New York, but the leadership which inflamed to hatred most of the conservative Republican voters took a terrible lacing in the state election. Dewey manipulated Ives with passing skill but certainly without genius in that campaign and the result seemed to show that his success as a kingmaker with Eisenhower was due more to a popular desire for a "change" in management and that "boyish"' smile than to political wizardry.

This certainly is not a third-party movement.

It is a conservative Republican movement which may get important help from Eisenhower himself. He has angered too many conservative Republicans to expect renomination. Reports that he would not ask a second term, which began soon after his inauguration, have a basis in reason if not in actual fact.

THE CONDEMNATION VOTE

The overwhelming vote to condemn Senator McCarthy for unbecoming conduct is bound to have important consequences not alone for the senator himself but for the future of his party.

The act of condemnation does not deprive the senator of any of his normal powers of office. In the month before Democrats take control of the Senate, he will continue as chairman of the Senate Investigating Subcommittee, and will resume inquiry into subversive activities.

After early January, however, he will lose his chairmanship. But he will be the chief Republican member of the committee, still with all powers and privileges.

Nevertheless, it is the view of some observers that the Senate's sharp reaffirmation of certain basic rules of conduct will have the effect of curbing McCarthy's behavior within the Senate halls. There is a feeling he may endeavor to pursue more of his objectives outside the Senate, through speeches, cooperation with outside organizations, and the like.

Others recall, however, that McCarthy rose to his position of prominence in the years 1950 to 1952, when he was a minority senator. They feel he still will find means, within the Senate, to press his inquiries in much the same way as before.

In this connection, it can be noted that the counts of condemnation against him did not, in the end, go to his behavior as an investigator, but to his conduct when under investigation himself. The one count which assailed him for alleged abuse of a witness, General Zwicker, was dropped.

Of probably much larger significance is the meaning of the condemnation vote for the Republican Party. The GOP divided right down the middle, 22 to 22, of the last, overall tally. On one side were members of the right wing, joined by Senator Knowland, the present majority leader, and on the other the GOP moderates and liberals.

This cleavage appears to be sharp, and it raises serious question whether the Republican Party will be able to find in the coming two years the unity they will need to enter the 1956 presidential campaign.

If the unity is not attained, then party leaders may well look back to December, 1954, for the milestone which marked the beginning of the damaging split among GOP forces. Certainly no Republican today is underestimating the gravity of the conflict revealed so boldly in the Senate's action on McCarthy.

FATHER OF THE A-BOMB

Many men unquestionably will be called "father of the atomic bomb." That this is likely is the best proof that it was the work of no single man, but an astonishing collaborative effort.

Dr. Enrico Fermi, who died the other day at a premature 53, was one of the more remarkable of the collaborators. His part in the vital work that led to a nuclear explosion was, of course, tremendous. It was attested recently by Chairman Lewis Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission, which earlier had awarded Fermi a special $25,000 grant for his contribution.

Fermi found the scientific climate of his native Italy wholly uncongenial under the late Benito Mussolini, and, luckily for the democracies in World War II and after, came to America to place his prodigious talents at our service.

There were others who similarly sought refuge here and thus contributed to the massive accomplishment of the atomic bomb. But none was or could be more devoted or dedicated to his scientific cause than Dr. Enrico Fermi.

His early loss is a tragedy for us and for all free men who depend on the fruits of such brilliance as he brought to his work.

Government economy, to many congressmen, is something for the other fellow to practice, not for themselves. One good reason for the postal deficit is the immense amount of material mailed free under a congressman's frank.

'These Days'

WHO KNOWS WHAT?

Mrs. Louise S. Frisch of Baltimore has sent me a copy of a letter which she addresed to Senator Arthur V. Watkins who has sprung to recent fame as the hard and strong man in the McCarthy controversy. The first paragraph of this letter amused me and it may you:

"When you (Senator Watkins) told me yesterday you have 'forgotten more about communism than Senator Jenner ever knew,' I thought perhaps you were responding to my inquiry self-defensively in a moment of irritation."

Perhaps the lady misquotes the Senator but it is amusing to accept her statement and go on from there.

I have no idea what either Senator Watkins or Senator Jenner knows about the canon of the Marxist Church which is the foundation of all Communist thought and action in all the world. I do know that Senator Jenner employes one of the truly significant authorities on this subject in this country, Benjamin Mandel, whose knowledge is so profound that many who regard themselves as experts consult him constantly. So, even if Senator Jenner is not a great expert, he has sense enough to employ one.

Granted that Senator Watkins has "forgotten more about communism" than Senator Jenner or anyone else ever knew, we shall have to take his word for it that he has forgotten the subject and let it go at that. No one can be blamed for forgetting.

It would be an interesting escapade to have a debate on the floor of the Senate between Senator Watkins and Senator Jenner or any other Senators who rattle the word "communism" in their throats as though it came out of their brains. It would be of advantage to the country to see exactly what they mean by this word. Encountering many Senators in the course of my business, I have discovered very few who can really define Marxism in terms which a Marxist can understand. Mostly they just don't like it, which may be as good as any definition. Few of them, for instance, can explain why a materialistic, pragmatic, atheistic concept of the cosmos should make converts so easily among the intellectuals of Europe and Asia.

A nice debate on the theory of communism would perhaps clarify the atmosphere. Maybe they would come out of it with some definitions. I recommend Earl Browder as the moderator, as he was for so many years the principal exponent of the doctrine in the United States. In fact, Browder was the most successful operator of the Marxist system until he was dismissed by Stalin as no longer of any value.

Perhaps it might be done in questionnaire form. The Senator might then answer a question or two of this order:

1. Why does a Hindu regard American materialism (high standard of living and all that) as not essentially different from the materialism of Marxism except in the apparatus of achievement?
2. Why is it that a Confucian does not find Marxism repugnant to his central doctrine?
3. What effect has the vast accumulation of data in the natural sciences, particularly in the fields of biology, astrophysics and nuclear physics, had upon the receptivity of Marxism by youth?
4. What is the fundamental difference between the "Natural Law" and "Dialectical Materialism" and why is it therefore impossible for one to be a Christian and a Communist at the same time?
5. Why is it essential for Communists, whenever they take over a country, to organize to combat all forms of mysticism, particularly when belief in mystical phenomena is organized in the form of a universal church?

Perhaps Senator Watkins, who says he has forgotten so much, could be diverted from a critique of Joe McCarthy to a critique of Karl Marx. It would be an interesting exercise in forensics and should be particularly appetizing to one who was once a Christian missionary.

On the problem of the strategy and tactics of the Soviet Universal State, it would be exciting to have a debate between Senator Watkins and Representative Walter Judd who is expert on this subject. Perhaps Senator Watkins has forgotten more than Walter Judd ever knew and that would require a whale of a forgetter, for Judd is not only a scholar but a man of wide personal experience. Judd might deliver his speech in Chinese which would save Watkins the necessity of trying to understand what was being said.

That Body of Yours

HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE IN OLDER WOMEN

There has been so much emphasis placed by the public in general on the dangers of high blood pressure that it is extremely encouraging to be able to present some very reassuring observations of a group of older women with high blood pressure who lived to extreme old ages in many cases and died of conditions other than the high blood pressure.

In Postgraduate Medicine, Dr. Howard Wakefield, Northwestern University Medical School, presents a brief summary of his experience with essential hypertension (natural high blood pressure) in women between the ages of 70 and 100 who have been residents of the Old People's Home of the City of Chicago during the past twenty years. During this twenty year period, accurate and detailed records on the course of the elevated blood pressure were kept on these women, most of whom lead very active lives for their age. They are encouraged to keep up all their old interests and activities in the community. They are not bedridden or sitting around in rocking chairs.

Women seem to be naturally stronger so far as life is concerned than men. They live longer and their life expectancy is greater than that of men. It is thought that they do a better job daily in the art of living than do men.

Study of the records of 500 of these older women showed that about three-quarters, 75 per cent, have natural high blood pressure at all times and that this pattern did not change as the women grow older. For example, if a woman of 70 entered the home with a blood pressure of 140/110, it was likely that this high blood pressure would continue through her 80's and 90's if she lived.

Dr. Wakefield states that they have many women whose high blood pressure has been going on for 30, 40, 50 and 60 years. Many women had been quite blood pressure conscious before coming to the Home and had tried all kinds of medical remedies — 300 different drugs in all — but it was found that no special treatment as far as drugs, diet or surgery are concerned, was necessary. "The only treatment we have used during the past twenty years in the management of this group of 500 older women is encouragement and reassurance on the part of the attending physician."

The blood pressure began to be high in many of these cases as early as the thirties and early forties, often about five to ten years before the menopause. As was expected, blood pressure readings during menopause were still higher.

Another hopeful observation was that very few of these older women with high blood pressure had any symptoms from it. All in all, the outlook for the older woman with high blood pressure is very good.

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington—(NEA)—The annoying yak-yak of Israeli and Arab propaganda exchanges in the United States reached a crescendo just before the U. E. elections in November.

There is a strong feeling among some leading Administration officials that Israeli officials and American Zionists went clear out of bounds in working for the election of Democratic candidates and the defeat of Republicans.

Their action was based on a belief that Democrats were more friendly to the Israeli cause than the GOP. It can be reported authoratively that this agitation did the Israeli cause no particular good in Washington.

The principal complaint of the Israel clique has been that the Eisenhower administration is now building up the strength of the Arab countries, while doing little or nothing for Israel.

ACTUALLY, ALMOST THE EXACT opposite is true. The total U. S. government aid to Israel is $340 million in round numbers. This includes $215 million of economic aid and Export-Import Bank loans of $135 million. In addition to this, United Jewish Appeal has collected over $400 million from Americans in bond sales and gifts which have been made exempt from U. S. taxes.

The total U. S. government aid to the Arab countries surrounding Israel is only a little over $100 million. The figures are Egypt $16 million, Jordan $9 million, Lebanon $7 million, Saudi Arabia $3 million plus an Export-Import bank loan of $49 million Iraq $5 million of economic aid plus the International Bank loan of under $13 million. Syria is not listed because this little country has refused offers of U. S. aid.

Also not included in the above figures are U. S. government appropriations of $150 million for relief of the Arab refugees from Israel. Of this sum, over $110 million has been spent to date. Private U. S. charities have also contributed over $8 million. United Nations have paid out $75 million for Arab relief.

IN SPITE OF THESE FACTS, the American Zionist Bulletin charges that "our government (meaning the U. S.) is actually subsidizing aggression, strife and social decay" in the Middle East.

The specific Zionist charges are that "The U. S. government is now actively sponsoring: 1—The establishment of a network of military alliances—all excluding Israel; 2—The provisions of economic aid AND ARMS to Arab states . . ."

The only basis for this charge is the fact that for the last several years, the U. S. has had what are known as "reimbursable military aid agreements" with Egypt, Lebanon and Saudia Arabia. This means that they can buy military equipment from the United States by paying cash on the barrelhead.

Unfortunately, the dollar amounts of this aid have not been given out for security reasons. But official assurances are given that the amount of this aid is small. Very little of it is for arms. Most of it is spare parts for vehicles and nonmilitary supplies for troops.

THE MAIN PURPOSE of this aid is to strengthen the forces of these countries so they can maintain internal order and a stable government. And in all disbursals, an eye is kept on maintaining balance of power—not on trying to start any new wars.

Incidentally, Britain, France and the United States have guaranteed Israel against Arab or any other aggression. No such reverse guarantees have been given to the Arab states.

The realities of the situation in the Middle East today are that Israel is far stronger, militarily and economically than the Arab states that surround her. There is no real unity in the Arab league. The countries in league all have so many internal problems that they couldn't launch a new aggression if they wanted to.

From the American point of view, the Mid-East situation is now far more stable than it was two years ago, when Secretary of State Dulles was greeted there with rotten egs. There is well-grounded hope that this stability will improve, if the two sides will refrain from trying to stir up their feud by creating new incidents artificially.

This has been repeatedly denied by devoted supporters of Mr. Eisenhower, even by some who were on the pro-McCarthy side.

Now, however, with the President's congratulations to Senator Watkins in the form of a prepared statement and a planned conference with the senator himself it will be difficult to erase the impression that Mr. Eisenhower has all along taken sides in what a few days ago he was content to call a Senate problem.

Instead of putting a quietus on the McCarthy controversy, the President by his statement has added fuel to the flames as has also the failure of the Senate to wait for a report from a special committee which found that the name of Senator Hennings of Missouri, chairman, had been signed without his knowledge or consent on a committee letter asking the postal authorities to put a "mail cover" on the mail of Senator McCarthy and his family. This is something usually put on to catch fugitives from justice convicted of crime. There was a loud clamor last summer about a "faked" photograph and a "phony" letter when an excerpt from an FBI report was "offered" but not included as evidence in the Stevens-Cohn hearings. Now the Senate itself has adjourned without even waiting to hear the facts on a real "forgery."

So it all depends on whose ox is gored—and the millions of Americans who do not like to see singled out for rebuke only those who are fighting communism will not forget what Senator McCarthy was "condemned" by a solid vote of the Democrats and by a minority of the Republicans for refusing to "cooperate" with the very committee which now is charged with having resorted to an illegal act during the course of its investigation of the Wisconsin senator in a preceding Congress.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Some of Joe McCarthy's enemies and some of his adherents, too, are talking up the idea that a third party will take the field in 1956 with the obvious purpose of thwarting Eisenhower and his off-Republican element and the Fabian Democrats. Regular Democrats will be offended by reference to their party as a Fabian party, but if they know what Fabianism is, and look at their party's record, they will have to admit, to themselves, at least, that it is a socialistic party. Fabianism is socialism with intent to commit communism. You can't stop at socialism. You have to go on to communism or do something just as bad. Italy and Germany resorted to fascism as the alternative.

However, my purpose today is not to argue about Fabianism but to inform you that, at present, the pro-McCarthy forces in the Republican party have no thought of quitting and starting another, although some stout individuals, such as Richard Lloyd Jones, of the Tulsa Tribune, have put that idea forward with great force and some persuasion.

At present, the intention of the pro-McCarthy element in the Senate is to control the next convention of the Republican party and to pick the candidates for president and vice president. The nucleus of this force will be, with some exceptions and variations, those who opposed the censure of McCarthy. Allowing for such uncertainties, the group will include Senators Knowland, of California, who seems to have outmuscled cheesecake Warren, now that Warren is pensioned off as chief justice; Dirksen, of Illinois, a formidable fellow who has been growing beyond the confines of his own state; Mundt, of South Dakota, another growing man who might be nominated for vice president; Jenner and, probably, Capehart, of Indiana; Welker and Dworshak, of Idaho; Bridges, of New Hampshire; Molly Malone, of Nevada; Barry Goldwater, of Arizona, and possibly Case, of South Dakota. Senator Goldwater's personal popularity and his demonstration of ability have been a phenomenon in Washington. If he lived in New York or California he would be a priceless asset to the party.

Of course, Welker, Dworshak, Malone and Goldwater will have no delegates to speak of and their support will be moral rather than substantial. But these are stout men. Welker, like Jenner, has been outdone in the matter of publicity by McCarthy but with no selfish intent on McCarthy's part and they bear no resentment. Both sides now recognize the fact that McCarthy has personified the issues which will inspire their platform.

Ike's effort to discard communism as an issue has failed. Both Welker and Jenner have done just as much as McCarthy in the expose of treachery in the government. Senate publications giving testimony and appraisals called reports, which they have contributed to the cause, now rival the small library produced by the House Committee on Un-American Activities. They have worked hard and produced much more proof of perfidy than the country realizes. This condition is due in part to the clamor against and for McCarthy and in part to silent treatment in the public "communications," press and radio.

In the press, two factors operate. First, spot news and current appraisal of news is a task which requires about as much manpower and space as most papers can afford. Second, however, there is a stubborn reluctance among reporters and executives in Washington and in many individual shops to admit that there is any basis whatever for McCarthy's campaign. Having damned McCarthy as a demagogue and fourflusher, an individual or a Republican finds it painful and difficult to admit that the conditions which he complains of have been verified by other senators. Radio, of course, has no ethics, conscience or responsibility.

Knowland for President and Mundt for vice president are one combination which has been discussed seriously among the men who are now convinced that Eisenhower is not only another Willkie but a lazy fellow who thinks he is doing the country a favor. His golf and his trouting have offended men who have to work seven days a week and far into the night. Of course, Roosevelt acted the part of emperor, but he reigned in a period of popular madness and delusion and, moreover, all hands were loath to criticize lest his infirmity be pleaded.

Another combination available in this group is either Dirksen or Knowland for president and one or the other for vice president. Mundt is still available in all cases for vice president, although, at this writing, the superstition against presidential candidates from states of small population still forbids. He is a good man, though.

It is too early to speculate about New York, but the leadership which inflamed to hatred most of the conservative Republican voters took a terrible lacing in the state election. Dewey manipulated Ives with passing skill but certainly without genius in that campaign and the result seemed to show that his success as a kingmaker with Eisenhower was due more to a popular desire for a "change" in management and that "boyish" smile than to political wizardry.

This certainly is not a third-party movement.

It is a conservative Republican movement which may get important help from Eisenhower himself. He has angered too many conservative Republicans to expect renomination. Reports that he would not ask a second term, which began soon after his inauguration, have a basis in reason if not in actual fact.

SAWKILL NEWS

Sawkill, Dec. 4—Wilfred Forster recently spent two weeks hunting vacation in Nova Scotia and returned with a buck and a doe. Mrs. Forster and sons, Gary and William, spent a recent weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Hulsair, Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Butler had as guests for a week, his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McMahan, of New York. Mrs. Butler's sister, Mrs. Patrick Duffy, Brooklyn, spent the weekend with the Burlers.

Town Historian Harry Siemsen recently erected markers showing the location of the former Jockey Hill Schoolhouse 1868-1920, and also identifying the Sawkill Creek in the Township of Kingston.

Mrs. J. Cross recently had Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sullivan and sons Michael and John, Brooklyn, as guests. Last week-end, Robert Sullivan visited Mrs. Cross.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Boice and family had as guests Saturday, Mrs. Boice's mother, Mrs. E. Wyant, Kingston, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Emmick and grandchildren John and Nancy Olson, Kingston.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Granquist returned Nov. 15 from a two months tour through Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Germany, Rome, Paris, and the Isle of Capri. While on route, they visited relatives in Norway.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Parsons and children, Cynthia, Craig and Eric, Mineola, L. I., spent the Thanksgiving holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Gerdts, upper Sawkill. On Thanksgiving Day, Mr. and Mrs. Gerdts and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Estes and family also had as guests Mr. and Mrs. I. Levine and daughter Gloria, Kingston, and Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Gerdts and children Peter and Julie Ann, Sawkill.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Stewart celebrated their 22nd wedding anniversary Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Murtha and daughter Patricia, Schenectady, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. W. Hulsair, Sr.

Miss Mary Jayne Kurtzweg, Mt. Marion, and Peter Leahy, Kingston, spent the weekend with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Joy, Hallahan's Hill.

Peter Gerdts celebrated his third birthday recently, as did his cousin, Frank Estes.

Julie Ann Gerdts, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Gerdts, was christened at Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church, Kingston, Sunday, with Dr. Frank Gollnick officiating. Godparents were Mr. and Mrs. G. Hall of Sydney, Australia, by proxy. Mrs. Hall is Mrs. W. L. Gerdts' sister.

A special school meeting was held at the Sawkill schoolhouse, District 1, Township of Kingston. Nov. 23. School clerk was Harry Siemsen and chairman of the meeting, Mr. Weiss. School Board of Trustees present at the meeting included Chairman Raymond Walker and Trustee Mrs. Francis Joy. Fifty persons attended. The business of the meeting was about transportation and after discussion, it was decided by majority vote to continue the present bus arrangements and schedule. The group also met Monday night.

The Sawkill Unit, Ulster County Home Bureau, held a meeting at the Sawkill schoolhouse Tuesday night. A number of members of the Plank Road Home Bureau Unit were guests. Miss Rachel Merritt was a guest speaker and her topic was Spending to Save, Refreshments were served at a table with a horn of plenty centerpiece decorated with the Thanksgiving motif. This was the last meeting of the Sawkill Unit which will be held this year. The next meeting of the Unit will be in March, 1955.

Mrs. Harry Hulsair, of the Sawkill Home Bureau Unit, attended a county-wide meeting at the First Baptist Church, Kingston, Wednesday, at which the topic of the afternoon was Selecting Becoming Color in Clothing.

Corps Minstrel Is Called Top Show

Two full houses enjoyed the seventh annual minstrel of Port Ewen Drum Corps last week when it was presented in the Town of Esopus Auditorium, featuring singing, dancing and specialties.

From the standpoint of entertainment, the corps outdid itself, according to those who saw the minstrel, the best in its history of staging the yearly event to raise funds.

Money made on the minstrel is used to keep equipment in repair, purchase music and other items needed to keep the organization functioning.

After the shows, John Bach interlocutor expressed appreciation of the drum corps for support of the show and thanked all who helped with the promotion.

FUEL FOR SPECULATION

Now that stock price averages are at a 25-year high, many investors are worried. Memories of the 1929 stock market crash still linger, and some people feel that it could happen again.

But 1929 and 1954 are totally dissimilar. I am not saying that stocks will not sell off. However, the unsoundness of the 1929 speculative boom is not present today. Furthermore, quantities of money are now available for investment and speculation that the country didn't possess then.

In 1919, broker's loans (speculative credit) hit $8,000,000,000 with interest rates touching 16 and 18 per cent. It was not uncommon in those days for a speculator to borrow $9,000 against a $10,000 stock purchase. And often while paying high interest rates, he would be getting low income from his securities. In 1929, speculation became a madness and eventually the country suffered from it.

Today, interest rates on brokers' loans are from one to three per cent. On government securities the rate runs around one to 1¼ per cent. And such loans total about 20 per cent of the 1929 amount.

Twenty-five years ago money in circulation was less than five billion dollars. In 1954 it is over 600 per cent higher—more than 30 billion dollars. Demand deposits in banks in 1929 were around 22 billion dollars; now they are 100 billion dollars.

Savings bonds were unknown in 1929. Now there or 58 billion dollars of them outstanding. Add up money in circulation, demand deposits and the potential dollars resident in savings bonds and one has the fantastic amount of nearly $190,000,000,000! That is over 600 per cent higher than in 1929!

Thus, one can see why brokers' loans are small and speculative credit today is from one to three per cent a year instead of 16-18 per cent in 1929. Cash purchases of stock are the rule and not the exception in 1954. Why should investors and speculators borrow when they have an abundance of money?

Where has all this money come from? Well, in 1929 Uncle Sam's debt was 16 billion dollars. In 25 years it has increased by $260,000,000,000. Debt increases the money supplies, which helps to explain that huge 190 billion dollar figure mentioned earlier. It works like this:

If you, the reader, go into a bank and persuade a banker to discount your note, that piece of paper becomes money since he validates your note. When your note is due, you pay it off and the money is retired.

But Uncle Sam's notes have been finding their way into banks for 25 years and when they are due, they are renewed. Consequently, two things have been happening in America — (1) his debts have been growing and (2) money supplies have steadily been multiplying.

So, today, the country has a big debt, mountains of money, low interest rates, high prices, costs and taxes.

The wherewithal for much higher stock prices is abundant in America. Basic interest rates today on the best bonds (Uncle Sam's) are around 2¼ per cent. In 1929 they were nearly twice this. Consequently, why shouldn't best quality common stocks of growth companies sell to yield four to five per cent? Cheap money is an institution here. And with plenty of dollar fuel available for investment and speculation, it is to be expected that so long as attractive yields can be had, common stocks will continue to be popular vehicles for investment and speculation.

THE FORUM — (Q) "Why don't you discuss more often than you do the common stocks you generalize about in your column?"

(A)—Because all common stocks carry risk and risk must be tailor-fitted into each individual portfolio. In the field of investment finance one man's meat is another man's poison.

Harry C. France will answer one letter each week through this column. If you have any investment questions, write in care of this newspaper.

"TAILORED STEEL" is the fashion experts' term for Chrysler's exciting new styling! Sweeping design change for 1955 features noticeably lower, longer lines and . . . unmistakably Chrysler . . . the new sweptback Super-Scenic Windshield that "wraps around" both top and bottom for greater (and safer) vision! New V-8 engines now power all Chryslers: up to 250 hp in the New Yorker Deluxe, and 188 hp in the Windsor Deluxe series. Other Chrysler exclusives include the most automatic of all transmissions, Full-time Power Steering, and double-width pedal Power Brakes. Your Chrysler-Plymouth dealer invites you to see and drive America's newest and most smartly different car!

WIDELY HAILED is Chrysler's new PowerFlite Range-Selector . . . on the dash! Permitting more instant control of gear-range selection, it heightens the pleasing "cockpit" effect of Chrysler's new front compartment styling.

TOTALLY NEW throughout, the 1955 Chrysler is easy to identify from any angle. New-styled "tumblehome" (or slope-in of the sides) emphasizes Chrysler's road-hugging look. Unmistakably Chrysler is the classic simplicity of rear deck . . . longer and broader. Dominant Twin-Tower tail lights set a new trend in rear-end design.

FUEL FOR SPECULATION

Now that stock price averages are at a 25-year high, many investors are worried. Memories of the 1929 stock market crash still linger, and some people feel that it could happen again.

But 1929 and 1954 are totally dissimilar. I am not saying that stocks will not sell off. However, the unsoundness of the 1929 speculative boom is not present today. Furthermore, quantities of money are now available for investment and speculation that the country didn't possess then.

In 1919, broker's loans (speculative credit) hit $8,000,000,000 with interest rates touching 16 and 18 per cent. It was not uncommon in those days for a speculator to borrow $9,000 against a $10,000 stock purchase. And often while paying high interest rates, he would be getting low income from his securities. In 1929, speculation became a madness and eventually the country suffered from it.

Today, interest rates on brokers' loans are from one to three per cent. On government securities the rate runs around one to 1¼ per cent. And such loans total about 20 per cent of the 1929 amount.

Twenty-five years ago money in circulation was less than five billion dollars. In 1954 it is over 600 per cent higher—more than 30 billion dollars. Demand deposits in banks in 1929 were around 22 billion dollars; now they are 100 billion dollars.

Savings bonds were unknown in 1929. Now there or 58 billion dollars of them outstanding. Add up money in circulation, demand deposits and the potential dollars resident in savings bonds and one has the fantastic amount of nearly $190,000,000,000! That is over 600 per cent higher than in 1929!

Thus, one can see why brokers' loans are small and speculative credit today is from one to three per cent a year instead of 16-18 per cent in 1929. Cash purchases of stock are the rule and not the exception in 1954. Why should investors and speculators borrow when they have an abundance of money?

Where has all this money come from? Well, in 1929 Uncle Sam's debt was 16 billion dollars. In 25 years it has increased by $260,000,000,000. Debt increases the money supplies, which helps to explain that huge 190 billion dollar figure mentioned earlier. It works like this:

If you, the reader, go into a bank and persuade a banker to discount your note, that piece of paper becomes money since he validates your note. When your note is due, you pay it off and the money is retired.

But Uncle Sam's notes have been finding their way into banks for 25 years and when they are due, they are renewed. Consequently, two things have been happening in America — (1) his debts have been growing and (2) money supplies have steadily been multiplying.

So, today, the country has a big debt, mountains of money, low interest rates, high prices, costs and taxes.

The wherewithal for much higher stock prices is abundant in America. Basic interest rates today on the best bonds (Uncle Sam's) are around 2¼ per cent. In 1929 they were nearly twice this. Consequently, why shouldn't best quality common stocks of growth companies sell to yield four to five per cent? Cheap money is an institution here. And with plenty of dollar fuel available for investment and speculation, it is to be expected that so long as attractive yields can be had, common stocks will continue to be popular vehicles for investment and speculation.

THE FORUM — (Q) "Why don't you discuss more often than you do the common stocks you generalize about in your column?"

(A)—Because all common stocks carry risk and risk must be tailor-fitted into each individual portfolio. In the field of investment finance one man's meat is another man's poison.

Harry C. France will answer one letter each week through this column. If you have any investment questions, write in care of this newspaper.

MacKenzie Says Americans Held

Hong Kong, Dec. 6 (AP)—Squadron Leader Andrew R. (Andy) MacKenzie, a Canadian flier shot down in the Korean War and just freed from imprisonment in Red China, says the Chinese are still holding some American war prisoners in his prison camp.

The 34-year-old air ace reported upon reaching Hong Kong yesterday that the Americans he knows about—all air force fliers—had been allowed to write home and it was known in the United States that they were prisoners.

HE ADDED THAT they do not include any of the 13 Americans recently sentenced by Peiping on spy charges.

Canadian and U. S. officials did not permit disclosure here of the number or names of the captured men. The location of the camp also was withheld.

In Washington, an air force casualty officer said three Americans were known to have been in the camp with MacKenzine. They were Capt. Harold E. Fischer of Swea City, Iowa, Lt. Lyle W. Cameron of Lincoln, Neb., and Lt. Roland W. Parks of Omaha, Neb.

MacKenzie reached freedom two years to the day after he was shot down near the Yalu river in North Korea while flying as an exchange officer with the U. S. air force.

CANADIAN DIPLOMATS had asked about him when they met the Chinese Communist delegation to the Geneva Conference last June on Korea and Indochina. The Reds promised at that time to release him. They finally notified the Canadian Foreign Ministry informally on Nov. 23 that he would be at the border of this British colony yesterday.

Appearing thin but otherwise healthy, he arrived in the custody of three Red Chinese guards. He wore a blue, padded Chinese uniform.

MacKenzie's brother-in-law, RCAF Wing Cmdr. Donald Skene, and Lt. Col. O. D. Simpson, U. S. air force attache in Hong Kong, met him at the frontier. He later was taken to a military hospital for a checkup.

Posing briefly for photographers in Hong Kong, MacKenzie said only:

"I am glad to be here and am looking forward to spending Christmas with my family." Mrs. MacKenzie and their four young children live in Montreal. The RCAF announced in Ottawa that it would fly her to Vancouver to meet her husband.

PACK 15, CUB SCOUTS, held its monthly meeting at the Church of the Comforter Hall last week with the theme, Adventures in History. The meeting was opened by Assistant Cubmaster William Bush, followed by a flag ceremony conducted by Ralph Palen and Gregory Forman, Cub Scouts. The pack welcomed its newest member, Jimmy Halwick, and his parents at a bobcat ceremony. The following Cubs received awards: Ralph Palen, bear badge; Barry Kelly, wolf badge; John Gillen, lion badge, gold arrow and two-year pin; Gregory Furman, bear badge and a gold and silver arrow; Scott Kennedy, silver arrow; Kenneth Milhan, gold arrow; David Milhan, wolf badge and gold arrow. Mr. and Mrs. William Bush and Mr. and Mrs. Williams were in charge of the meeting. Appropriate games were played and Thanksgiving songs were sung. Mrs. Ruth Stillings of Den 4 was in charge of refreshments. Pack 15 made two field trips during the month, one as guests of the Binnewater Lake Ice Co. where they observed the manufacture of ice, and the other to the Senate House and Museum. As a Thanksgiving good will project the pack made and delivered favors to each patient at one of the nursing homes in Kingston.

Plattekill

Lions Point Out Community Projects

Plattekill, Dec. 6—Men active in behalf of the Town of Plattekill Lions Club gave reports on various community projects underway at the regular business-dinner meeting Dec. 1 at Primo's Hotel in Ardonia.

Andrew Montrola, president, presided and reported that both he and Merton E. Jenkins made the Lions Club contribution of $26 to the guests of the Beaver Nursing Home, Route 32, Plattekill for a Thanksgiving dinner.

Tonight, when the Town of Plattekill Nursing Committee conducts its benefit card party at Hasbbrouck Hall, Modena, Montrola will present the women a donation to cover the purchase of adjustable sides for the Town of Plattekill hospital beds. These four beds may be had for free by any resident during their illness.

Chairman Primo Fiscella for the forthcoming smorgasbord and dance set for Feb. 16 at Ireland Corners Hotel, Gardiner, said he has tickets for the benefit social.

Frank Ruggerio announced that he still has blind seals available.

The next meeting is scheduled for Wednesday, Dec. 15 at Primo's Hotel, Ardonia.

Think It Through

By EDWARD F. HUTTON

Where's that sound, calm, cool and collected approach to military and foreign policy that we set out to attain some months ago?

Mr. Hutton

What happened to that steady-handed, well-planned objective of building a mighty nation — economically and militarily — without sporadic heart thumpings every time somebody in the Kremlin cleared his throat?

Well, Ike and his advisers have, thank God, adopted this course, and are trying to stick to it. But you can't say the same for a few scatterbrained "personalities" who sound off, from time to time, about how tough we are, and are going to get.

Reminds me of a man who said recently that American foreign policy is like an American motorist — racing frantically toward a stop signal, halting with a screech of brakes, hesitating, then whipping off again in a cloud of smoke — only to realize suddenly that he's taken the wrong turn.

Speak softly, but firmly, America, and weigh the variables carefully; when you act, act decisively. But stay on the right road.

How about it, neighbor?

Traffic Club Will Honor Ulster Men

Six Ulster county men who participated in the 26-week transportation course sponsored by the Mid-Hudson Traffic Club and the Mid-Hudson Industrial Association will be awarded certificates of achievement during a meeting at the Palatine Hotel in Newburgh Wednesday night.

The county participants and their businesses are:

Ernest Rowe, Roberts Motor Express, Kingston; Peter Sinone and Joseph Sinone, Mid-Hudson Express, Highland; John McFadden, Feuer Transportation Co., Kingston; Steven Hennegan and Basil J. Kane, Ferroxcube Corp., Saugerties.

Joseph Carmody, promotion director for the Port of New York Authority, will speak at Wednesday's meeting.

Tornadoes Kill Man in Georgia; Alabama Suffers

Birmingham, Ala., Dec. 6 (AP) — Tornadoes dipped suddenly out of leaden skies in eastern Alabama and western Georgia yesterday and killed one person, injured at least 48 and wrecked scores of homes.

Property losses ran into hundreds of thousands of dollars. Alabama counted 57 homes destroyed and 100 more damaged while Georgia reported 220 badly battered and some demolished.

Grim Alabama national guard troops, under orders to shoot if necessary, guarded Wellington's shattered homes against looters while Red Cross and Salvation Army teams aided stricken residents.

Elsewhere in the two-state area, emergency crews worked to replace utility poles and wires ripped down by the savage twisters.

The off-season tornadoes, spawned when a cold front collided with warm, moist air from the Gulf of Mexico, struck along a 50-mile wide path on either side of the Alabama-Georgia line.

FOUR VIOLENT twisters swirled across 13 rural communities in Alabama and others hit four sections of Georgia. High winds and savage thunderstorms occurred in a number of other sections. Winds raked southwest Atlanta and destroyed a frame house owned by Police Chief Herbert Jenkins who was not in it at the time.

Wellington and the Opelika areas were worst hit in Alabama while Manchester and Richland bore the brunt of the storms in Georgia.

The only death reported occurred near Richland. The 8-year-old daughter of the Rev. James Jones was killed when a tornado demolished the Jones residence. Other members of the family escaped with minor injuries.

Girl, 17, Is Victim Of Monoxide Poison

Sayville, Dec. 6 (AP)—A 17-year-old girl died of carbon monoxide gas poisoning early yesterday after sitting and chatting with her fiance in his car, with the motor and heater on in a closed garage.

Coroner Joseph Mauceri described as accidental the death of Mary Ethel Murphy, of Sayville.

Wins French Prize

Paris, Dec. 6 (AP)—Simone de Beauvoir today won the biggest French literary prize of the year —the Prix Goncourt—for her novel "Les Mandarins" (The Mandarins), a story about left-wing intellectuals in and out of the Communist party. Literary gossip says one of the main characters, thinly disguised is Jean-Paul Sartre, existentialist playwright-philosopher now turned pro-Communist. He and Miss de Beauvoir have long been friends.

Warm for Snag, Yukon

Edmonton, Alta., Dec. 6 (AP)—The weather man here got word today that the temperature at Snag, in the Yukon, got up to 38 below zero yesterday, after a low the night before of 52 below. But to the 30 odd residents of Snag, that's not bad; the mercury got down to 82 below in February 1947, the lowest ever registered in North America. The lowest on record is 90 below, recorded in Siberia in 1892.

UP WE GO — Pedestrians in Toledo, Ohio, stopped and looked at this scaffold-equipped Jeep, which enables three men to work on three levels at once. It's the brain child of Bob Holmes, owner of a Toledo window washing service.

PREPARING FOR POSSIBLE ATTACK — Chinese Nationalist troops stationed on one of the Tachen Islands off the Red China coast rig a barbed wire fence along a rocky cliff overlooking the sea approach to the island, frequent target of Chinese Red attacks. (AP Wirephoto).

Five Children Die In Bedroom When Trapped by Flame

Franklin, Mass., Dec. 6 (AP)—Five helpless children, trapped in their bedroom by flames, died a few minutes before midnight in a roaring farmhouse fire.

The five, ranging in age from 2 to 7, were the son and daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald De Baggis.

De Baggis, 30, a polisher at the Attleboro plant of Swank Jewelry Co., rescued his wife, Maureen, 29, and their youngest child, six-month-old Diane.

THE FIVE who perished were Shirley, 7, Donald, 6, Margaret, 4, Joanne, 3, and Regina, 2. Dr. Walter Crowley, medical examiner, said they apparently suffocated although some of the bodies were charred.

DeBaggis said a kitchen oil stove exploded about 11:45.

The five older children were asleep directly above the kitchen. Their parents and the baby were downstairs in a room adjoining the kitchen.

"I grabbed a blanket and ran into the kitchen and tried to smother the fire," the grief-crazed father said. "I didn't do any good. The flames burst all over the place."

Fire Chief Connor Pond said the two-story frame home was a mass of flames when firemen arrived, after a four-mile run.

New Low Recorded

New York, Dec. 6 (AP)—The mercury slid to a new seasonal low in the metropolitan area today—and kept moving down. At 5 a. m. the temperature was 21, 2.7 degrees below the previous autumnal low, and remained there until 7 a. m., an hour later the reading was 20—and the forecast was for still colder. Also some snow maybe. The dipping mercury however was nowhere near the all-time record low for the date, 11 degrees in 1871. The record high is 63.2, set three years ago.

Traffic May Be Hit

Paris, Dec. 6 (AP)—A strike order issued by an independent union threatens to halt all rail traffic in France for two days. The strike, for higher wages, is called for 10 a. m. (4 a. m. EST) tomorrow and is to continue for 48 hours.

Girl Slashes Wrists In New York Hotel

New York, Dec. 6 (AP)—An 18-year-old Queens girl slashed her wrists in the Hotel America, 145 West 47th street, early today and police described it as a suicide attempt.

The girl, who was taken to Bellevue Hospital for observation, was identified by police as Virginia Brown, of 85-15 139th street, Jamaica.

Police said Miss Brown telephoned the hotel switchboard from her room at 2:15 a. m. with an announcement that she had just cut her wrists with a razor blade.

Her condition was not regarded as serious.

Meets on Rent Control

Trenton, N. J., Dec. 6 (AP)—The New Jersey Legislature meets today to consider whether rent control in the state should be continued or abolished. The present rent control law, due to expire Dec. 31, gives local option to municipalities in the matter. Under this act, municipalities may pass a rent control resolution, repeal it later, put it back into effect and so on.

Day for Children

By FRANK TRIPP

Those mysterious telephone calls, letters and packages are beginning to arrive, and whisperings behind doors. It's the sure-fire forerunner of Christmas in households where children are involved.

I like our seven grandchildren and two great-grands a lot, but they sure can get under foot on occasion; seems that sometimes we are knee deep in them.

I guess though that if they lived far off, as only two of them do, I'd be wishing they were around more.

They drop in like they live here, stragely at meal time, like those friends who just happen to be passing at the cocktail hour.

A couple of them frequently make it for breakfast, en route to school. They've had breakfast at home but you wouldn't think it by the time they down a second farmhand meal. Where do they put it?

WE HAVE THEM in all sizes, ages and temperaments, from nine months to 23 years. They have kept Fanny and Anna and me young at heart regardless of creeping years and creaking joints; and, though I too often don't seem to reflect it, I'd be a lonesome old crab without them. As it is I'm just a complaining old crab, they think.

Well, somebody has to set 'em back in meetin' or Fanny and Anna would give them the front door—and they'd take it.

But it's Christmas time that makes them most dear to all of us. How I pity people who must pass Christmas with no children about them. And how I marvel that the such don't brighten their day by searching out unfortunate kids in their midst; and feel the joy that Christmas brings with the knowledge that their thoughtfulness brought happiness to lonely little hearts.

NO MAN LIVES who can't do himself this great service and feel a better man for having done it. In our town we have the Arctic League, borned by a group of baseball fans 42 years ago, now grown to making Christmas happy for more than 3,000 children every year.

That no other place on earth has anything exactly like it doesn't estop the individual anywhere from bringing himself equal blessing when he awakens Christmas morning.

Try it this year, and you'll never stop. Search out a couple of kids who are looking longingly into tinselled windows of trinkets with noses pressed against the glass, unmittened hands hopelessly reaching toward a toy or a doll; until moved along by mink-clad dames in search for a truckload of expensive gifts to confuse their pampered small fry.

DON'T KNOW ANY? Just ask a social agency, a policeman, or a school teacher. And don't make the mistake of inquiring about "worthiness." Every neglected child is worthy He is not to blame for the wastefulness, selfishness or drunkenness of his parents.

He sees and hears Christmas all about him. The store windows are jammed with things his little heart craves that are not for him. A Santa stands on every corner. The air is full of "Silent Night" and "Little Star of Bethlehem."

What, in the name of heaven, does he think, to awaken Christmas morning the same bewildered forgotten little tyke?

Learn the story back of countless delinquents, criminals, social enemies and you'll know what he thinks.

You can do something about it. Today is the time to start doing. Doing more for yourself than for the unfortunate you befriend on this most blessed of all—

The Day for Children.

TRAFFIC STOPPER—Many a motorist probably blinked his eyes when John Joffe stepped over to man the gas pump and check the oil and water, dressed in formal clothes. Joffe, owner of a Springfield, Mass., service station, was merely marking the sale of his millionth gallon of gas.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

When John M. Mayer, the veteran wagon manufacturer back in 1921, read in his Friday, Jan. 21 Freeman that Mrs. Rachel M. DeGroff of Montvale, N. J., formerly of Ulster Park, was celebrating her 91st birthday, his thoughts turned to his own youth. It seems that he worked as a blacksmith for Mrs. DeGroff's husband in his shop in Port Ewen, and boarded with his employer. This was in 1856 or 1857 which he called the happy days, for he said, Mrs. DeGroff made the best pancakes that Mr. Mayer had found in America and both Mr. and Mrs. DeGroff treated the young German workman as a member of their family. Although he had not seen Mrs. DeGroff in 60 years, on reading about her anniversary he sat down and wrote her a letter mentioning among other things the pancakes. That shows that in 1856 there were business establishments in Port Ewen. I wonder what Mr. Mayer and the DeGroffs would think of the beautiful new homes in Port Ewen and the Rondout Creek Bridge and many other improvements. The item also shows that kindness is never forgotten and a good cook is above jewels to a hungry lonesome boarder.

In the Kingston Freeman and Journal of Jan. 21, 1921, the Home-Seekers' had their annual meeting published. It said at the time that the annual report showed the association had made a phenomenal growth that past year. They declared a dividend of six per cent at the time. It seems there was a house shortage at the time and those who could were building or buying their own homes.

At the time, according to the item, all one had to have was one-quarter down, and the loan association would give him the other three-quarters. The money would be paid back in monthly installments not much more than the usual rent for such a building or home and in 12 years it would be paid for. The new owner also was immediately free from any apprehension of his loan being called and as long as he met his monthly payment he could not be disturbed further. Since then many Kingstonians have taken advantage of this pleasant service and the courtesy extended by the bank staff. Today folks more than ever are looking to buy suitable homes.

At the time there was an article on the front page saying that factory wages were down slightly in New York state. The New York State Industrial Commission reported that it averaged $28.35 per week at the time. Many plants were working part time and there were seasonal layoffs. In other cases, increased earnings in December of 1920 were due to the dismissal of lower paid workers and the retention of foremen and higher paid employes. It was said that some $2.25 drop in earnings in various industries such as fur, steel, stone, cement, plaster, glass, jewelry, silverware, brass and copper industry. Structural and architectural iron, saw mill products, etc., also suffered a drop. Earnings have gone up since, and today, it seems anything in the building line is on night and day production. Plastics is a word not mentioned in the 1921 list of manufactured products. Without it we would be quite lost today. I wonder what the years ahead will bring.

The Magnificat

AND Mary said, My soul doth magnify the Lord, and my spirit hath rejoiced in God my Saviour. For he hath regarded the low estate of his handmaiden: for, behold, from henceforth all generations shall call me blessed. For he that is mighty hath done to me great things; and holy is his name.

And Mary abode with Elisabeth about three months, and returned to her own house.

13 Are Executed

Hong Kong, Dec. 6 (AP)—The independent Chinese Kung Sheung Daily News reported today that 13 Chinese civilians were executed by a firing squad in Canton and 28 others were given prison terms after a people's court convicted them of spying, sabotage or trying to escape to Formosa.

Will Meet Tuesday

The 9267th Air Reserve Squadron will hold its weekly training meeting Tuesday at 22 Ferry street, at 8 p. m. First Lt. Ernest Gardner, AFRes will lecture on Group Decision by Discussion. The air force training film will be shown. All members are requested to attend.

Ainslie to Conduct Some Demonstrations

Type appraisal demonstrations will be conducted by Prof. Harry Ainslie, Cornell extension dairyman, at two Ulster county farms this week.

The study is made to determine what characteristics besides milk production are affecting the desirability of dairy cattle.

Demonstrations are scheduled for Thursday, Dec. 9, at 1:30 p. m. at the Kenneth Rider farm at Accord, and Friday, Dec. 10, at 1 p. m., at Garrison Brothers Farm, Wallkill. Ulster county dairymen are invited to attend the meeting most convenient, according to Robert D. Guzewich, associate county agricultural agent.

10 Persons Killed

Albany, Dec. 6 (AP)—Gunshot accidents took 10 lives during the state's 1954 deer season, one less than the number of such deaths last year. In addition, a compilation by The Associated Press showed two persons died apparently of natural causes and one man fell to his death from a cliff while hunting this year.

Day for Children

By FRANK TRIPP

Those mysterious telephone calls, letters and packages are beginning to arrive, and whisperings behind doors. It's the sure-fire forerunner of Christmas in households where children are involved.

I like our seven grandchildren and two great-grands a lot, but they sure can get under foot on occasion; seems that sometimes we are knee deep in them.

I guess though that if they lived far off, as only two of them do, I'd be wishing they were around more.

They drop in like they live here, stragely at meal time, like those friends who just happen to be passing at the cocktail hour.

A couple of them frequently make it for breakfast, en route to school. They've had breakfast at home but you wouldn't think it by the time they down a second farmhand meal. Where do they put it?

WE HAVE THEM in all sizes, ages and temperaments, from nine months to 23 years. They have kept Fanny and Anna and me young at heart regardless of creeping years and creaking joints; and, though I too often don't seem to reflect it, I'd be a lonesome old crab without them. As it is I'm just a complaining old crab, they think.

Well, somebody has to set 'em back in meetin' or Fanny and Anna would give them the front door—and they'd take it.

But it's Christmas time that makes them most dear to all of us. How I pity people who must pass Christmas with no children about them. And how I marvel that the such don't brighten their day by searching out unfortunate kids in their midst; and feel the joy that Christmas brings with the knowledge that their thoughtfulness brought happiness to lonely little hearts.

NO MAN LIVES who can't do himself this great service and feel a better man for having done it. In our town we have the Arctic League, borned by a group of baseball fans 42 years ago, now grown to making Christmas happy for more than 3,000 children every year.

That no other place on earth has anything exactly like it doesn't estop the individual anywhere from bringing himself equal blessing when he awakens Christmas morning.

Try it this year, and you'll never stop. Search out a couple of kids who are looking longingly into tinselled windows of trinkets with noses pressed against the glass, unmittened hands hopelessly reaching toward a toy or a doll; until moved along by mink-clad dames in search for a truckload of expensive gifts to confuse their pampered small fry.

DON'T KNOW ANY? Just ask a social agency, a policeman, or a school teacher. And don't make the mistake of inquiring about "worthiness." Every neglected child is worthy He is not to blame for the wastefulness, selfishness or drunkenness of his parents.

He sees and hears Christmas all about him. The store windows are jammed with things his little heart craves that are not for him. A Santa stands on every corner. The air is full of "Silent Night" and "Little Star of Bethlehem."

What, in the name of heaven, does he think, to awaken Christmas morning the same bewildered forgotten little tyke?

Learn the story back of countless delinquents, criminals, social enemies and you'll know what he thinks.

You can do something about it. Today is the time to start doing. Doing more for yourself than for the unfortunate you befriend on this most blessed of all—

The Day for Children.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

When John M. Mayer, the veteran wagon manufacturer back in 1921, read in his Friday, Jan. 21 Freeman that Mrs. Rachel M. DeGroff of Montvale, N. J., formerly of Ulster Park, was celebrating her 91st birthday, his thoughts turned to his own youth. It seems that he worked as a blacksmith for Mrs. DeGroff's husband in his shop in Port Ewen, and boarded with his employer. This was in 1856 or 1857 which he called the happy days, for he said, Mrs. DeGroff made the best pancakes that Mr. Mayer had found in America and both Mr. and Mrs. DeGroff treated the young German workman as a member of their family. Although he had not seen Mrs. DeGroff in 60 years, on reading about her anniversary he sat down and wrote her a letter mentioning among other things the pancakes. That shows that in 1856 there were business establishments in Port Ewen. I wonder what Mr. Mayer and the DeGroffs would think of the beautiful new homes in Port Ewen and the Rondout Creek Bridge and many other improvements. The item also shows that kindness is never forgotten and a good cook is above jewels to a hungry lonesome boarder.

In the Kingston Freeman and Journal of Jan. 21, 1921, the Home-Seekers' had their annual meeting published. It said at the time that the annual report showed the association had made a phenomenal growth that past year. They declared a dividend of six per cent at the time. It seems there was a house shortage at the time and those who could were building or buying their own homes.

At the time, according to the item, all one had to have was one-quarter down, and the loan association would give him the other three-quarters. The money would be paid back in monthly installments not much more than the usual rent for such a building or home and in 12 years it would be paid for. The new owner also was immediately free from any apprehension of his loan being called and as long as he met his monthly payment he could not be disturbed further. Since then many Kingstonians have taken advantage of this pleasant service and the courtesy extended by the bank staff. Today folks more than ever are looking to buy suitable homes.

At the time there was an article on the front page saying that factory wages were down slightly in New York state. The New York State Industrial Commission reported that it averaged $28.35 per week at the time. Many plants were working part time and there were seasonal layoffs. In other cases, increased earnings in December of 1920 were due to the dismissal of lower paid workers and the retention of foremen and higher paid employes. It was said that some $2.25 drop in earnings in various industries such as fur, steel, stone, cement, plaster, glass, jewelry, silverware, brass and copper industry. Structural and architectural iron, saw mill products, etc., also suffered a drop. Earnings have gone up since, and today, it seems anything in the building line is on night and day production. Plastics is a word not mentioned in the 1921 list of manufactured products. Without it we would be quite lost today. I wonder what the years ahead will bring.

The Magnificat

AND Mary said, My soul doth magnify the Lord, and my spirit hath rejoiced in God my Saviour. For he hath regarded the low estate of his handmaiden: for, behold, from henceforth all generations shall call me blessed. For he that is mighty hath done to me great things; and holy is his name.

And Mary abode with Elisabeth about three months, and returned to her own house.

The 9267th Air Reserve Squadron will hold its weekly training meeting Tuesday at 22 Ferry street, at 8 p. m. First Lt. Ernest Gardner, AFRes will lecture on Group Decision by Discussion. The air force training film will be shown. All members are requested to attend.

Ainslie to Conduct Some Demonstrations

Type appraisal demonstrations will be conducted by Prof. Harry Ainslie, Cornell extension dairyman, at two Ulster county farms this week.

The study is made to determine what characteristics besides milk production are affecting the desirability of dairy cattle.

Demonstrations are scheduled for Thursday, Dec. 9, at 1:30 p. m. at the Kenneth Rider farm at Accord, and Friday, Dec. 10, at 1 p. m., at Garrison Brothers Farm, Wallkill. Ulster county dairymen are invited to attend the meeting most convenient, according to Robert D. Guzewich, associate county agricultural agent.

10 Persons Killed

Albany, Dec. 6 (AP)—Gunshot accidents took 10 lives during the state's 1954 deer season, one less than the number of such deaths last year. In addition, a compilation by The Associated Press showed two persons died apparently of natural causes and one man fell to his death from a cliff while hunting this year.

Miss Barbara Krom Is Engaged to Wed Frank B. Matthews

BARBARA B. KROM

Miss Barbara Barnum Krom is engaged to wed Frank B. Matthews, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Matthews of Richmond Park, it was announced by her parents, Dr. and Mrs. John B. Krom of 105 Fair street. The wedding will take place February 12.

Miss Krom is the granddaughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. James Krom of Saugerties and of Mrs. Anson Hoyt Barnum and the late Mr. Barnum of New York and Reading, Pa.

The prospective bride, a member of the Junior League of this city, is a graduate of the Emma Willard School, Troy; Pine Manor Junior College, Wellesley, Mass.; and the Tobe-Coburn School, New York.

Mr. Matthews, who is a graduate of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, served in the Navy during World War 2, and is vice-president of The Bull Markets, Inc. He is a member of the New York Athletic Club and Amrita Club, Poughkeepsie. (Hal Phyfe Photo)

Miss Beverly Falk, William R. Myers Wed in Palenville

Miss Beverly Ann Falk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Falk of Palenville, became the bride of William R. Myers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene W. Myers of Saugerties, in a double ring ceremony Sunday at 2 p. m. at Palenville Methodist Church. The Rev. D. A. Garey officiated.

Mrs Harold Bloom was soloist in the selections, O Promise Me and The Lord's Prayer. She was accompanied by Mrs. D. A. Garey on the organ. Candles and white pompons formed the decorations in the church.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a waltz length gown of white lace over satin with a shoulder length veil. She carried a bouquet of white roses.

Miss Lois Myers, sister of the bridegroom, of Saugerties, was honor attendant. She wore a waltz length gown of green velveteen and carried a bouquet of yellow pompons.

The bridesmaids were Miss Nancy Hommel and Miss Ruth Mower of Saugerties. They wore red velveteen waltz length gowns and carried bronze pompons.

Miss Alice Myers, sister of the bridegroom, was flower girl. She wore a gown of green velveteen with matching headpiece, and carried a basket of yellow and bronze pompons.

Floyd Falk, Jr., of Palenville, brother of the bride, served as best man. The ushers were Carlton Sperl of Saugerties and James Rockefeller of Cairo. Eric Bruck, cousin of the bride, was ringbearer.

A reception was held at the Woodbine Hotel in Palenville for 100 guests.

Following a wedding trip to Washington, D. C., the couple will live in Greenville. For traveling, the bride wore a white faille dress and a corsage of red roses.

The bride is a graduate of Palenville public schools and attended Catskill High School.

The bridegroom, a graduate of Saugerties High School, is with Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corp. He served three years in the army.

The earliest method of telling time was to mark off the shadows of trees.

TO MAKE A CHILD'S CHRISTMAS HAPPY —Members of the WSCS of Trinity Methodist Church packed gifts for children at the Methodist Mission Settlement in Uniontown, Pa., at their meeting Thursday afternoon at the church. Aiding in this project were, (l-r), Mrs. John Riebhoff, wife of the pastor of the church, Mrs. Edward Hillis, Mrs. Frank Thompson, Mrs. Fred Deming, Mrs. William DuBois and Mrs. Egbert Schoonmaker. New York — (NEA) — The uses of cotton for pretty at-home clothes are many. Fashions for holiday wear combine high style with brilliant color and a truly practical warmth.

Favorite fabrics for these at-home and party clothes are velveteen, cotton lace and quilted cotton. Bright floral prints are sometimes combined with black velveteen for sharp contrast.

The young housewife who does a lot of entertaining during the holidays (and all of her own housework) will have more fun as a hostess if she dresses to the occasion. Designed especially for at-home hours, the floral top in cotton (left) is worn with slim black velveteen pants. The blouse goes either in or out, has a tiny edging of black lace.

Most households have a certain number of visitors who just drop in during the holidays. The one costume that will get you by gracefully, yet permit you to be comfortable, too, is the little robe that's cut to look like a dress (right). This is a floral-printed cotton, quilted for warmth.

Gladys Stoutenburgh, Ronald Burdette Rice Wed at St. Mary's

The wedding of Miss Gladys Abigail Stoutenburgh of 526 Delaware avenue, and Ronald Burdette Rice, of 159 Mary's avenue, took place Saturday, Nov. 27 at 7 p. m. at St. Mary's Church. The Rev. John A. Flaherty assistant pastor of St. Mary's performed the double ring candlelight ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Stoutenburgh and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Rice.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white lace cocktail dress with satin cap sleeves and carried an old fashioned nosegay of white pompons.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Leon Smith, aunt of the bride. She wore a dress of aqua tulle with lace bodice, matching mitts and cap and carried a nosegay of pink pompons.

Joseph Viano, brother in law of the bridegroom, served as best man.

After a reception at the home of the bride's parents, for 75 guests, Mr. and Mrs. Rice left on a trip to New York city and North Carolina. For traveling, the bride chose a tweed suit with red topper, and red and black accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Kingston High School and was employed at Fuller's Shirt Company.

The bridegroom, a graduate of Kingston High School, is now stationed with the Marine Corps at Camp Le Jeune, N. C.

Miss Lois Schick Honored at Shower

Miss Lois Schick was honored at a surprise bridal shower Friday, Nov. 26, at the home of Mrs. Clifford Every of New Salem. Hostesses were Mrs. William Bryant, Mrs. Every and Miss Justina Haber.

Those attending were the Misses Patricia Haber, Jeannette Decker, Mary Schick, and Ella Zoller. Also the Mmes. Joseph Moculski, James Johnson, Walter Peterson, Bertram FitzGibbons, Maurice Planck, Ralph Freer, Robert Freer, Peter Spader, Arthur Haber, Frank Schick, Emory Simons, Robert Graves, Marion Graves, Sarah Schick, Frank Genther, Joseph Thornton, Roger Grimm and Leon Gerlach.

Miss Schick will become the bride of Adolph Munson, Saturday, at the Evangelical Church of the Redeemer.

THE MARQUEE

T.V. — STAGE — RADIO -- RECORDS — PEOPLE

By DICK KLEINER

HORATIO ALGER would have loved TV. Nothing to stop a clean-living boy from making his fortune. Take three boys — whom we will assume are clean-living — named Ely Landau, Oliver Unger and Harold Goldman. Last January, they formed National Telefilm Associates, which distributes such TV shows as "China Smith" and "Orient Express," plus feature-length motion pictures. They'll gross around $4,000,000 this year.

Next year, they're starting a national game called TV Tic-Tac-Toe, which will be conducted in more than 100 cities and will have prizes of $1,000,000.

"I walked in at the beginning of one picture and the middle of another."

One of literature's outstanding Christmas items since Dickens' "A Christmas Carol" seems even better on record. It's Dylan Thomas' "A Child's Christmas In Wales," and Caedmon includes it on a record of Thomas reading his own works. It should serve as a good introduction to Thomas, the poet many people believe was the greatest the 20th Century has produced.

Pianist Jan August, who has lots of time between eight-notes, has fun giving bop titles to Shakespeare's plays. He likes these: "Hamlet" — "The Cat From Denmark"; "Comedy of Errors" — "Crazy, Man, Crazy"; "King Lear"—"The Mad One"; "The Winter's Tale"—"Cool, Cool"; "Romeo and Juliet" — "Crazy Mixed-Up Kids."

How about "Much Ado About Nthing"—"Real Gone."

Julius Schulman Presents Concert At Auditorium

Julius Schulman proved a true virtuoso of the violin in the solo concert given Saturday evening at municipal auditorium.

In a diversified program from Handel to Dvorak, Mr. Schulman proved his competence and mastery of the instrument. The Concerto in D Major by Tschaikowsky was his most ambitious work of the evening, in which he demonstrated a firm grasp of the technique required for the successful performance.

Following intermission, the appreciative audience of some 250, heard Ballade and Polonaise by Vieuxtemps, The Bell by Paganini, and Scherzo Tarantelle, by Wieniawski.

In the light and very modern selection, The Hot Canary by Nero, Mr. Schulman caught the quality of the piece. Hejre Kati, the piece that won him the Arthur Godfrey Talent Scouts award, was light yet intricate.

The soloist obliged the request for encores with Flight of the Bumblebee, by Rimsky-Korsakov, and Ave Maria by Schubert. Piano accompaniment was played by Eileen Flissler.

Harry W. Brandt, Former Resident, Weds in New Jersey

The wedding of Miss Rita Wheeler of Sergessville, Pa., and Harry W. Brandt, of Elizabeth, N. J., formerly of this city, was held Friday, Nov. 26 in Elizabeth, N. J.

The attendants were Edward Wheeler, brother of the bride, and Miss Frances Krasinski. The bridegroom is the son of Alderman Harry Brandt of 97 Hunter street. The couple will make their home in Elizabeth, N. J.

When to Wind Watch

The best time to wind your watch is in the morning rather than the evening for two reasons. According to the Jewelry Industry Council, you are more apt to have a regular hour for rising than for going to bed. Your watch appreciates being wound regularly. Also, a mainspring that is fully wound is less sensitive to the jars and strain of your active day. Another reason for winding your watch in the morning rather than the eveing is change in temperature. A mainspring is more apt to break if it is removed from a warm wrist and placed in a cool place, when it is fully wound.

BARBARA B. KROM

Miss Barbara Barnum Krom is engaged to wed Frank B. Matthews, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Matthews of Richmond Park, it was announced by her parents, Dr. and Mrs. John B. Krom of 105 Fair street. The wedding will take place February 12.

Miss Krom is the granddaughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. James Krom of Saugerties and of Mrs. Anson Hoyt Barnum and the late Mr. Barnum of New York and Reading, Pa.

The prospective bride, a member of the Junior League of this city, is a graduate of the Emma Willard School, Troy; Pine Manor Junior College, Wellesley, Mass.; and the Tobe-Coburn School, New York.

Mr. Matthews, who is a graduate of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, served in the Navy during World War 2, and is vice-president of The Bull Markets, Inc. He is a member of the New York Athletic Club and Amrita Club, Poughkeepsie. (Hal Phyfe Photo)

Miss Beverly Falk, William R. Myers Wed in Palenville

Miss Beverly Ann Falk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Falk of Palenville, became the bride of William R. Myers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene W. Myers of Saugerties, in a double ring ceremony Sunday at 2 p. m. at Palenville Methodist Church. The Rev. D. A. Garey officiated.

Mrs Harold Bloom was soloist in the selections, O Promise Me and The Lord's Prayer. She was accompanied by Mrs. D. A. Garey on the organ. Candles and white pompons formed the decorations in the church.

Miss Lois Myers, sister of the bridegroom, of Saugerties, was honor attendant. She wore a waltz length gown of green velveteen and carried a bouquet of yellow pompons.

The bridesmaids were Miss Nancy Hommel and Miss Ruth Mower of Saugerties. They wore red velveteen waltz length gowns and carried bronze pompons.

Miss Alice Myers, sister of the bridegroom, was flower girl. She wore a gown of green velveteen with matching headpiece, and carried a basket of yellow and bronze pompons.

Floyd Falk, Jr., of Palenville, brother of the bride, served as best man. The ushers were Carlton Sperl of Saugerties and James Rockefeller of Cairo. Eric Bruck, cousin of the bride, was ringbearer.

A reception was held at the Woodbine Hotel in Palenville for 100 guests.

Following a wedding trip to Washington, D. C., the couple will live in Greenville. For traveling, the bride wore a white faille dress and a corsage of red roses.

The bride is a graduate of Palenville public schools and attended Catskill High School.

The bridegroom, a graduate of Saugerties High School, is with Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corp. He served three years in the army.

The earliest method of telling time was to mark off the shadows of trees.

TO MAKE A CHILD'S CHRISTMAS HAPPY—Members of the WSCS of Trinity Methodist Church packed gifts for children at the Methodist Mission Settlement in Uniontown, Pa., at their meeting Thursday afternoon at the church. Aiding in this project were, (l-r), Mrs. John Riebhoff, wife of the pastor of the church, Mrs. Edward Hillis, Mrs. Frank Thompson, Mrs. Fred Deming, Mrs. William DuBois and Mrs. Egbert Schoonmaker. Gladys Stoutenburgh, Ronald Burdette Rice Wed at St. Mary's

The wedding of Miss Gladys Abigail Stoutenburgh of 526 Delaware avenue, and Ronald Burdette Rice, of 159 Mary's avenue, took place Saturday, Nov. 27 at 7 p. m. at St. Mary's Church. The Rev. John A. Flaherty assistant pastor of St. Mary's performed the double ring candlelight ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Stoutenburgh and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Rice.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white lace cocktail dress with satin cap sleeves and carried an old fashioned nosegay of white pompons.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Leon Smith, aunt of the bride. She wore a dress of aqua tulle with lace bodice, matching mitts and cap and carried a nosegay of pink pompons.

Joseph Viano, brother in law of the bridegroom, served as best man.

After a reception at the home of the bride's parents, for 75 guests, Mr. and Mrs. Rice left on a trip to New York city and North Carolina. For traveling, the bride chose a tweed suit with red topper, and red and black accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Kingston High School and was employed at Fuller's Shirt Company.

The bridegroom, a graduate of Kingston High School, is now stationed with the Marine Corps at Camp Le Jeune, N. C.

The couple will make their home in North Carolina.

New York — (NEA) — The uses of cotton for pretty at-home clothes are many. Fashions for holiday wear combine high style with brilliant color and a truly practical warmth.

Favorite fabrics for these at-home and party clothes are velveteen, cotton lace and quilted cotton. Bright floral prints are sometimes combined with black velveteen for sharp contrast.

The young housewife who does a lot of entertaining during the holidays (and all of her own housework) will have more fun as a hostess if she dresses to the occasion. Designed especially for at-home hours, the floral top in cotton (left) is worn with slim black velveteen pants. The blouse goes either in or out, has a tiny edging of black lace.

Most households have a certain number of visitors who just drop in during the holidays. The one costume that will get you by gracefully, yet permit you to be comfortable, too, is the little robe that's cut to look like a dress (right). This is a floral-printed cotton, quilted for warmth.

Julius Schulman Presents Concert At Auditorium

Julius Schulman proved a true virtuoso of the violin in the solo concert given Saturday evening at municipal auditorium.

In a diversified program from Handel to Dvorak, Mr. Schulman proved his competence and mastery of the instrument. The Concerto in D Major by Tschaikowsky was his most ambitious work of the evening, in which he demonstrated a firm grasp of the technique required for the successful performance.

Following intermission, the appreciative audience of some 250, heard Ballade and Polonaise by Vieuxtemps, The Bell by Paganini, and Scherzo Tarantelle, by Wieniawski.

In the light and very modern selection, The Hot Canary by Nero, Mr. Schulman caught the quality of the piece. Hejre Kati, the piece that won him the Arthur Godfrey Talent Scouts award, was light yet intricate.

The soloist obliged the request for encores with Flight of the Bumblebee, by Rimsky-Korsakov, and Ave Maria by Schubert. Piano accompaniment was played by Eileen Flissler.

Harry W. Brandt, Former Resident, Weds in New Jersey

When to Wind Watch

The best time to wind your watch is in the morning rather than the evening for two reasons. According to the Jewelry Industry Council, you are more apt to have a regular hour for rising than for going to bed. Your watch appreciates being wound regularly. Also, a mainspring that is fully wound is less sensitive to the jars and strain of your active day. Another reason for winding your watch in the morning rather than the eveing is change in temperature. A mainspring is more apt to break if it is removed from a warm wrist and placed in a cool place, when it is fully wound.

A SAD CHRISTMAS

Today's first letter tells me: "My mother died a month ago and I would like to know just how far I can go in celebrating Christmas this year without bringing criticism upon myself. Would it be proper to exchange Christmas presents as usual with my friends, and also to have a Christmas tree in the house?"

This is entirely a question of your own feeling. If you feel up to it, you may exchange Christmas presents with your closest friends. You also may have wreaths in your window and a small Christmas tree—especially if there are young children in the family.

Would It Be Dignified?

Dear Mrs. Post: Although I am not a professional photographer, I have often taken photographs for friends, including candid wedding pictures. (Photography is my hobby and I have my own dark room.) My son is to be married soon and he would like me to take pictures of the wedding. Since photographs are a big item of expense I would be willing to do this for him but am wondering if it would be undignified for me to go about the church snapping pictures instead of sitting in the front pew next to my husband as the mother of the bridegroom ordinarily would do.

Answer: I am sorry, but it would really be despoiling to the dignity of the wedding to have the bridegroom's mother running around snapping pictures.

Does She Shake Hands?

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I have a wager of one dollar on the following question which we would like you to settle. When a man and woman are introduced, is it, or is it not, proper for her to extend her hand in greeting?

Answer: It is correct for her to proffer her hand, but it would not be discourteous on her part to fail to do so.

Is it good taste to use place cards for a small dinner party? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. Her booklet No. 504, "Table Setting," describes the use of place cards. Priest Is Arrested

Buenos Aires, Argentina, Dec. 6 (AP)—Argentine police have arrested another Roman Catholic priest, bringing to eight the number jailed since a controversy between President Juan D. Peron and part of the Argentine clergy broke into the open last month. Federal police in Cordoba announced yesterday they had picked up the Rev. Nazareno Manni. He was accused of disrespect for the president, a charge carrying a maximum penalty of three years in prison.

HEALTH FOR ALL

THROUGH A PANE OF GLASS

One of the great moments in a woman's life comes when for the first time she holds her baby in her arms and studies the astonishing perfection of the tiny creature in its first day of life. Yet there are mothers to whom this moment is forbidden. They see their babies only through a pane of glass.

Even at Christmas they cannot carry their babies in to see the tree, cannot watch their eyes light up or hear their chortles of glee. These mothers have tuberculosis. How terribly unfortunate, you say. And yet, in a way, they are fortunate, and they know it. Not so long ago it was feared that bearing a child would make the mother's TB much worse. Abortion sometimes seemed necessary to spare her life.

Recent research has shown that, in fact, the expectant mother who has TB usually fares better if her pregnacy is continued to the normal delivery of the child than if it is interrupted. It appeared that therapeutic abortion often had a worse effect on TB than full-term delivery.

The tuberculous woman can be just as sure as any woman that her baby will be born healthy. Of course, the baby must be kept away from her to protect it from infection. It may be months before her TB is cured and she can safely take him in her arms. But she can know that she has not infected her child.

First, and most important, of course, it must be known that the mother has TB. A chest X-ray and other tests for TB are now considered an important part of pre-natal care. If TB is discovered the doctor can take the special measures necessary to protect both mother and child. Yet, it need not have happened at all. TB is not necessary.

TB can be prevented. Your tuberculosis association is one of 3,000 working throughout the year in all parts of the country to check the spread of this tragic disease. When you buy and use Christmas Seals to support your tuberculosis association, you help to remove the pane of glass that separates too many mothers from their babies.

Defies Party Lines

London, Dec. 6 (AP)—Clement Attlee's only son, Martin, has defied party lines in picking a bride. The engagement of the Labor party leader's 27-year-old son and Anne Henderson, 24, was announced today. Miss Henderson's father was an unsuccessful candidate for the House of Commons on the Conservative ticket in 1950. Young Attlee works for an oil company in London.

Glasco Residents Vote for Exclusion

Saugerties, Dec. 6—Residents of Glasco at a special meeting held for the airing of the school situation voted 70 to 3 in favor of investigating the possibility of having Glasco excluded from the centralization program proposed for the schools of the township.

Charles Riccardi, president of the Glasco Board of Education, will head the committee which will investigate the situation and will probably make such a proposal to the State Education Department.

Various spokesmen at the meeting pointed out that exclusion from the centralization program was not motivated by an outright disapproval of the program but was due more to the general attitude in Glasco that the residents of that hamlet had the least to gain from such a project.

Plimley Resigns As Scouting Head

Saugerties, Dec. 6—William C. Plimley tendered his resignation as district commissioner at the monthly meeting of the Saugerties District, Boy Scouts of America. No official reason was given for his resignation. He said that he would by no means quit scouting and indicated that he would continue in his capacity as explorer advisor of Post 130 sponsored by the VFW and offered his fullest cooperation to the new commissioner.

District Chairman John J. Wood Sr., said that the appointment of a temporary district commissioner would be announced shortly.

Plans for the annual Boy Scout-Girl Scout Christmas Party were discussed and Mrs. William Ormandy was appointed chairman.

Frank Bourke, Council Camp Chairman of Kingston spoke on the subject of camp promotion for next summer. He said that kodachrome slides of the new photos taken at Camp Tri-Mount were now avaible for showing at summer camp promotion and parent's nights.

In the absence of Frank Teel, field scout executive, George Dennis, scout executive from the council office presented the summary and projection. Dennis announced the following awards:

Explorer Post 730, VFW was awarded the banner for re-registration on time, Blue Bell award for increased membership, and the Gold Bell award for functioning manpower.

Cub Pack 38, Saugerties Reformed Church received the banner award for re-registering on time and the Blue Bell award for increased membership.

The Rip Van Winkle Council has arranged a program for Explorer Scouts which includes a tour of Stewart Air Force Base at Newburgh Saturday's, Jan. 8, 15, 22, and 29. Reservations must be in the council office no later than Dec. 31.

Chairman Wood announced additional figures on the Saugerties Finance Drive. The total of the drive at this date is $2,238.68. He emphasized that collection drive envelopes are coming in from time to time and asked the cooperation of those money to make returns as quickly as possible.

The next meeting of the district is tentatively scheduled to be held at St. Mary's School on Cedar street on Thursday, Jan. 6 at 8 p. m.

46 Employes Lost Jobs Due to Law

New York, Dec. 6 (AP)—Forty-six employes of the city board of education were separated from their positions between Dec. 1, 1953, and Nov. 1, 1954, in the course of the operation of the Feinberg law, the board revealed today.

The law bars members of subversive organizations from employment in the public school systems of New York state.

In a previous report, the board said 63 employes were separated between Nov. 1, 1952, and Nov. 30, 1953.

The current report was contained in a letter sent to State Education Commissioner Lewis A. Wilson by Board of Education President Arthur Levitt. Levitt, Democratic-Liberal party comptroller-elect, is Gov.-Elect Averell Harriman's adviser on school matters.

The letter accompanied the regular yearly certified report due from all school districts in the state.

Levitt certified to Wilson that investigation shows that none of the 57,467 superintendents, teachers and other employes of the New York city public school system is now charged with subversive activities or with membership in the Communist party or any other subversive organization.

Parts Unbelievably Small

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service

When today's hand was played in a recent total point team match, one declarer was defeated by an unexpected shift to his weak suit. The other declarer expected the unexpected and took measures against it.

In both cases the final contract was three no-trump, and the opening lead was the jack of hearts. The first declarer took the ace of hearts and speedily cashed the three top clubs. He slowed down, however, when West discarded a heart on the third round of clubs.

Since the clubs were the chief hope for the contract, declarer next give up a club trick to East's jack. West discarded another low heart on this trick.

By this time it was easy for East to see that his partner had lost interest in the hearts. It was equally easy for East to see that a shift to diamonds was the best chance to defeat the contract. Hence East led the ten of diamonds, and the defenders rattled off four diamonds, setting the game contract.

At the second table, the declarer was Dick Miller, well-known expert of York, Pa. Dick saw that he needed four club tricks and that only a disaster in diamonds could endanger the contract.

After very brief thought he saw that there could be no disaster in diamonds if West had to begin that suit. No matter how the six missing diamonds might be divided, the defenders could not take more than three tricks in the suit provided that West had to lead it first.

For example, give West four diamonds to the king-jack, and give East the ace-ten, the most dangerous possible division of the suit. West can begin the suit by leading low to East's ace.

East then leads the ten, and South plays low. That gives the defenders three, but only three tricks.

Having come to this conclusion, Miller played the clubs in such a way that West but not East might win a trick in the suit. He won the first trick with dummy's ace of hearts and immediatly led a low club in order to finesse the ten from his hand.

The finesse happened to win, and now Miller took the first ten tricks. Even if the club finesse had lost, however, the contract would have been assured against any defense.

TV Audience Has Chance to Observe Artery Operation

New York, Dec. 6 (AP)—A nationwide television audience, last night had a chance to see surgeons perform an arterial transplant, described as one of the most striking advances in surgery in recent years.

The actual operation took place some days ago at Methodist Hospital in Houston, Tex., and was broadcast from film over the NBC-TV network. The patient, George Chisum, a 43-year-old oil-worker of Orange, Tex., appeared on the program and said:

"This operation I had was a serious operation . . . I had pains in my chest and now I feel fine. I feel like I am ready to go back to work, which is pushing tools on a drilling rig. For as I feel now, I feel as sound as a dollar."

Chisum had suffered from an aneurism of the aorta, a condition which threatens sudden rupture of the aorta and normally results in death. The aorta is a big artery leading from the heart.

By a delicate surgical technique, Chisum's aorta was cut out and replaced by a non-diseased artery taken from a donor who had died only a few hours earlier.

Glasco Residents Vote for Exclusion

Saugerties, Dec. 6—Residents of Glasco at a special meeting held for the airing of the school situation voted 70 to 3 in favor of investigating the possibility of having Glasco excluded from the centralization program proposed for the schools of the township.

Charles Riccardi, president of the Glasco Board of Education, will head the committee which will investigate the situation and will probably make such a proposal to the State Education Department.

Various spokesmen, at the meeting pointed out that exclusion from the centralization program was not motivated by an outright disapproval of the program but was due more to the general attitude in Glasco that the residents of that hamlet had the least to gain from such a project.

Plimley Resigns As Scouting Head

Saugerties, Dec. 6—William C. Plimley tendered his resignation as district commissioner at the monthly meeting of the Saugerties District, Boy Scouts of America. No official reason was given for his resignation. He said that he would by no means quit scouting and indicated that he would continue in his capacity as explorer advisor of Post 130 sponsored by the VFW and offered his fullest cooperation to the new commissioner.

District Chairman John J. Wood Sr., said that the appointment of a temporary district commissioner would be announced shortly.

Plans for the annual Boy Scout-Girl Scout Christmas Party were discussed and Mrs. William Ormandy was appointed chairman.

Frank Bourke, Council Camp Chairman of Kingston spoke on the subject of camp promotion for next summer. He said that kodachrome slides of the new photos taken at Camp Tri-Mount were now avaible for showing at summer camp promotion and parent's nights.

In the absence of Frank Teel, field scout executive, George Dennis, scout executive from the council office presented the summary and projection. Dennis announced the following awards:

Explorer Post 730, VFW was awarded the banner for re-registration on time, Blue Bell award for increased membership, and the Gold Bell award for functioning manpower.

Cub Pack 38, Saugerties Reformed Church received the banner award for re-registering on time and the Blue Bell award for increased membership.

The Rip Van Winkle Council has arranged a program for Explorer Scouts which includes a tour of Stewart Air Force Base at Newburgh Saturday's, Jan. 8, 15, 22, and 29. Reservations must be in the council office no later than Dec. 31.

Chairman Wood announced additional figures on the Saugerties Finance Drive. The total of the drive at this date is $2,238.68. He emphasized that collection drive envelopes are coming in from time to time and asked the cooperation of those money to make returns as quickly as possible.

The next meeting of the district is tentatively scheduled to be held at St. Mary's School on Cedar street on Thursday, Jan. 6 at 8 p. m.

46 Employes Lost Jobs Due to Law

New York, Dec. 6 (AP)—Forty-six employes of the city board of education were separated from their positions between Dec. 1, 1953, and Nov. 1, 1954, in the course of the operation of the Feinberg law, the board revealed today.

The law bars members of subversive organizations from employment in the public school systems of New York state.

In a previous report, the board said 63 employes were separated between Nov. 1, 1952, and Nov. 30, 1953.

The current report was contained in a letter sent to State Education Commissioner Lewis A. Wilson by Board of Education President Arthur Levitt. Levitt, Democratic-Liberal party comptroller-elect, is Gov.-Elect Averell Harriman's adviser on school matters.

The letter accompanied the regular yearly certified report due from all school districts in the state.

Levitt certified to Wilson that investigation shows that none of the 57,467 superintendents, teachers and other employes of the New York city public school system is now charged with subversive activities or with membership in the Communist party or any other subversive organization.

Team Match Shows Interesting Play

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

When today's hand was played in a recent total point team match, one declarer was defeated by an unexpected shift to his weak suit. The other declarer expected the unexpected and took measures against it.

In both cases the final contract was three no-trump, and the opening lead was the jack of hearts. The first declarer took the ace of hearts and speedily cashed the three top clubs. He slowed down, however, when West discarded a heart on the third round of clubs.

Since the clubs were the chief hope for the contract, declarer next give up a club trick to East's jack. West discarded another low heart on this trick.

By this time it was easy for East to see that his partner had lost interest in the hearts. It was equally easy for East to see that a shift to diamonds was the best chance to defeat the contract. Hence East led the ten of diamonds, and the defenders rattled off four diamonds, setting the game contract.

At the second table, the declarer was Dick Miller, well-known expert of York, Pa. Dick saw that he needed four club tricks and that only a disaster in diamonds could endanger the contract.

After very brief thought he saw that there could be no disaster in diamonds if West had to begin that suit. No matter how the six missing diamonds might be divided, the defenders could not take more than three tricks in the suit provided that West had to lead it first.

For example, give West four diamonds to the king-jack, and give East the ace-ten, the most dangerous possible division of the suit. West can begin the suit by leading low to East's ace.

East then leads the ten, and South plays low. That gives the defenders three, but only three tricks.

Having come to this conclusion, Miller played the clubs in such a way that West but not East might win a trick in the suit. He won the first trick with dummy's ace of hearts and immediatly led a low club in order to finesse the ten from his hand.

The finesse happened to win, and now Miller took the first ten tricks. Even if the club finesse had lost, however, the contract would have been assured against any defense.

TV Audience Has Chance to Observe Artery Operation

New York, Dec. 6 (AP)—A nationwide television audience, last night had a chance to see surgeons perform an arterial transplant, described as one of the most striking advances in surgery in recent years.

The actual operation took place some days ago at Methodist Hospital in Houston, Tex., and was broadcast from film over the NBC-TV network. The patient, George Chisum, a 43-year-old oil-worker of Orange, Tex., appeared on the program and said:

"This operation I had was a serious operation . . . I had pains in my chest and now I feel fine. I feel like I am ready to go back to work, which is pushing tools on a drilling rig. For as I feel now, I feel as sound as a dollar."

Chisum had suffered from an aneurism of the aorta, a condition which threatens sudden rupture of the aorta and normally results in death. The aorta is a big artery leading from the heart.

By a delicate surgical technique, Chisum's aorta was cut out and replaced by a non-diseased artery taken from a donor who had died only a few hours earlier.

A SAD CHRISTMAS

Today's first letter tells me: "My mother died a month ago and I would like to know just how far I can go in celebrating Christmas this year without bringing criticism upon myself. Would it be proper to exchange Christmas presents as usual with my friends, and also to have a Christmas tree in the house?"

This is entirely a question of your own feeling. If you feel up to it, you may exchange Christmas presents with your closest friends. You also may have wreaths in your window and a small Christmas tree—especially if there are young children in the family.

Would It Be Dignified?

Dear Mrs. Post: Although I am not a professional photographer, I have often taken photographs for friends, including candid wedding pictures. (Photography is my hobby and I have my own dark room.) My son is to be married soon and he would like me to take pictures of the wedding. Since photographs are a big item of expense I would be willing to do this for him but am wondering if it would be undignified for me to go about the church snapping pictures instead of sitting in the front pew next to my husband as the mother of the bridegroom ordinarily would do.

Answer: I am sorry, but it would really be despoiling to the dignity of the wedding to have the bridegroom's mother running around snapping pictures.

Does She Shake Hands?

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I have a wager of one dollar on the following question which we would like you to settle. When a man and woman are introduced, is it, or is it not, proper for her to extend her hand in greeting?

Answer: It is correct for her to proffer her hand, but it would not be discourteous on her part to fail to do so.

Is it good taste to use place cards for a small dinner party? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. Her booklet No. 504, "Table Setting," describes the use of place cards. Priest Is Arrested

Buenos Aires, Argentina, Dec. 6 (AP)—Argentine police have arrested another Roman Catholic priest, bringing to eight the number jailed since a controversy between President Juan D. Peron and part of the Argentine clergy broke into the open last month. Federal police in Cordoba announced yesterday they had picked up the Rev. Nazareno Manni. He was accused of disrespect for the president, a charge carrying a maximum penalty of three years in prison.

HEALTH FOR ALL

THROUGH A PANE OF GLASS

One of the great moments in a woman's life comes when for the first time she holds her baby in her arms and studies the astonishing perfection of the tiny creature in its first day of life. Yet there are mothers to whom this moment is forbidden. They see their babies only through a pane of glass.

Even at Christmas they cannot carry their babies in to see the tree, cannot watch their eyes light up or hear their chortles of glee. These mothers have tuberculosis. How terribly unfortunate, you say. And yet, in a way, they are fortunate, and they know it. Not so long ago it was feared that bearing a child would make the mother's TB much worse. Abortion sometimes seemed necessary to spare her life.

Recent research has shown that, in fact, the expectant mother who has TB usually fares better if her pregnacy is continued to the normal delivery of the child than if it is interrupted. It appeared that therapeutic abortion often had a worse effect on TB than full-term delivery.

The tuberculous woman can be just as sure as any woman that her baby will be born healthy. Of course, the baby must be kept away from her to protect it from infection. It may be months before her TB is cured and she can safely take him in her arms. But she can know that she has not infected her child.

First, and most important, of course, it must be known that the mother has TB. A chest X-ray and other tests for TB are now considered an important part of pre-natal care. If TB is discovered the doctor can take the special measures necessary to protect both mother and child. Yet, it need not have happened at all. TB is not necessary.

TB can be prevented. Your tuberculosis association is one of 3,000 working throughout the year in all parts of the country to check the spread of this tragic disease. When you buy and use Christmas Seals to support your tuberculosis association, you help to remove the pane of glass that separates too many mothers from their babies.

This column is sponsored, in the interest of better health, by the Ulster County TB and Health Association, 74 John street.

Dixon and Yates Defend Contracts As 2-Sided Good

Washington, Dec. 6 (AP)—The Dixon-Yates controversy bubbled up anew last night in advance of another round of government hearings involving the multi-million-dollar private power contract.

With the securities and exchange commission preparing to hear tomorrow the pros and cons of Dixon-Yates' plea for an okay on their financing plans for an electric generating plant at West Memphis, Ark:

1. Edgar H. Dixon and E. A. Yates, heads of the two utilities that make up the private power group, defended the contract as good for both the government and the taxpayers.

2. The American Public Power Assn. said its members would be "seriously and adversely" affected by the proposal and announced it plans to fight it at the SEC hearing.

3. A private group headed by Walter Van Tresckow of New York renewed its offer to carry out the project, saying its plan would save the government at least 150 million dollars over Dixon-Yates.

DIXON-YATES wants SEC approval of its plans to issue 51½ million dollars worth of stock and 100 to 120 million dollars in bonds and notes to finance the West Memphis plant.

The plant is called for under Dixon-Yates' contract with the atomic energy commission to supply power for the Memphis, Tenn., area. The power would be sent over Tennessee Valley Authority (TVA) public power lines to make up for some TVA electricity being supplied to atomic plants.

The administration-backed project was a center of Senate debate last summer, figured as one of the campaign issues before the Nov. 2 election and won approval from the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee last month only after some tumultuous hearings and over the protests of committee Democrats.

Dixon and Yates, interviewed on an NBC radio-TV program last night, said that as far as charges of [illegible] profits were concerned they had [illegible]antee of a profit or anything.'

DIXON SAID the group has "no fight" with TVA and "no desire to take them over or invade their territory." Denying the contention that the contract was an "opening wedge to destroy TVA," he said it has "no significance as a public power-private power fight" but rather is just like other private power contracts negotiated by AEC.

Yates, asked if he thought politics were involved in the controversy, said "I'm afraid there is."

The Public Power Association said its members in the TVA area would be affected through the price they must pay for TVA power.

Von Tresckow said his proposal, turned down by the budget bureau as too vague and offering no "clear savings," is "not a thing of the past but is presently in effect and continuing." His estimate of 150 million dollars lower cost to the government was offered against the AEC computation that the Dixon-Yates contract would cost about 20 million dollars a year over a 25-40 year period.

Von Tresckow's statement was prepared for the Senate-House committee's hearing record.

Will Offer Materials

New Delhi, India, Dec. 6 (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru told Parliament today India is willing to "offer some minerals and sands which we have in abundance" to the atoms-for-peace pool President Eisenhower has proposed. Nehru told a questioner the entire matter depends on the formation of the international agency the United States wants to see set up and "also what part we have in that agency." Nehru denied to another questioner that India had offered to contribute thorium or uranium for the proposed atomic pool. He explained: "We don't have them. We are in search for them. We would like to get them, but how can we offer things we don't have?"

Must Make Quotas

Vienna, Austria, Dec. 6 (AP)—Czechoslovakia's Communist regime ruled today that workers can not have the afternoon before Christmas off if their plants have not fulfilled production quotas. In central Europe it is customary for shops and industrial plants to close at noon Dec. 24. The Prague newspaper Rude Pravo, publishing the decree, said also that New Year's Day is to be considered a normal workday.

1,404 Rebels Quit

Tunis, Tunisia, Dec. 6 (AP)—With three days left before the amnesty deadline in Tunisia, a total of 1,404 rebels have surrendered, a joint French-Tunisian statement said today. Under terms of the amnesty offer, both the French and Tunisian governments are to wage a determined campaign against holdouts after Dec. 9. Those who declare themselves and give up their arms before this date are guaranteed immunity from prosecution for rebellion. French officials estimate about 2,000 Tunisians were in the outlaw band before the current offer was made. A total of 172 surrendered last night.

Vice Admiral Dies

Safe-Driving Day Gets Full Backing Of Local Officials

"Safe-Driving Day" will be observed throughout the nation on Wednesday, December 15, when motorists are being urged to drive carefully and make that day "accident free" throughout the country.

President Eisenhower has proclaimed December 15, "S-D Day" and local officials are joining in that move with the objective of having 24 hours of December 15 accident free. Locally the Ulster County Board of Supervisors has proclaimed December 15 Safe Driving Day and appointed Ralph E. Post, deputy county clerk in charge of the motor vehicle bureau office, director.

Mayor Frederick H. Stang has also proclaimed the day and Sheriff Cluett Schantz, Police Chief Raymond Van Buren of the Kingston police department and State Police officials have joined the movement.

The campaign is being backed by service clubs and other civic groups in an effort to "save life."

The campaign is designed to make all motorists mindful of the fact that careful driving can become a habit and that many of the lives lost in traffic accidents can be saved.

In 1953 the death toll on American highways reached the appalling total of 38,000. One person was killed in traffic accidents every 14½ minutes throughout the year.

Over 1,350,000 were injured and the monetary loss has been figured at over four billions of dollars. Much of this loss could have been prevented by more careful driving and a little more thought for the other person.

Ulster County Director Ralph E. Post pointed out that in New York state alone this year 167,000 licenses have been revoked because of unsafe driving operations of one sort or another. Many of these revocations were the result of accidents which could have been prevented.

All motorists in Kingston and this area are urged to make every effort to always drive carefully but especially so on S-D Day, December 15, to demonstrate that at least one day of 1954 can be accident free.

Governor Dewey has requested state police to participate in the accident-free program and from First Army Headquarters at Governors Island comes the announcement that the army will make an "all out" effort to cooperate with President Eisenhower's proclamation to "Let's Strive to Stay Alive."

The traveler's check has been in use since 1891.

Savings and Loan Members Pass $10,000,000 Mark

The total of the savings of more than 5,500 members of the Savings and Loan Association of Kingston passed the $10,000,000 mark in the month of November, E. Frank Flanagan, president of the Savings and Loan Association of Kingston, reports.

In 1933 when Mr. Flanagan was first elected president of the association the total savings accounts amounted to only $1,293,000. In the year of 1933, the total receipts of the association including savings and payments on mortgages including interest, only amounted to $478,000 for the full year. In a two months period of 1954 the total savings of the members alone amounts to more than this figure. In this period of 21 years, the Association has grown nearly $10,000,000.

THE ASSOCIATION was chartered originally and commenced business in 1892, and it had taken 41 years to grow to $1,290,000 in savings. Now in 21 years time it has increased nearly $9,000,000.

The officers, directors and staff of the Savings and Loan Association of Kingston are proud of the success that the association has had in service to the community under the leadership of President Flanagan. On August 26 of this year the association passed the $11,000,000 mark in total assets and is continuing its steady growth, it was pointed out.

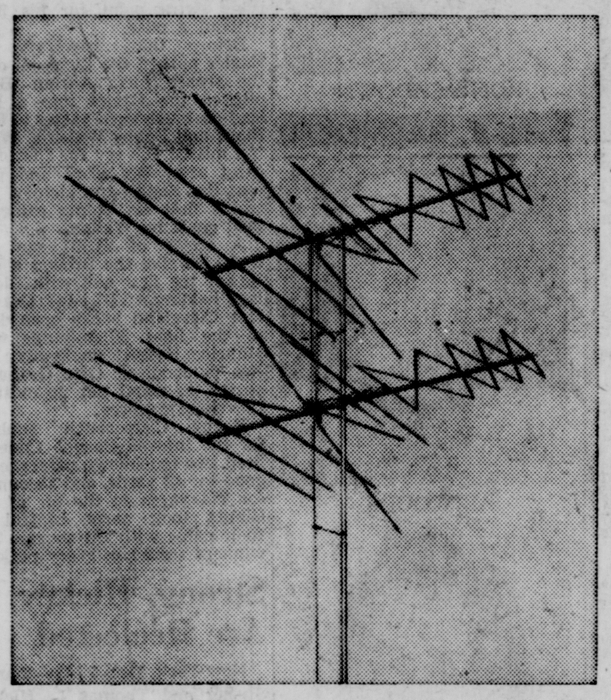
KINGSTON AREA RESIDENTS

The JFD JET-HELIX RAINBOW Antenna will give the clearest, sharpest TV picture in Kingston and surrounding areas!



Nobody can "talk away" this fact because it is a fact! Field tests conducted in Kingston prove the JFD Jet-Helix Rainbow outperforms competitive antennas in delivering power-charged, interference-free reception on Channels 2, 4, 5, 6, 7, 9, 11, 13!

THIS WAS THE TEST!

The JFD Jet-Helix Rainbow Antenna and other competitive makes were oriented in the same direction, from the same location, at the same time of day. The antennas used identical transmission lines of equal length and results were compared on the same television receiver. The audience, composed of dealers actually handling rival antennas passed judgment:

THE JET-HELIX RAINBOW WAS CONSIDERED FAR SUPERIOR TO THEIR VERY OWN COMPETITIVE ANTENNAS!

THIS.. THIS.. or THIS..

This is why the JFD JET-HELIX outperformed!

The JFD Jet-Helix Rainbow Antenna incorporates a radical new microwave helical design — the same design found in giant observatory telescopes! Like a giant telescope, the Jet-Helix Rainbow actually magnifies the signal while its helical and booster elements charge the same weak signal with new power and resonance! You see pictures unbelievably clear, brilliant — so real and true-to-life, they literally jump off your screen!

The JFD Jet-Helix Rainbow has a high front-to-back ratio. It is extremely sensitive to signals approaching from the front. "Pirate" signals approaching from the back and side are shut out! That means ghosts, snow and other interference cannot reach your set. You enjoy pure, and only the pure, super-powered signals of all stations in your area!

The Jet-Helix Rainbow is made entirely of aluminum by ALCOA. It is rust-proof and corrosion-resistant . . . reinforced at points of stress to withstand wind and storm. It'll give you years of service because JFD has built it for years of service!

WITH YOUR NEW SET INSTALLATION

Insist on a JFD Jet-Helix Rainbow Antenna and be sure you get the best. Ask your dealer for a side-by-side demonstration with any other antenna —and see the difference!

WITH YOUR OLD SET INSTALLATION

Change to a JFD Jet-Helix Rainbow and be sure of superb reception on the channels you've been receiving!

FOR BRILLIANT BLACK AND WHITE RECEPTION AS WELL AS FULL FIDELITY COLOR—NO ANTENNA PERFORMS AS WELL AS THE JET-HELIX RAINBOW!

MADE BY THE JFD MANUFACTURING CO., Inc., Brooklyn, N. Y., World's Largest Manufacturer of TV Antennas and Accessories.

To avoid substitutes, ask for the one and only JFD JET-HELIX RAINBOW by name. Look for the ALCOA aluminum label — your guarantee of quality.
Reach out for all old and new stations in your area — present and future — with the JFD "ROTO-KING" Rotator. The "ROTO-KING" plus the "JET-HELIX" guarantees you the finest reception known in modern electronics.

Dixon and Yates Defend Contracts As 2-Sided Good

Washington, Dec. 6 (AP)—The Dixon-Yates controversy bubbled up anew last night in advance of another round of government hearings involving the multi-million-dollar private power contract.

With the securities and exchange commission preparing to hear tomorrow the pros and cons of Dixon-Yates' plea for an okay on their financing plans for an electric generating plant at West Memphis, Ark:

1. Edgar H. Dixon and E. A. Yates, heads of the two utilities that make up the private power group, defended the contract as good for both the government and the taxpayers.

2. The American Public Power Assn. said its members would be "seriously and adversely" affected by the proposal and announced it plans to fight it at the SEC hearing.

3. A private group headed by Walter Van Tresckow of New York renewed its offer to carry out the project, saying its plan would save the government at least 150 million dollars over Dixon-Yates.

DIXON-YATES wants SEC approval of its plans to issue 5½ million dollars worth of stock and 100 to 120 million dollars in bonds and notes to finance the West Memphis plant.

The plant is called for under Dixon-Yates' contract with the atomic energy commission to supply power for the Memphis, Tenn., area. The power would be sent over Tennessee Valley Authority (TVA) public power lines to make up for some TVA electricity being supplied to atomic plants.

The administration-backed project was a center of Senate debate last summer, figured as one of the campaign issues before the Nov. 2 election and won approval from the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee last month only after some tumultuous hearings and over the protests of committee Democrats.

Dixon and Yates, interviewed on an NBC radio-TV program last night, said that as far as charges of [illegible] profits were concerned they had [illegible]antee of a profit or anything.'

DIXON SAID the group has "no fight" with TVA and "no desire to take them over or invade their territory." Denying the contention that the contract was an "opening wedge to destroy TVA," he said it has "no significance as a public power-private power fight" but rather is just like other private power contracts negotiated by AEC.

Yates, asked if he thought politics were involved in the controversy, said "I'm afraid there is."

The Public Power Association said its members in the TVA area would be affected through the price they must pay for TVA power.

Von Tresckow said his proposal, turned down by the budget bureau as too vague and offering no "clear savings," is "not a thing of the past but is presently in effect and continuing." His estimate of 150 million dollars lower cost to the government was offered against the AEC computation that the Dixon-Yates contract would cost about 20 million dollars a year over a 25-40 year period.

Von Tresckow's statement was prepared for the Senate-House committee's hearing record.

Will Offer Materials

New Delhi, India, Dec. 6 (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru told Parliament today India is willing to "offer some minerals and sands which we have in abundance" to the atoms-for-peace pool President Eisenhower has proposed. Nehru told a questioner the entire matter depends on the formation of the international agency the United States wants to see set up and "also what part we have in that agency." Nehru denied to another questioner that India had offered to contribute thorium or uranium for the proposed atomic pool. He explained: "We don't have them. We are in search for them. We would like to get them, but how can we offer things we don't have?"

Must Make Quotas

Vienna, Austria, Dec. 6 (AP)—Czechoslovakia's Communist regime ruled today that workers can not have the afternoon before Christmas off if their plants have not fulfilled production quotas. In central Europe it is customary for shops and industrial plants to close at noon Dec. 24. The Prague newspaper Rude Pravo, publishing the decree, said also that New Year's Day is to be considered a normal workday.

1,404 Rebels Quit

Tunis, Tunisia, Dec. 6 (AP)—With three days left before the amnesty deadline in Tunisia, a total of 1,404 rebels have surrendered, a joint French-Tunisian statement said today. Under terms of the amnesty offer, both the French and Tunisian governments are to wage a determined campaign against holdouts after Dec. 9. Those who declare themselves and give up their arms before this date are guaranteed immunity from prosecution for rebellion. French officials estimate about 2,000 Tunisians were in the outlaw band before the current offer was made. A total of 172 surrendered last night.

Vice Admiral Dies

Safe-Driving Day Gets Full Backing Of Local Officials

"Safe-Driving Day" will be observed throughout the nation on Wednesday, December 15, when motorists are being urged to drive carefully and make that day "accident free" throughout the country.

President Eisenhower has proclaimed December 15, "S-D Day" and local officials are joining in that move with the objective of having 24 hours of December 15 accident free. Locally the Ulster County Board of Supervisors has proclaimed December 15 Safe Driving Day and appointed Ralph E. Post, deputy county clerk in charge of the motor vehicle bureau office, director.

Mayor Frederick H. Stang has also proclaimed the day and Sheriff Cluett Schantz, Police Chief Raymond Van Buren of the Kingston police department and State Police officials have joined the movement.

The campaign is being backed by service clubs and other civic groups in an effort to "save life."

The campaign is designed to make all motorists mindful of the fact that careful driving can become a habit and that many of the lives lost in traffic accidents can be saved.

In 1953 the death toll on American highways reached the appalling total of 38,000. One person was killed in traffic accidents every 14½ minutes throughout the year.

Over 1,350,000 were injured and the monetary loss has been figured at over four billions of dollars. Much of this loss could have been prevented by more careful driving and a little more thought for the other person.

Ulster County Director Ralph E. Post pointed out that in New York state alone this year 167,000 licenses have been revoked because of unsafe driving operations of one sort or another. Many of these revocations were the result of accidents which could have been prevented.

All motorists in Kingston and this area are urged to make every effort to always drive carefully but especially so on S-D Day, December 15, to demonstrate that at least one day of 1954 can be accident free.

Governor Dewey has requested state police to participate in the accident-free program and from First Army Headquarters at Governors Island comes the announcement that the army will make an "all out" effort to cooperate with President Eisenhower's proclamation to "Let's Strive to Stay Alive."

The traveler's check has been in use since 1891.

Savings and Loan Members Pass $10,000,000 Mark

The total of the savings of more than 5,500 members of the Savings and Loan Association of Kingston passed the $10,000,000 mark in the month of November, E. Frank Flanagan, president of the Savings and Loan Association of Kingston, reports.

In 1933 when Mr. Flanagan was first elected president of the association the total savings accounts amounted to only $1,293,000. In the year of 1933, the total receipts of the association including savings and payments on mortgages including interest, only amounted to $478,000 for the full year. In a two months period of 1954 the total savings of the members alone amounts to more than this figure. In this period of 21 years, the Association has grown nearly $10,000,000.

THE ASSOCIATION was chartered originally and commenced business in 1892, and it had taken 41 years to grow to $1,290,000 in savings. Now in 21 years time it has increased nearly $9,000,000.

The officers, directors and staff of the Savings and Loan Association of Kingston are proud of the success that the association has had in service to the community under the leadership of President Flanagan. On August 26 of this year the association passed the $11,000,000 mark in total assets and is continuing its steady growth, it was pointed out.

League Leaders To Continue Work

Levittown, Dec. 6 (AP)—Leaders of the "League of 20 Million Americans for the Censure of Senator McCarthy" have announced they will keep the organization alive, even though condemnation has been voted.

The league was started after McCarthy supporters formed an anti-censure organization called "Ten Million Americans Mobilized for Justice." Both groups collected signatures on petitions backing their opposing views on censure.

The league's announcement came after its founder, Mrs. Winifred Swanson of Palmer, Mass., and other members met with Larry Alexander at his home here on Long Island. Alexander, a disabled veteran is an advisor to the group.

The announcement said a count of signatures is not yet available but estimated the total at about five million.

The pro-McCarthy group, which has also announced it will continue on a permanent basis, said Saturday it has counted 2,287,143 signatures and the count is continuing.

Wins 300 Races

Miami, Fla., Dec. 6 (AP)—Willie Hartack became the ninth jockey in the history of American racing to win 300 races in a year as he won with So Polite ($39.80) in the second race at Tropical Park Saturday. He later made it 301 with Airpak in the fourth.

White Sox Get Clint Courtney

New York, Dec. 6 (AP)—The Chicago White Sox today completed a seven player deal with the Baltimore Orioles with catcher Clint Courtney moving to the Sox as the big name in the trade.

Going with Courtney to Chicago were pitcher Bob Chakales and infielder Jim Bridgeweser in exchange for pitchers Don Johnson and Don Ferrarese, infielder Fred Marsh and catcher Matt Batts.

The announcement was made here as the major leagues opened their three-day winter meetings.

Brodhead Average 27

Skip Brodhead sparked Lou's Machie Shop's undefeated Y Autumn "A" League season with a 27-point average in 10 games.

The brilliant Maroon forward racked up 270 points as Lou's reeled off 10 straight victories. Last year, the high school players won the Autumn title under the Haber's Grill banner.

Harry's Angels finished with an 8-2 record, losing both games to the Machine Shop.

RUNNERUP IN the individual scoring race was Jay Rider of Murrays with 153 points in nine games, a 16.7 average.

Costa Meets Bell In Parkway Bout

New York, Dec. 6 (AP)—Once-beaten Carmelo Costa, seventh ranking featherweight contender from Brooklyn, is a 12-5 favorite to whip Bobby Bell, ex-GI from youngstown, Ohio, in a 10 rounder at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway Arena tonight (ABC-TV, 10 p. m.). Bell is unbeaten in six fights this year.

ITALY'S Italo Scortichine and Cuba's Chico Varona are rated even in the betting for their welterweight 10-rounder tonight at New York's St. Nicholas Arena (Dumont-TV, 10 p. m.). Scortichini, a busy little fellow, has a 25-14-4 record. Varona's record is 57-16.

Lions Western Champs; Cleveland Ties in East

By ORLO ROBERTSON
(The Associated Press)

One-half of the National Football League's championship bracket was filled today by the familiar Detroit Lions. And the other half figures to be occupied by the even more familiar Cleveland Browns for the title game Dec. 26.

The Lions wrapped up their third straight Western Division title and a chance at their third consecutive league crown by rallying for a touchdown in the final four minutes yesterday to tie the Philadelphia Eagles 13-13.

AT THE SAME time the Browns clinched at least a tie for the Eastern Division title—an honor crried off by Paul Brown's club the last five years. The Browns ground out a methodical 34-14 victory over the Washington Redskins.

The surprising New York Giants, however, maintained a mathematical chance of tying the Browns by defeating the Pittsburgh Steelers 24-3. The Browns, with an 8-2 record, meet Pittsburgh next Sunday and close out the regular campaign on the 19th against Detroit. New York (7-4) winds up against Philadelphia Sunday.

In other games yesterday the Chicago Bears strengthened their hold on second place in the western division with a 29-7 decision over the Chicago Cardinals and San Francisco, still in the running for second place back of the Lions, shut out Green Bay 35-0. Baltimore surprised by defeating Los Angeles 22-21 Saturday.

THE LIONS, beaten only by San Francisco this season ,faced a 13-6 deficit with four minutes to play. Then they sent Lew Carpenter over from a yard out and Doak Walker kicked the tying extra point for his 38th without a miss.

Before that, however, the Eagles pushed the Lions all over the frozen turf. Adrian Burk pitched the Eagles into a 13-3 lead on touchdown passes to Pete Pihos and Bobby Walston. Walston missed the try for the extra point after his score and that cost the Eagles the victory. Detroit's first six points came on field goals by Walker.

A crowd of 21,761 saw the Redskins give the Browns a battle for the first half with Cleveland holding a 17-7 edge. But the fast Cleveland backs opened up in the final 30 minutes with Maurice Bassett going over for two touchdowns. Otto Graham's passes, as usual, set up most of Cleveland's scores.

Bobby Clatterbuck, subbing for the injured Charlie Conerly, fired two touchdown passes, each good for 42 yards, and accounted for 274 yards in the air as the Giants took early control of their game with Pittsburgh. The winners scored in every period.

Strong, Hickey Are Reelected

New York, Dec. 6 (AP)—John E. Strong and Thomas L. Hickey, whom a private anti-crime committee has credited with running the "cleanest" teamster union local in the area, have been reelected as leaders of Local 807.

The ALF International Brotherhood of Teamsters Local, whose membership of 10,000 makes it the largest in the vicinity of New York, retained Strong as president and Hickey as secretary-treasurer by a vote of about 2700 to 1700 yesterday.

The election was marked by spirited campaigning. The New York city anti-crime committee recently charged that underworld elements had raised a fund of $25,000 to $50,000 to help oust Strong and Hickey. It was this committee that condemned the two for running a clean union.

The opposition slate called the committee's charge an "unmitigated and malicious falsehood."

Early season skirmishes in the Ulster Athletic League forecast a lively pennant scramble among Kerhonkson, Saugerties and Marlboro, the defending champions.

None of the other squads can be counted out as contenders, but this trio appears power laden.

Saugerties was overwhelming in its 60-46 conquest of Highland on the southern Ulster boards, a significant achievement for Coach Bill Straub's cagers.

COACH CHICK Meehan's Kerhonkson squad tripped Onteora Central, 41-32, in its opener and followed with a 45-36 win over Wallkill Central.

Coach Ed McGrath's Marlborough basketeers flashed good power in upending New Paltz, 65-53.

Onteora seeks its first win of the league season on its home boards against Highland Tuesday night. Next Friday, the regular three-game slate is scheduled with Marlborough visiting Saugerties and New Paltz hosting Kerhonkson. Wallkill goes to Highland in the other game.

WERNER WUSTRAU and Art Stockin sparked Kerhonkson's closing drive against Wallkill Central. Wallkill stayed close for nearly three quarters of the game then collapsed under Kerhonkson pressure in the stretch.

Wustrau rimmed 15 points and Stockin hit a dozen. Wilson Edmunds rimmed 11 and Ron Wager had 10 for Wallkill.

League Leaders To Continue Work

Levittown, Dec. 6 (AP)—Leaders of the "League of 20 Million Americans for the Censure of Senator McCarthy" have announced they will keep the organization alive, even though condemnation has been voted.

The league was started after McCarthy supporters formed an anti-censure organization called "Ten Million Americans Mobilized for Justice." Both groups collected signatures on petitions backing their opposing views on censure.

The league's announcement came after its founder, Mrs. Winifred Swanson of Palmer, Mass., and other members met with Larry Alexander at his home here on Long Island. Alexander, a disabled veteran is an advisor to the group.

The announcement said a count of signatures is not yet available but estimated the total at about five million.

The pro-McCarthy group, which has also announced it will continue on a permanent basis, said Saturday it has counted 2,287,143 signatures and the count is continuing.

Wins 300 Races

Miami, Fla., Dec. 6 (AP)—Willie Hartack became the ninth jockey in the history of American racing to win 300 races in a year as he won with So Polite ($39.80) in the second race at Tropical Park Saturday. He later made it 301 with Airpak in the fourth.

White Sox Get Clint Courtney

New York, Dec. 6 (AP)—The Chicago White Sox today completed a seven player deal with the Baltimore Orioles with catcher Clint Courtney moving to the Sox as the big name in the trade.

Going with Courtney to Chicago were pitcher Bob Chakales and infielder Jim Bridgeweser in exchange for pitchers Don Johnson and Don Ferrarese, infielder Fred Marsh and catcher Matt Batts.

The announcement was made here as the major leagues opened their three-day winter meetings.

Brodhead Average 27

Skip Brodhead sparked Lou's Machie Shop's undefeated Y Autumn "A" League season with a 27-point average in 10 games.

The brilliant Maroon forward racked up 270 points as Lou's reeled off 10 straight victories. Last year, the high school players won the Autumn title under the Haber's Grill banner.

Harry's Angels finished with an 8-2 record, losing both games to the Machine Shop.

Costa Meets Bell In Parkway Bout

New York, Dec. 6 (AP)—Once-beaten Carmelo Costa, seventh ranking featherweight contender from Brooklyn, is a 12-5 favorite to whip Bobby Bell, ex-GI from youngstown, Ohio, in a 10 rounder at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway Arena tonight (ABC-TV, 10 p. m.). Bell is unbeaten in six fights this year.

ITALY'S Italo Scortichine and Cuba's Chico Varona are rated even in the betting for their welterweight 10-rounder tonight at New York's St. Nicholas Arena (Dumont-TV, 10 p. m.). Scortichini, a busy little fellow, has a 25-14-4 record. Varona's record is 57-16.

Lions Western Champs; Cleveland Ties in East

By ORLO ROBERTSON
(The Associated Press)

One-half of the National Football League's championship bracket was filled today by the familiar Detroit Lions. And the other half figures to be occupied by the even more familiar Cleveland Browns for the title game Dec. 26.

The Lions wrapped up their third straight Western Division title and a chance at their third consecutive league crown by rallying for a touchdown in the final four minutes yesterday to tie the Philadelphia Eagles 13-13.

AT THE SAME time the Browns clinched at least a tie for the Eastern Division title—an honor crried off by Paul Brown's club the last five years. The Browns ground out a methodical 34-14 victory over the Washington Redskins.

The surprising New York Giants, however, maintained a mathematical chance of tying the Browns by defeating the Pittsburgh Steelers 24-3. The Browns, with an 8-2 record, meet Pittsburgh next Sunday and close out the regular campaign on the 19th against Detroit. New York (7-4) winds up against Philadelphia Sunday.

In other games yesterday the Chicago Bears strengthened their hold on second place in the western division with a 29-7 decision over the Chicago Cardinals and San Francisco, still in the running for second place back of the Lions, shut out Green Bay 35-0. Baltimore surprised by defeating Los Angeles 22-21 Saturday.

THE LIONS, beaten only by San Francisco this season ,faced a 13-6 deficit with four minutes to play. Then they sent Lew Carpenter over from a yard out and Doak Walker kicked the tying extra point for his 38th without a miss.

Before that, however, the Eagles pushed the Lions all over the frozen turf. Adrian Burk pitched the Eagles into a 13-3 lead on touchdown passes to Pete Pihos and Bobby Walston. Walston missed the try for the extra point after his score and that cost the Eagles the victory. Detroit's first six points came on field goals by Walker.

A crowd of 21,761 saw the Redskins give the Browns a battle for the first half with Cleveland holding a 17-7 edge. But the fast Cleveland backs opened up in the final 30 minutes with Maurice Bassett going over for two touchdowns. Otto Graham's passes, as usual, set up most of Cleveland's scores.

Bobby Clatterbuck, subbing for the injured Charlie Conerly, fired two touchdown passes, each good for 42 yards, and accounted for 274 yards in the air as the Giants took early control of their game with Pittsburgh. The winners scored in every period.

Strong, Hickey Are Reelected

New York, Dec. 6 (AP)—John E. Strong and Thomas L. Hickey, whom a private anti-crime committee has credited with running the "cleanest" teamster union local in the area, have been reelected as leaders of Local 807.

The ALF International Brotherhood of Teamsters Local, whose membership of 10,000 makes it the largest in the vicinity of New York, retained Strong as president and Hickey as secretary-treasurer by a vote of about 2700 to 1700 yesterday.

The election was marked by spirited campaigning. The New York city anti-crime committee recently charged that underworld elements had raised a fund of $25,000 to $50,000 to help oust Strong and Hickey. It was this committee that condemned the two for running a clean union.

The opposition slate called the committee's charge an "unmitigated and malicious falsehood."

Early season skirmishes in the Ulster Athletic League forecast a lively pennant scramble among Kerhonkson, Saugerties and Marlboro, the defending champions.

None of the other squads can be counted out as contenders, but this trio appears power laden.

Saugerties was overwhelming in its 60-46 conquest of Highland on the southern Ulster boards, a significant achievement for Coach Bill Straub's cagers.

Coach Ed McGrath's Marlborough basketeers flashed good power in upending New Paltz, 65-53.

Onteora seeks its first win of the league season on its home boards against Highland Tuesday night. Next Friday, the regular three-game slate is scheduled with Marlborough visiting Saugerties and New Paltz hosting Kerhonkson. Wallkill goes to Highland in the other game.

WERNER WUSTRAU and Art Stockin sparked Kerhonkson's closing drive against Wallkill Central. Wallkill stayed close for nearly three quarters of the game then collapsed under Kerhonkson pressure in the stretch.

Wustrau rimmed 15 points and Stockin hit a dozen. Wilson Edmunds rimmed 11 and Ron Wager had 10 for Wallkill.

League Leaders To Continue Work

Levittown, Dec. 6 (AP)—Leaders of the "League of 20 Million Americans for the Censure of Senator McCarthy" have announced they will keep the organization alive, even though condemnation has been voted.

The league was started after McCarthy supporters formed an anti-censure organization called "Ten Million Americans Mobilized for Justice." Both groups collected signatures on petitions backing their opposing views on censure.

The league's announcement came after its founder, Mrs. Winifred Swanson of Palmer, Mass., and other members met with Larry Alexander at his home here on Long Island. Alexander, a disabled veteran is an advisor to the group.

The announcement said a count of signatures is not yet available but estimated the total at about five million.

The pro-McCarthy group, which has also announced it will continue on a permanent basis, said Saturday it has counted 2,287,143 signatures and the count is continuing.

Wins 300 Races

Miami, Fla., Dec. 6 (AP)—Willie Hartack became the ninth jockey in the history of American racing to win 300 races in a year as he won with So Polite ($39.80) in the second race at Tropical Park Saturday. He later made it 301 with Airpak in the fourth.

White Sox Get Clint Courtney

New York, Dec. 6 (AP)—The Chicago White Sox today completed a seven player deal with the Baltimore Orioles with catcher Clint Courtney moving to the Sox as the big name in the trade.

Going with Courtney to Chicago were pitcher Bob Chakales and infielder Jim Bridgeweser in exchange for pitchers Don Johnson and Don Ferrarese, infielder Fred Marsh and catcher Matt Batts.

The announcement was made here as the major leagues opened their three-day winter meetings.

Brodhead Average 27

Skip Brodhead sparked Lou's Machie Shop's undefeated Y Autumn "A" League season with a 27-point average in 10 games.

The brilliant Maroon forward racked up 270 points as Lou's reeled off 10 straight victories. Last year, the high school players won the Autumn title under the Haber's Grill banner.

Harry's Angels finished with an 8-2 record, losing both games to the Machine Shop.

Costa Meets Bell In Parkway Bout

New York, Dec. 6 (AP)—Once-beaten Carmelo Costa, seventh ranking featherweight contender from Brooklyn, is a 12-5 favorite to whip Bobby Bell, ex-GI from youngstown, Ohio, in a 10 rounder at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway Arena tonight (ABC-TV, 10 p. m.). Bell is unbeaten in six fights this year.

ITALY'S Italo Scortichine and Cuba's Chico Varona are rated even in the betting for their welterweight 10-rounder tonight at New York's St. Nicholas Arena (Dumont-TV, 10 p. m.). Scortichini, a busy little fellow, has a 25-14-4 record. Varona's record is 57-16.

Lions Western Champs; Cleveland Ties in East

By ORLO ROBERTSON
(The Associated Press)

One-half of the National Football League's championship bracket was filled today by the familiar Detroit Lions. And the other half figures to be occupied by the even more familiar Cleveland Browns for the title game Dec. 26.

The Lions wrapped up their third straight Western Division title and a chance at their third consecutive league crown by rallying for a touchdown in the final four minutes yesterday to tie the Philadelphia Eagles 13-13.

AT THE SAME time the Browns clinched at least a tie for the Eastern Division title—an honor crried off by Paul Brown's club the last five years. The Browns ground out a methodical 34-14 victory over the Washington Redskins.

The surprising New York Giants, however, maintained a mathematical chance of tying the Browns by defeating the Pittsburgh Steelers 24-3. The Browns, with an 8-2 record, meet Pittsburgh next Sunday and close out the regular campaign on the 19th against Detroit. New York (7-4) winds up against Philadelphia Sunday.

In other games yesterday the Chicago Bears strengthened their hold on second place in the western division with a 29-7 decision over the Chicago Cardinals and San Francisco, still in the running for second place back of the Lions, shut out Green Bay 35-0. Baltimore surprised by defeating Los Angeles 22-21 Saturday.

THE LIONS, beaten only by San Francisco this season faced a 13-6 deficit with four minutes to play. Then they sent Lew Carpenter over from a yard out and Doak Walker kicked the tying extra point for his 38th without a miss.

Before that, however, the Eagles pushed the Lions all over the frozen turf. Adrian Burk pitched the Eagles into a 13-3 lead on touchdown passes to Pete Pihos and Bobby Walston. Walston missed the try for the extra point after his score and that cost the Eagles the victory. Detroit's first six points came on field goals by Walker.

A crowd of 21,761 saw the Redskins give the Browns a battle for the first half with Cleveland holding a 17-7 edge. But the fast Cleveland backs opened up in the final 30 minutes with Maurice Bassett going over for two touchdowns, Otto Graham's passes, as usual, set up most of Cleveland's scores.

Bobby Clatterbuck, subbing for the injured Charlie Conerly, fired two touchdown passes, each good for 42 yards, and accounted for 274 yards in the air as the Giants took early control of their game with Pittsburgh. The winners scored in every period.

Strong, Hickey Are Reelected

New York, Dec. 6 (AP)—John E. Strong and Thomas L. Hickey, whom a private anti-crime committee has credited with running the "cleanest" teamster union local in the area, have been reelected as leaders of Local 807.

The ALF International Brotherhood of Teamsters Local, whose membership of 10,000 makes it the largest in the vicinity of New York, retained Strong as president and Hickey as secretary-treasurer by a vote of about 2700 to 1700 yesterday.

The election was marked by spirited campaigning. The New York city anti-crime committee recently charged that underworld elements had raised a fund of $25,000 to $50,000 to help oust Strong and Hickey. It was this committee that condemned the two for running a clean union.

The opposition slate called the committee's charge an "unmitigated and malicious falsehood."

Early season skirmishes in the Ulster Athletic League forecast a lively pennant scramble among Kerhonkson, Saugerties and Marlboro, the defending champions.

None of the other squads can be counted out as contenders, but this trio appears power laden.

Saugerties was overwhelming in its 60-46 conquest of Highland on the southern Ulster boards, a significant achievement for Coach Bill Straub's cagers.

COACH CHICK Meehan's Kerhonkson squad tripped Onteora Central, 41-32, in its opener and followed with a 45-36 win over Wallkill Central.

Coach Ed McGrath's Marlborough basketeers flashed good power in upending New Paltz, 65-53.

Onteora seeks its first win of the league season on its home boards against Highland Tuesday night. Next Friday, the regular three-game slate is scheduled with Marlborough visiting Saugerties and New Paltz hosting Kerhonkson. Wallkill goes to Highland in the other game.

WERNER WUSTRAU and Art Stockin sparked Kerhonkson's closing drive against Wallkill Central. Wallkill stayed close for nearly three quarters of the game then collapsed under Kerhonkson pressure in the stretch.

Wustrau rimmed 15 points and Stockin hit a dozen. Wilson Edmunds rimmed 11 and Ron Wager had 10 for Wallkill.

Pulling Away From Pack

Packers Sweep Muscos; Gay Lounge Tops Dairy

Forst Packers continued to pull away from its intra-city rivals in the Hudson Valley Bowling League with a three-game sweep over Middletown Muscos, Saturday at the Bowlodrome.

George Robinson led the Packers with a 578 slam on lines of 209, 164 and 204. S. Taylor paced the Muscos with 535.

JONES DAIRY continued to slip with an unprecedented 2-1 loss to the Gay Lounge of Middletown. En route to the setback they were outpinned, 2950-2818. The Middies had a 1018 opener.

Arnie Koeppel fired 212-205-613 and Joe Torelli 225-211-630 for the Middies. Harold Broskie shot 224-608 and John Ferraro 247-611 for the Dairymen.

KEN JOSEPH and Jack Ferraro contributed "600" counts as Rapp's Express got back on the beam with a 3-0 win over Liberty Goodys at the Bowlodrome. The locals rolled steadily for a 2853 series.

Ken Joseph rolled 236-600. Jack Ferraro 210-204-601 and Bill Lawrence 201-212-562 for Kingston. L. Laufensweiled posted 220-570 for the Goodys.

Wrist Watches for Men

Wrist watches were known hundreds of years ago, according to the Jewelry Industry Council. However, it wasn't until World War 1 that men really accepted them. A man who wore a wrist watch was considered unmanly until their usefulness was discovered during World War 1. After it was known that the heroes in the trenches found them necessary, America accepted them and wrist watches have been worn extensively ever since.

Packers Sweep Muscos; Gay Lounge Tops Dairy

Forst Packers continued to pull away from its intra-city rivals in the Hudson Valley Bowling League with a three-game sweep over Middletown Muscos, Saturday at the Bowlodrome.

The Formosts failed to crack 2700 but managed to take three games from the invaders who were able to stack only 2448.

George Robinson led the Packers with a 578 slam on lines of 209, 164 and 204. S. Taylor paced the Muscos with 535.

JONES DAIRY continued to slip with an unprecedented 2-1 loss to the Gay Lounge of Middletown. En route to the setback they were outpinned, 2950-2818. The Middies had a 1018 opener.

Arnie Koeppel fired 212-205-613 and Joe Torelli 225-211-630 for the Middies. Harold Broskie shot 224-608 and John Ferraro 247-611 for the Dairymen.

KEN JOSEPH and Jack Ferraro contributed "600" counts as Rapp's Express got back on the beam with a 3-0 win over Liberty Goodys at the Bowlodrome. The locals rolled steadily for a 2853 series.

Ken Joseph rolled 236-600. Jack Ferraro 210-204-601 and Bill Lawrence 201-212-562 for Kingston. L. Laufensweiled posted 220-570 for the Goodys.

Liberty Toros unloaded a 1068 finale against Elston Sports but by that time the Sportsmen's had wrapped up two wins.

Buses Told

buses operated withing cities or on short hauls.

Records of the speed of each bus affected will be subject to inspection by the Public Service Commission. Buses also must continue to carry speed governors set at 58 miles an hour, under a rule established several years ago.

DESPITE THE USE of governors, Feinberg reported that two PSC inspectors — following 23 buses over a period of several days—found a total of 213 speeding violations.

The chairman said the check showed these details:

"At 23 points, buses were clocked at 55 miles per hour, there were 61 instances of 60-mile speed, 29 where speeds reached 65 miles per hour, 10 at which 70-mile speeds were recorded and two in which the buses attained a 75-mile speed where maximum speed limits were 45 miles an hour."

EXCEPT FOR restricted zones, the speed limit on highways throughout the state is 50 miles an hour. On the Thruway, buses also are limited to 50, although passenger vehicles are permited to travel at 60.

For interstate and intrastate buses, the commission ordered devices installed by July 1, where the length of a one-way trip within the state is more than 75 miles; by Oct. 1 where the trip is more than 50 miles; and by Jan. 1, 1956, where it is more than 35 miles.

For school and other buses, the July 1 deadline will apply to trips of 150 miles or more; the Oct. 1 deadline to those of 100 miles or more, and the Jan. 1 deadline to trips of 70 miles or more.

Back to Jail

Fayetteville, Ark. (AP)—When the traffic light changed to green, the car in front of a state police squad car backed up. The troopers decided to investigate. They arrested two escapees from the Kansas State Prison. The fugitive who was driving explained that he wasn't familiar with the automatic transmission on the car, which had been stolen.

LEGAL NOTICES

CONNELLY ELECTION

The annual election of the South Rondout Fire District will be held at the fire house in Connelly, N. Y., Tuesday evening, December 7th, 1954. One fire commissioner will be elected for a term of five years beginning Jan. 1, 1955 and one treasurer for a term of three years beginning Jan. 1, 1955. Nominations will be received any time before and during time polls are open by the secretary. All residents of the fire district who were qualified to vote at the regular November election will be eligible to vote at this election. Polls will be open 7 p. m. to 10 p. m.

JOHN FLAHERTY, Chairman
By C. A. BEEHLER, Secretary

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

A public hearing will be held on DECEMBER 14, 1954, at 7:45 p. m. in the City Court Room, City Hall, Kingston, New York, for the purpose of amending the Civil Service Rules, by taking the Laborers out of the Competitive Class and establishing a Labor Class. Also, to change the title Secretary to the President, Board of Public Works, to Secretary to the Mayor.

KINGSTON MUNICIPAL CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION.
Attest: Martin F. Kelly, Secretary.
Dated: December 3, 1954.

OLD AND NEW TWAALFSKILL officers attending the annual president's dinner at the Governor Clinton Hotel Saturday night were (l-r) N. LeVan Haver, Floyd Flint and Louis J. Smith, retiring board members; Edwin J. O'Reilly, retiring president; Louis R. Netter, Austin Boyd and Burton S. Davis, new members of the board of governors. Champions honored at the dinner with trophies awarded by Mr. Haver were Alvin Boice, championship cup; Hugh Elwyn, Class B and Captain Andrew Hickey, Class C. Music for dancing was furnished by Wendell Scherer and his orchestra. About 120 persons were in attendance.

Hearing Will Air Case of Employes

A public hearing has been called for Dec. 14 by the Municipal Civil Service Commission to consider the proposal that from 45 to 50 employes of the public works department be rated so that they may obtain social security.

The hearing is scheduled for the city court room, city hall, at 7:45 p. m., and will be attended by members of the commission, David Reiter, personnel technician of the civil service department, Albany, and employes to be affected.

The proposal to be heard suggests removing employes of the department from competitive classification to be designated generally as laborers so that they may obtain social security benefits.

Technical differences in present classifications in the department has prevented blanket action on the social security proposal, and it is expected that the local commission will be in a position to take definite action after the hearing.

Newburgh Man Held on Charge

A man suspected of representing himself as a state trooper in order to borrow money at various taverns in this area has been detained on a traffic charge while an investigation is being made.

State police of the Highland station at 1:15 p. m. Sunday arrested George J. Raymond, Jr., 27, of 15 DuBois street, Newburgh, on a charge of being an unlicensed operator. He was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Francis E. Palen, Jr., of Port Ewen and ordered held for a hearing later today.

MEANWHILE, Trooper John Metzer, BCI, and Troopers Michael Lisman and J. J. Franke reported they will consult with District Attorney Howard C. St. John over an allegation that Raymond, using the alias Ray Williams, had been representing himself as a state police officer. Visiting numerous taverns in the area, "Williams" would become acquainted with the owners and subsequently "borrow" small sums of money from them, Trooper Lisman charged. Complaints received by the troopers indicated that the alleged imposter did not wear a uniform nor use a badge, however.

$10,000 in Clothing Gone, $70,000 Missed

New York, Dec. 6 (AP)—An automobile stolen Friday night was found today, with an estimated $10,000 in clothing missing from the back seat, but about $70,000 in valuables in the trunk apparently untouched.

Luggage was missing from the rear seat, but the trunk still was locked when the car was found. Police called the owner, Mrs. Eva Oelsner, of Centre Island, near Oyster Bay. She unlocked the trunk and found the contents apparently were as she left them. She said the valuables in the trunk included jewelry.

Three garment bags and one suitcase had been taken from the rear seat. Their contents included a white mink evening wrap, a silver fox evening cape, evening gowns, dresses, suits and shoes.

action on the two American civilian employes of the army whose sentences were announced along with the 11 airmen. The civilians, John Downey of New Britain, Conn., and Richard Fecteau, of Lynn, Mass., were captured when their plane was shot down in November, 1952, but were not listed in the first American call for UN action.

The further memorandum presented here Saturday by U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. said prompt and decisive action was needed "to bring about the release of these 11 officers and men (the Air Force group) and all other captured personnel of the UN command still detained." U. S. sources said all the Korean allies approved the language of the Lodge memorandum.

Last Aug. 17 the UN command at Panmunjom demanded an accounting for 2,840 missing allied soldiers, including 526 Americans, 50 from other allied forces and 2,264 South Koreans.

In a television interview last night Sen. Barrett (R.-Wyo.) said the United States and other UN members ought to get together and ask the Soviet Union to intercede to get the imprisoned Americans freed instead of talking to the Chinese Communists.

Soviet organs already have endorsed Red China's sentencing of the Americans. New Times, the Soviet foreign affairs weekly, in Moscow yesterday said the 13 men had "confessed they engaged in syping and diversionist activity against China," charges the United States has branded as trumped-up.

New Times also derided the call by Sens. Knowland (R.-Calif.) and Young (R.-N. D.) for a blockade of China, asserting "the time is past when it is possible to speak with China in the language of threats and when the Imperialists could commit crimes without fear of punishment."

The senator said the bill he planned to introduce would transfer jurisdiction over the state athletic and racing commissions to the commerce department, which, under the measure, also would get the jobs of issuing corporation charters and licensing business enterprises.

The bill would transfer the department's record-keeping and publishing tasks and the great seal of the state to the executive department; turn over the job of storing and filing state laws to the legislative reference library of the education department and switch the licensing of hair dressers and barbers to the health department.

Desmond said the measure was one of a series he would propose with a view toward streamlining the state government.

Reuther Says GOP Had Law Legacy

Los Angeles, Dec. 6 (AP)—CIO President Walter Reuther said today a "legacy" of New Deal and Fair Deal legislation inherited by President Eisenhower's administration has helped save the nation from "a full-blown depression."

Reuther said in a report prepared for opening sessions of the CIO's annual convention that the economic future looks none too bright unless there is a big increase in consumer buying power through higher wages and increased government spending.

"It is better," he said, "to have an unbalanced budget than to have an unbalanced economy in which a few are prosperous and the many are in need."

Accusing the Eisenhower administration of "a do-nothing, care-nothing unemployment policy," the CIO chief maintained that union collective bargaining and social measures enacted under prior Democratic administrations have prevented economic collapse.

Zero Predicted

while Watertown and Rome had 1 below.

Temperatures in many sections of the state were the lowest of the season.

"A good brisk wind out of the north has been driving this cold weather inside the buildings—making people really feel the chill," the weather bureau said.

THERE WERE SOME snow flurries all through the counties between Lake Ontario southward to the Pennsylvania state line, the bureau added, and a few snow squalls along the south shore of Lake Ontario.

In New York city, the mercury dipped to 20 degrees, and lower was predicted.

Other low overnight readings reported today by the weather bureau:

Utica, 4; Massena, 5; Binghamton and Albany, 7; Syracuse, 6; Plattsburgh and Glens Falls, 8; Elmira, 11; Buffalo, 14; Poughkeepsie and Newburgh, 15, and Rochester 17.

Paris Editor Blamed For Security Leaks

Paris, Dec. 6 (AP)—Gilles Martinet, editor-in-chief of the left-wing weekly France Observateur, was charged today with endangering the security of the state. The accuser was the military magistrate investigating France's defense leaks scandal.

France Observateur, regarded by many as pro-Communist, last May published comments on two secret meetings of the French National Defense Council. In searching the weekly offices police last week found a letter containing valuable information on the movement of troops to Indochina.

The author of the letter, Louis Bernet, a teacher, and his son Guy, who had collected the data, were arrested. Five others have been arrested since the investigation of the leaks started 11 weeks ago. Among them are two high civil servants, Rene Turpin and Roger Labrusse, and a Communist newspaperman, Andre Baranes.

New Car Sales Will Pass 5-Million Mark

Detroit, Dec. 6 (AP)—New passenger car sales for 1954 may approximate 5¼ million units, automotive news said today.

The trade paper said retail deliveries will pass the five million mark this week.

"The five millionth sale will come only days behind assembly of the year's five millionth car," the paper said. "The small lead time is explained by the fact new car stocks have been slashed drastically during the year.

"While production figures include 1954 and 1955 models, sales figures include a large number of 1953 models which were sold in the early months of this year. (New car stocks numbered 464,725 units on Jan. 1, 1954. On Nov. 1 they totaled 165,843.)

"Latest field reports show the rate of sales is holding up well. Except in certain areas where local economic conditions are unfavorable, the new 1955 models are moving at a good clip."

Christmas Sales

the home," he said. He listed bedroom furniture, "lots of chairs," etc.

HE DESCRIBED SALES to date as "very very good. We are well out in front." November sales were substantially higher than last year and December has been going "very well."

"One thousand per cent!" said Walter Elston, Sr., of Elston Sport Shop, 260 Fair street. He described business as "pretty much normal," with perhaps "a slight increase over last year."

"We are going ahead of last year"—Oscar London, London's Youth Centre and Junior Bazaar, 33 North Front street. "Spending has been good, people pleasant and nice." He said he hopes the present trend continues.

CHRISTMAS SALES "will compare favorably with our better years," according to John Ross, manager of the W. T. Grant Company, 307 Wall street. Selling has been, in general, "good" with a particularly good weekend last Friday and Saturday.

George Schneider of Schneider's Jewelers, 290 Wall street, reported sales "very good. I think we're ahead of last year. Everything seems to be very good."

"Sales have been pretty terrific," according to Charles Fabiano, manager of Union-Fern, Inc., 328 Wall street. He said the month of October had been good, partly as the result of a huge sale. Sales during the past weekend were described as "very good."

Stewart Randall, manager of Safford and Scudder, Inc., Jewelers, 310 Wall street: "Very good. In general, it seemed to start a little earlier. Right now I think we are well ahead."

GEORGE SVIRSKY, manager of United Cut Rate Pharmacy, 324 Wall street, pointed out that Christmas buying usually began a little later in drug store items but that so far it was "not too bad. About the same as last year." He explained that there was a "lot of traffic" but that sales were "not spectacular."

Joseph Kramer of Up-to-Date Co., 330 Wall street, listed sales as "fair" and "satisfactory" but said there was "nothing spectacular."

Robert Herzog of Herzog Supply Co., 9 North Front street, reported a very busy weekend. This was particularly true of smaller gift items in the basement. Items such as heating and plumbing supplies and hardware are less sensitive to the Christmas season.

more than once that the 36-day public probe of his row with top army officials was preventing him from digging Communists out of defense plants.

He said his subcommittee had a list of 130 to 133 Reds "poised at the jugular vein" of the nation. Democrats on the investigating unit urged him to give the names to the Defense Department or to the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee headed by Sen. Jenner (R.-Ind.), but nothing ever came of this.

Juliana said one witness expected to be called at the new hearings is Herman E. Thomas of Allentown, Pa., a former FBI undercover agent in the Communist party.

THOMAS TESTIFIED on Oct. 13 before the internal security subcommittee, which also has conducted a hunt for Reds in defense plants. He named 230 persons, mostly in Pennsylvania, whom he said he had known as Communists.

In a weekend development, Justice Department lawyers were reported to have decided it would be impractical, if not impossible, to get any perjury indictments as a result of clashing testimony at the televised McCarthy-Army hearings.

While no official announcement was made, officials said they were convinced after studying the bulky transcript that, if false statements were made, the evidence to support a prosecution isn't available.

Sen. Mundt (R.-S.D.), who presided over the hearings, said he agreed "it would be futile to try to build a case which would stand up in court."

Pope Will Give

broadcast, the voice of Catholicism's stricken leader faded slightly, but mostly he spoke firmly and in cadence. He preceded his customary benediction with this brief message:

"To our dear children of beloved Rome, whom we feel as close to us in prayer as we are close to the Divine Master in our suffering and in our fulfillment of His ever-good and benign will, we impart, with our heart turned to the Lord and the Immaculate Virgin, our paternal apostolic benediction."

When he finished, a great cheer rang through the basilica. The crowd had gathered there for the veneration ceremony held for the Italian Benedictine monk, Placido Riccardi, who died in 1915 and who was beatified earlier yesterday.

It was the first such ceremony that the Pope had been unable to attend in the nearly 16 years of his pontificate.

Prayers for the Pope's recovery were said in churches around the world yesterday—those of other faiths as well as the Roman Catholic. Members of the embassies and legations of more than 40 nations accredited to the Vatican attended a special Mass to pray for the Pontiff in Rome's Basilica of St. Mary Major.

Stevenson Has

Stevenson will be available when the time comes and is the "logical choice," Gov.-elect Averell Harriman of New York reaffirmed in a separate interview that he is supporting Stevenson for the nomination.

Butler, elected by 70 of the committee's 105 votes to succeed Stephen A. Mitchell as national chairman, said the Democrats plan no personal attacks on Eisenhower.

He said he wants his party members to maintain at all times "respect for the high office of president and for the integrity and sincerity of the man in the White House."

"But that does not mean," he said, "that we should refrain from pointed criticism of either actions, or lack of action, that we do not consider in the best interests of the country."

Similarly Rep. Sam Rayburn of Texas, incoming speaker of the House, said the Democrats "do not intend to follow the mean and gruesome example set by the Republicans and some so-called Democrats of hating a president just because he belongs to another party."

buses operated withing cities or on short hauls.

Records of the speed of each bus affected will be subject to inspection by the Public Service Commission. Buses also must continue to carry speed governors set at 58 miles an hour, under a rule established several years ago.

DESPITE THE USE of governors, Feinberg reported that two PSC inspectors — following 23 buses over a period of several days—found a total of 213 speeding violations.

The chairman said the check showed these details:

"At 23 points, buses were clocked at 55 miles per hour, there were 61 instances of 60-mile speed, 29 where speeds reached 65 miles per hour, 10 at which 70-mile speeds were recorded and two in which the buses attained a 75-mile speed where maximum speed limits were 45 miles an hour."

EXCEPT FOR restricted zones, the speed limit on highways throughout the state is 50 miles an hour. On the Thruway, buses also are limited to 50, although passenger vehicles are permited to travel at 60.

For interstate and intrastate buses, the commission ordered devices installed by July 1, where the length of a one-way trip within the state is more than 75 miles; by Oct. 1 where the trip is more than 50 miles; and by Jan. 1, 1956, where it is more than 35 miles.

For school and other buses, the July 1 deadline will apply to trips of 150 miles or more; the Oct. 1 deadline to those of 100 miles or more, and the Jan. 1 deadline to trips of 70 miles or more.

Back to Jail

Fayetteville, Ark. (AP)—When the traffic light changed to green, the car in front of a state police squad car backed up. The troopers decided to investigate. They arrested two escapees from the Kansas State Prison. The fugitive who was driving explained that he wasn't familiar with the automatic transmission on the car, which had been stolen.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

A public hearing will be held on DECEMBER 14, 1954, at 7:45 p. m. in the City Court Room, City Hall, Kingston, New York, for the purpose of amending the Civil Service Rules, by taking the Laborers out of the Competitive Class and establishing a Labor Class. Also, to change the title Secretary to the President, Board of Public Works, to Secretary to the Mayor.
KINGSTON MUNICIPAL CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION.
Attest: Martin F. Kelly,
Secretary.
Dated: December 3, 1954.

OLD AND NEW TWAALFSKILL officers attending the annual president's dinner at the Governor Clinton Hotel Saturday night were (l-r) N. LeVan Haver, Floyd Flint and Louis J. Smith, retiring board members; Edwin J. O'Reilly, retiring president; Louis R. Netter, Austin Boyd and Burton S. Davis, new members of the board of governors. Champions honored at the dinner with trophies awarded by Mr. Haver were Alvin Boice, championship cup; Hugh Elwyn, Class B and Captain Andrew Hickey, Class C. Music for dancing was furnished by Wendell Scherer and his orchestra. About 120 persons were in attendance.

Hearing Will Air Case of Employes

A public hearing has been called for Dec. 14 by the Municipal Civil Service Commission to consider the proposal that from 45 to 50 employes of the public works department be rated so that they may obtain social security.

The hearing is scheduled for the city court room, city hall, at 7:45 p. m., and will be attended by members of the commission, David Reiter, personnel technician of the civil service department, Albany, and employes to be affected.

The proposal to be heard suggests removing employes of the department from competitive classification to be designated generally as laborers so that they may obtain social security benefits.

Technical differences in present classifications in the department has prevented blanket action on the social security proposal, and it is expected that the local commission will be in a position to take definite action after the hearing.

Newburgh Man Held on Charge

A man suspected of representing himself as a state trooper in order to borrow money at various taverns in this area has been detained on a traffic charge while an investigation is being made.

State police of the Highland station at 1:15 p. m. Sunday arrested George J. Raymond, Jr., 27, of 15 DuBois street, Newburgh, on a charge of being an unlicensed operator. He was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Francis E. Palen, Jr., of Port Ewen and ordered held for a hearing later today.

MEANWHILE, Trooper John Metzer, BCI, and Troopers Michael Lisman and J. J. Franke reported they will consult with District Attorney Howard C. St. John over an allegation that Raymond, using the alias Ray Williams, had been representing himself as a state police officer. Visiting numerous taverns in the area, "Williams" would become acquainted with the owners and subsequently "borrow" small sums of money from them, Trooper Lisman charged. Complaints received by the troopers indicated that the alleged imposter did not wear a uniform nor use a badge, however.

$10,000 in Clothing Gone, $70,000 Missed

New York, Dec. 6 (AP)—An automobile stolen Friday night was found today, with an estimated $10,000 in clothing missing from the back seat, but about $70,000 in valuables in the trunk apparently untouched.

Luggage was missing from the rear seat, but the trunk still was locked when the car was found. Police called the owner, Mrs. Eva Oelsner, of Centre Island, near Oyster Bay. She unlocked the trunk and found the contents apparently were as she left them. She said the valuables in the trunk included jewelry.

Three garment bags and one suitcase had been taken from the rear seat. Their contents included a white mink evening wrap, a silver fox evening cape, evening gowns, dresses, suits and shoes.

action on the two American civilian employes of the army whose sentences were announced along with the 11 airmen. The civilians, John Downey of New Britain, Conn., and Richard Fecteau, of Lynn, Mass., were captured when their plane was shot down in November, 1952, but were not listed in the first American call for UN action.

The further memorandum presented here Saturday by U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. said prompt and decisive action was needed "to bring about the release of these 11 officers and men (the Air Force group) and all other captured personnel of the UN command still detained." U. S. sources said all the Korean allies approved the language of the Lodge memorandum.

Last Aug. 17 the UN command at Panmunjom demanded an accounting for 2,840 missing allied soldiers, including 526 Americans, 50 from other allied forces and 2,264 South Koreans.

In a television interview last night Sen. Barrett (R.-Wyo.) said the United States and other UN members ought to get together and ask the Soviet Union to intercede to get the imprisoned Americans freed instead of talking to the Chinese Communists.

Soviet organs already have endorsed Red China's sentencing of the Americans. New Times, the Soviet foreign affairs weekly, in Moscow yesterday said the 13 men had "confessed they engaged in syping and diversionist activity against China," charges the United States has branded as trumped-up.

New Times also derided the call by Sens. Knowland (R.-Calif.) and Young (R.-N. D.) for a blockade of China, asserting "the time is past when it is possible to speak with China in the language of threats and when the Imperialists could commit crimes without fear of punishment."

big business and should be treated as other industries."

The senator said the bill he planned to introduce would transfer jurisdiction over the state athletic and racing commissions to the commerce department, which, under the measure, also would get the jobs of issuing corporation charters and licensing business enterprises.

The bill would transfer the department's record-keeping and publishing tasks and the great seal of the state to the executive department; turn over the job of storing and filing state laws to the legislative reference library of the education department and switch the licensing of hair dressers and barbers to the health department.

Desmond said the measure was one of a series he would propose with a view toward streamlining the state government.

Reuther Says GOP Had Law Legacy

Los Angeles, Dec. 6 (AP)—CIO President Walter Reuther said today a "legacy" of New Deal and Fair Deal legislation inherited by President Eisenhower's administration has helped save the nation from "a full-blown depression."

Reuther said in a report prepared for opening sessions of the CIO's annual convention that the economic future looks none too bright unless there is a big increase in consumer buying power through higher wages and increased government spending.

"It is better," he said, "to have an unbalanced budget than to have an unbalanced economy in which a few are prosperous and the many are in need."

Accusing the Eisenhower administration of "a do-nothing, care-nothing unemployment policy," the CIO chief maintained that union collective bargaining and social measures enacted under prior Democratic administrations have prevented economic collapse.

Zero Predicted

while Watertown and Rome had 1 below.

Temperatures in many sections of the state were the lowest of the season.

"A good brisk wind out of the north has been driving this cold weather inside the buildings—making people really feel the chill," the weather bureau said.

THERE WERE SOME snow flurries all through the counties between Lake Ontario southward to the Pennsylvania state line, the bureau added, and a few snow squalls along the south shore of Lake Ontario.

In New York city, the mercury dipped to 20 degrees, and lower was predicted.

Other low overnight readings reported today by the weather bureau:

Utica, 4; Massena, 5; Binghamton and Albany, 7; Syracuse, 6; Plattsburgh and Glens Falls, 8; Elmira, 11; Buffalo, 14; Poughkeepsie and Newburgh, 15, and Rochester 17.

Paris Editor Blamed For Security Leaks

Paris, Dec. 6 (AP)—Gilles Martinet, editor-in-chief of the left-wing weekly France Observateur, was charged today with endangering the security of the state. The accuser was the military magistrate investigating France's defense leaks scandal.

France Observateur, regarded by many as pro-Communist, last May published comments on two secret meetings of the French National Defense Council. In searching the weekly offices police last week found a letter containing valuable information on the movement of troops to Indochina.

The author of the letter, Louis Bernet, a teacher, and his son Guy, who had collected the data, were arrested. Five others have been arrested since the investigation of the leaks started 11 weeks ago. Among them are two high civil servants, Rene Turpin and Roger Labrusse, and a Communist newspaperman, Andre Baranes.

New Car Sales Will Pass 5-Million Mark

Detroit, Dec. 6 (AP)—New passenger car sales for 1954 may approximate 5¼ million units, automotive news said today.

The trade paper said retail deliveries will pass the five million mark this week.

"The five millionth sale will come only days behind assembly of the year's five millionth car," the paper said. "The small lead time is explained by the fact new car stocks have been slashed drastically during the year.

"While production figures include 1954 and 1955 models, sales figures include a large number of 1953 models which were sold in the early months of this year. (New car stocks numbered 464,725 units on Jan. 1, 1954. On Nov. 1 they totaled 165,843.)

"Latest field reports show the rate of sales is holding up well. Except in certain areas where local economic conditions are unfavorable, the new 1955 models are moving at a good clip."

Christmas Sales

the home," he said. He listed bedroom furniture, "lots of chairs," etc.

HE DESCRIBED SALES to date as "very very good. We are well out in front." November sales were substantially higher than last year and December has been going "very well."

"One thousand per cent!" said Walter Elston, Sr., of Elston Sport Shop, 260 Fair street. He described business as "pretty much normal," with perhaps "a slight increase over last year."

"We are going ahead of last year"—Oscar London, London's Youth Centre and Junior Bazaar, 33 North Front street. "Spending has been good, people pleasant and nice." He said he hopes the present trend continues.

CHRISTMAS SALES "will compare favorably with our better years," according to John Ross, manager of the W. T. Grant Company, 307 Wall street. Selling has been, in general, "good" with a particularly good weekend last Friday and Saturday.

George Schneider of Schneider's Jewelers, 290 Wall street, reported sales "very good. I think we're ahead of last year. Everything seems to be very good."

"Sales have been pretty terrific," according to Charles Fabiano, manager of Union-Fern, Inc., 328 Wall street. He said the month of October had been good, partly as the result of a huge sale. Sales during the past weekend were described as "very good."

Stewart Randall, manager of Safford and Scudder, Inc., Jewelers, 310 Wall street: "Very good. In general, it seemed to start a little earlier. Right now I think we are well ahead."

GEORGE SVIRSKY, manager of United Cut Rate Pharmacy, 324 Wall street, pointed out that Christmas buying usually began a little later in drug store items but that so far it was "not too bad. About the same as last year." He explained that there was a "lot of traffic" but that sales were "not spectacular."

Joseph Kramer of Up-to-Date Co., 330 Wall street, listed sales as "fair" and "satisfactory" but said there was "nothing spectacular."

Robert Herzog of Herzog Supply Co., 9 North Front street, reported a very busy weekend. This was particularly true of smaller gift items in the basement. Items such as heating and plumbing supplies and hardware are less sensitive to the Christmas season.

more than once that the 36-day public probe of his row with top army officials was preventing him from digging Communists out of defense plants.

He said his subcommittee had a list of 130 to 133 Reds "poised at the jugular vein" of the nation. Democrats on the investigating unit urged him to give the names to the Defense Department or to the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee headed by Sen. Jenner (R.-Ind.), but nothing ever came of this.

Juliana said one witness expected to be called at the new hearings is Herman E. Thomas of Allentown, Pa., a former FBI undercover agent in the Communist party.

THOMAS TESTIFIED on Oct. 13 before the internal security subcommittee, which also has conducted a hunt for Reds in defense plants. He named 230 persons, mostly in Pennsylvania, whom he said he had known as Communists.

In a weekend development, Justice Department lawyers were reported to have decided it would be impractical, if not impossible, to get any perjury indictments as a result of clashing testimony at the televised McCarthy-Army hearings.

While no official announcement was made, officials said they were convinced after studying the bulky transcript that, if false statements were made, the evidence to support a prosecution isn't available.

Sen. Mundt (R.-S.D.), who presided over the hearings, said he agreed "it would be futile to try to build a case which would stand up in court."

Pope Will Give

broadcast, the voice of Catholicism's stricken leader faded slightly, but mostly he spoke firmly and in cadence. He preceded his customary benediction with this brief message:

"To our dear children of beloved Rome, whom we feel as close to us in prayer as we are close to the Divine Master in our suffering and in our fulfillment of His ever-good and benign will, we impart, with our heart turned to the Lord and the Immaculate Virgin, our paternal apostolic benediction."

When he finished, a great cheer rang through the basilica. The crowd had gathered there for the veneration ceremony held for the Italian Benedictine monk, Placido Riccardi, who died in 1915 and who was beatified earlier yesterday.

It was the first such ceremony that the Pope had been unable to attend in the nearly 16 years of his pontificate.

Prayers for the Pope's recovery were said in churches around the world yesterday—those of other faiths as well as the Roman Catholic. Members of the embassies and legations of more than 40 nations accredited to the Vatican attended a special Mass to pray for the Pontiff in Rome's Basilica of St Mary Major.

Buses Told

buses operated withing cities or on short hauls.

Records of the speed of each bus affected will be subject to inspection by the Public Service Commission. Buses also must continue to carry speed governors set at 58 miles an hour, under a rule established several years ago.

DESPITE THE USE of governors, Feinberg reported that two PSC inspectors — following 23 buses over a period of several days—found a total of 213 speeding violations.

The chairman said the check showed these details:

"At 23 points, buses were clocked at 55 miles per hour, there were 61 instances of 60-mile speed, 29 where speeds reached 65 miles per hour, 10 at which 70-mile speeds were recorded and two in which the buses attained a 75-mile speed where maximum speed limits were 45 miles an hour."

EXCEPT FOR restricted zones, the speed limit on highways throughout the state is 50 miles an hour. On the Thruway, buses also are limited to 50, although passenger vehicles are permited to travel at 60.

For interstate and intrastate buses, the commission ordered devices installed by July 1, where the length of a one-way trip within the state is more than 75 miles; by Oct. 1 where the trip is more than 50 miles; and by Jan. 1, 1956, where it is more than 35 miles.

For school and other buses, the July 1 deadline will apply to trips of 150 miles or more; the Oct. 1 deadline to those of 100 miles or more, and the Jan. 1 deadline to trips of 70 miles or more.

Hearing Will Air Case of Employes

A public hearing has been called for Dec. 14 by the Municipal Civil Service Commission to consider the proposal that from 45 to 50 employes of the public works department be rated so that they may obtain social security.

The hearing is scheduled for the city court room, city hall, at 7:45 p. m., and will be attended by members of the commission, David Reiter, personnel technician of the civil service department, Albany, and employes to be affected.

The proposal to be heard suggests removing employes of the department from competitive classification to be designated generally as laborers so that they may obtain social security benefits.

Technical differences in present classifications in the department has prevented blanket action on the social security proposal, and it is expected that the local commission will be in a position to take definite action after the hearing.

Newburgh Man Held on Charge

A man suspected of representing himself as a state trooper in order to borrow money at various taverns in this area has been detained on a traffic charge while an investigation is being made.

State police of the Highland station at 1:15 p. m. Sunday arrested George J. Raymond, Jr., 27, of 15 DuBois street, Newburgh, on a charge of being an unlicensed operator. He was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Francis E. Palen, Jr., of Port Ewen and ordered held for a hearing later today.

MEANWHILE, Trooper John Metzer, BCI, and Troopers Michael Lisman and J. J. Franke reported they will consult with District Attorney Howard C. St. John over an allegation that Raymond, using the alias Ray Williams, had been representing himself as a state police officer. Visiting numerous taverns in the area, "Williams" would become acquainted with the owners and subsequently "borrow" small sums of money from them, Trooper Lisman charged. Complaints received by the troopers indicated that the alleged imposter did not wear a uniform nor use a badge, however.

$10,000 in Clothing Gone, $70,000 Missed

New York, Dec. 6 (AP)—An automobile stolen Friday night was found today, with an estimated $10,000 in clothing missing from the back seat, but about $70,000 in valuables in the trunk apparently untouched.

Luggage was missing from the rear seat, but the trunk still was locked when the car was found. Police called the owner, Mrs. Eva Oelsner, of Centre Island, near Oyster Bay. She unlocked the trunk and found the contents apparently were as she left them. She said the valuables in the trunk included jewelry.

Three garment bags and one suitcase had been taken from the rear seat. Their contents included a white mink evening wrap, a silver fox evening cape, evening gowns, dresses, suits and shoes.

action on the two American civilian employes of the army whose sentences were announced along with the 11 airmen. The civilians, John Downey of New Britain, Conn., and Richard Fecteau, of Lynn, Mass., were captured when their plane was shot down in November, 1952, but were not listed in the first American call for UN action.

The further memorandum presented here Saturday by U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. said prompt and decisive action was needed "to bring about the release of these 11 officers and men (the Air Force group) and all other captured personnel of the UN command still detained." U. S. sources said all the Korean allies approved the language of the Lodge memorandum.

Last Aug. 17 the UN command at Panmunjom demanded an accounting for 2,840 missing allied soldiers, including 526 Americans, 50 from other allied forces and 2,264 South Koreans.

In a television interview last night Sen. Barrett (R.-Wyo.) said the United States and other UN members ought to get together and ask the Soviet Union to intercede to get the imprisoned Americans freed instead of talking to the Chinese Communists.

Soviet organs already have endorsed Red China's sentencing of the Americans. New Times, the Soviet foreign affairs weekly, in Moscow yesterday said the 13 men had "confessed they engaged in syping and diversionist activity against China," charges the United States has branded as trumped-up.

New Times also derided the call by Sens. Knowland (R.-Calif.) and Young (R.-N. D.) for a blockade of China, asserting "the time is past when it is possible to speak with China in the language of threats and when the Imperialists could commit crimes without fear of punishment."

big business and should be treated as other industries."

The senator said the bill he planned to introduce would transfer jurisdiction over the state athletic and racing commissions to the commerce department, which, under the measure, also would get the jobs of issuing corporation charters and licensing business enterprises.

The bill would transfer the department's record-keeping and publishing tasks and the great seal of the state to the executive department; turn over the job of storing and filing state laws to the legislative reference library of the education department and switch the licensing of hair dressers and barbers to the health department.

Desmond said the measure was one of a series he would propose with a view toward streamlining the state government.

Reuther Says GOP Had Law Legacy

Los Angeles, Dec. 6 (AP)—CIO President Walter Reuther said today a "legacy" of New Deal and Fair Deal legislation inherited by President Eisenhower's administration has helped save the nation from "a full-blown depression."

Reuther said in a report prepared for opening sessions of the CIO's annual convention that the economic future looks none too bright unless there is a big increase in consumer buying power through higher wages and increased government spending.

"It is better," he said, "to have an unbalanced budget than to have an unbalanced economy in which a few are prosperous and the many are in need."

Accusing the Eisenhower administration of "a do-nothing, care-nothing unemployment policy," the CIO chief maintained that union collective bargaining and social measures enacted under prior Democratic administrations have prevented economic collapse.

Zero Predicted

while Watertown and Rome had 1 below.

Temperatures in many sections of the state were the lowest of the season.

"A good brisk wind out of the north has been driving this cold weather inside the buildings—making people really feel the chill," the weather bureau said.

THERE WERE SOME snow flurries all through the counties between Lake Ontario southward to the Pennsylvania state line, the bureau added, and a few snow squalls along the south shore of Lake Ontario.

In New York city, the mercury dipped to 20 degrees, and lower was predicted.

Other low overnight readings reported today by the weather bureau:

Utica, 4; Massena, 5; Binghamton and Albany, 7; Syracuse, 6; Plattsburgh and Glens Falls, 8; Elmira, 11; Buffalo, 14; Poughkeepsie and Newburgh, 15, and Rochester 17.

Paris Editor Blamed For Security Leaks

Paris, Dec. 6 (AP)—Gilles Martinet, editor-in-chief of the left-wing weekly France Observateur, was charged today with endangering the security of the state. The accuser was the military magistrate investigating France's defense leaks scandal.

France Observateur, regarded by many as pro-Communist, last May published comments on two secret meetings of the French National Defense Council. In searching the weekly offices police last week found a letter containing valuable information on the movement of troops to Indochina.

The author of the letter, Louis Bernet, a teacher, and his son Guy, who had collected the data, were arrested. Five others have been arrested since the investigation of the leaks started 11 weeks ago. Among them are two high civil servants, Rene Turpin and Roger Labrusse, and a Communist newspaperman, Andre Baranes.

New Car Sales Will Pass 5-Million Mark

Detroit, Dec. 6 (AP)—New passenger car sales for 1954 may approximate 5¼ million units, automotive news said today.

The trade paper said retail deliveries will pass the five million mark this week.

"The five millionth sale will come only days behind assembly of the year's five millionth car," the paper said. "The small lead time is explained by the fact new car stocks have been slashed drastically during the year.

"While production figures include 1954 and 1955 models, sales figures include a large number of 1953 models which were sold in the early months of this year. (New car stocks numbered 464,725 units on Jan. 1, 1954. On Nov. 1 they totaled 165,843.)

"Latest field reports show the rate of sales is holding up well. Except in certain areas where local economic conditions are unfavorable, the new 1955 models are moving at a good clip."

Christmas Sales

the home," he said. He listed bedroom furniture, "lots of chairs," etc.

HE DESCRIBED SALES to date as "very very good. We are well out in front." November sales were substantially higher than last year and December has been going "very well."

"One thousand per cent!" said Walter Elston, Sr., of Elston Sport Shop, 260 Fair street. He described business as "pretty much normal," with perhaps "a slight increase over last year."

"We are going ahead of last year"—Oscar London, London's Youth Centre and Junior Bazaar, 33 North Front street. "Spending has been good, people pleasant and nice." He said he hopes the present trend continues.

CHRISTMAS SALES "will compare favorably with our better years," according to John Ross, manager of the W. T. Grant Company, 307 Wall street. Selling has been, in general, "good" with a particularly good weekend last Friday and Saturday.

George Schneider of Schneider's Jewelers, 290 Wall street, reported sales "very good. I think we're ahead of last year. Everything seems to be very good."

"Sales have been pretty terrific," according to Charles Fabiano, manager of Union-Fern, Inc., 328 Wall street. He said the month of October had been good, partly as the result of a huge sale. Sales during the past weekend were described as "very good."

Stewart Randall, manager of Safford and Scudder, Inc., Jewelers, 310 Wall street: "Very good. In general, it seemed to start a little earlier. Right now I think we are well ahead."

GEORGE SVIRSKY, manager of United Cut Rate Pharmacy, 324 Wall street, pointed out that Christmas buying usually began a little later in drug store items but that so far it was "not too bad. About the same as last year." He explained that there was a "lot of traffic" but that sales were "not spectacular."

Joseph Kramer of Up-to-Date Co., 330 Wall street, listed sales as "fair" and "satisfactory" but said there was "nothing spectacular."

Robert Herzog of Herzog Supply Co., 9 North Front street, reported a very busy weekend. This was particularly true of smaller gift items in the basement. Items such as heating and plumbing supplies and hardware are less sensitive to the Christmas season.

more than once that the 36-day public probe of his row with top army officials was preventing him from digging Communists out of defense plants.

He said his subcommittee had a list of 130 to 133 Reds "poised at the jugular vein" of the nation. Democrats on the investigating unit urged him to give the names to the Defense Department or to the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee headed by Sen. Jenner (R.-Ind.), but nothing ever came of this.

Juliana said one witness expected to be called at the new hearings is Herman E. Thomas of Allentown, Pa., a former FBI undercover agent in the Communist party.

THOMAS TESTIFIED on Oct. 13 before the internal security subcommittee, which also has conducted a hunt for Reds in defense plants. He named 230 persons, mostly in Pennsylvania, whom he said he had known as Communists.

In a weekend development, Justice Department lawyers were reported to have decided it would be impractical, if not impossible, to get any perjury indictments as a result of clashing testimony at the televised McCarthy-Army hearings.

While no official announcement was made, officials said they were convinced after studying the bulky transcript that, if false statements were made, the evidence to support a prosecution isn't available.

Sen. Mundt (R.-S.D.), who presided over the hearings, said he agreed "it would be futile to try to build a case which would stand up in court."

Pope Will Give

broadcast, the voice of Catholicism's stricken leader faded slightly, but mostly he spoke firmly and in cadence. He preceded his customary benediction with this brief message:

"To our dear children of beloved Rome, whom we feel as close to us in prayer as we are close to the Divine Master in our suffering and in our fulfillment of His ever-good and benign will, we impart, with our heart turned to the Lord and the Immaculate Virgin, our paternal apostolic benediction."

When he finished, a great cheer rang through the basilica. The crowd had gathered there for the veneration ceremony held for the Italian Benedictine monk, Placido Riccardi, who died in 1915 and who was beatified earlier yesterday.

It was the first such ceremony that the Pope had been unable to attend in the nearly 16 years of his pontificate.

Prayers for the Pope's recovery were said in churches around the world yesterday—those of other faiths as well as the Roman Catholic. Members of the embassies and legations of more than 40 nations accredited to the Vatican attended a special Mass to pray for the Pontiff in Rome's Basilica of St. Mary Major.

Stevenson Has

Stevenson will be available when the time comes and is the "logical choice," Gov.-elect Averell Harriman of New York reaffirmed in a separate interview that he is supporting Stevenson for the nomination.

Butler, elected by 70 of the committee's 105 votes to succeed Stephen A. Mitchell as national chairman, said the Democrats plan no personal attacks on Eisenhower.

He said he wants his party members to maintain at all times "respect for the high office of president and for the integrity and sincerity of the man in the White House."

"But that does not mean," he said, "that we should refrain from pointed criticism of either actions, or lack of action, that we do not consider in the best interests of the country."

Similarly Rep. Sam Rayburn of Texas, incoming speaker of the House, said the Democrats "do not intend to follow the mean and gruesome example set by the Republicans and some so-called Democrats of hating a president just because he belongs to another party."

Home Damaged On Golf Terrace

The house of Harold and Mary Dohnken, 8 Golf Terrace, just beyond the city line, was damaged by a fire early Sunday.

Wicks Engine Co., and the Hurley fire department responded to a call at 12:26 a. m., and firemen said that the Dohnkens, who had been away from the house from 8 p. m. until shortly after midnight, opened the door on a smoke-filled house when they returned.

THE FIRE STARTED in a sofa chair in the living room, damaging the chair, part of the floor, curtains and venetian blinds, firemen said.

A booster line from Engine 4, Wicks, was used on the blaze.

A report of smoke in the house of Mrs. Mary A. Lynch, 24 O'Neil street, at 7:35 p. m. Saturday, caused a fire scare. Men and equipment from Central station and Wicks Engine Company responded, but reported no fire.

Evidence Is Claimed

Tokyo, Dec. 6 (AP)—Peiping Radio said an exhibition was held in Peiping today of materials and evidence proving espionage by 11 U. S. fliers and other UN prisoners. The broadcast said 15,000 pieces of evidence including papers, weapons, maps and communication equipment were shown to the public in Peiping's Public Security Hall. The United States has demanded prompt and decisive action by the United Nations toward freeing the 11 airmen and 2 civilians imprisoned by the Red Chinese on spy charges the United States says are false.

No Comment Made

Washington, Dec. 6 (AP)—The White House today declined comment on an assertion by the new chairman of the Democratic national committee that President Eisenhower has shown a lack of capacity to lead the administration and the Republican party. Paul M. Butler, the newly elected Democratic chairman, made the statement yesterday in New Orleans. Butler also said it has become "more and more apparent that a military background is not a full and complete preparation for a chief executive."

Stromboli Erupts

Stromboli, Italy, Dec. 6 (AP)—The volcano which towers over the shores of this Mediterranean island erupted today and sent a stream of lava down its slopes. The village of 800 population at one edge of the tiny island was not threatened and there was no panic. The 3,040-foot cone erupted last February but caused little damage. Five serious eruptions have occurred in the last 61 years.

Mead Is Sought For Questioning

Hollywood, Fla., Dec. 6 (AP)—Gilbert Mead — the "phantom burglar" of Stamford, Conn.—was being sought by police today for questioning in the death of Mead's wife and Dominick Albanizio yesterday.

Mrs. Evelyn Mead and Albanizio were killed by an intruder in the house they occupied here. He had been beaten to death and she was shot twice in the head. Their bodies, clad in night clothes, were found sprawled on the floor.

Mrs. Mead's 16-year-old son by a former marriage, Richard Dimon, was in the house early Sunday when the killings took place.

Officers said he told three different versions of the events and was being held in "protective custody."

The boy first reported the slaying to neighbors when he rushed next door and sobbed that a man had broken into the house and killed both his mother and Albanizio.

The emu, an Australian flightless bird, averages about five feet in height.

Home Damaged On Golf Terrace

The house of Harold and Mary Dohnken, 8 Golf Terrace, just beyond the city line, was damaged by a fire early Sunday.

Wicks Engine Co., and the Hurley fire department responded to a call at 12:26 a. m., and firemen said that the Dohnkens, who had been away from the house from 8 p. m. until shortly after midnight, opened the door on a smoke-filled house when they returned.

THE FIRE STARTED in a sofa chair in the living room, damaging the chair, part of the floor, curtains and venetian blinds, firemen said.

A booster line from Engine 4, Wicks, was used on the blaze.

A report of smoke in the house of Mrs. Mary A. Lynch, 24 O'Neil street, at 7:35 p. m. Saturday, caused a fire scare. Men and equipment from Central station and Wicks Engine Company responded, but reported no fire.

Evidence Is Claimed

Tokyo, Dec. 6 (AP)—Peiping Radio said an exhibition was held in Peiping today of materials and evidence proving espionage by 11 U. S. fliers and other UN prisoners. The broadcast said 15,000 pieces of evidence including papers, weapons, maps and communication equipment were shown to the public in Peiping's Public Security Hall. The United States has demanded prompt and decisive action by the United Nations toward freeing the 11 airmen and 2 civilians imprisoned by the Red Chinese on spy charges the United States says are false.

No Comment Made

Washington, Dec. 6 (AP)—The White House today declined comment on an assertion by the new chairman of the Democratic national committee that President Eisenhower has shown a lack of capacity to lead the administration and the Republican party. Paul M. Butler, the newly elected Democratic chairman, made the statement yesterday in New Orleans. Butler also said it has become "more and more apparent that a military background is not a full and complete preparation for a chief executive."

Stromboli Erupts

Stromboli, Italy, Dec. 6 (AP)—The volcano which towers over the shores of this Mediterranean island erupted today and sent a stream of lava down its slopes. The village of 800 population at one edge of the tiny island was not threatened and there was no panic. The 3,040-foot cone erupted last February but caused little damage. Five serious eruptions have occurred in the last 61 years.

If you need money to buy the fuel to keep the home fires burning, invest in an economical want ad in the Freeman.

Mead Is Sought For Questioning

Hollywood, Fla., Dec. 6 (AP)—Gilbert Mead — the "phantom burglar" of Stamford, Conn.—was being sought by police today for questioning in the death of Mead's wife and Dominick Albanizio yesterday.

Mrs. Evelyn Mead and Albanizio were killed by an intruder in the house they occupied here. He had been beaten to death and she was shot twice in the head. Their bodies, clad in night clothes, were found sprawled on the floor.

Mrs. Mead's 16-year-old son by a former marriage, Richard Dimon, was in the house early Sunday when the killings took place.

Officers said he told three different versions of the events and was being held in "protective custody."

The boy first reported the slaying to neighbors when he rushed next door and sobbed that a man had broken into the house and killed both his mother and Albanizio.

The emu, an Australian flightless bird, averages about five feet in height.
